INCOME TAX TO RISE IN MARCH, HOOVER WARNS

Cites 180 Million Budget Deficit.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Expressing regret that he can not recommend a continuation of this year's reduced income tax rates, President Hoover today in his annual budget message warned congress against any expansion of governmental expenditures other than required under the proposed unemployment and drought relief program.

"The congress granted a substantial reduction in tax rates upon incomes of the calendar year 1929," said the President. "I wish it were possible to continue this reduction for the taxes upon income of the calendar year 1930. I regret that the present outlook for heavy decrease in probable income and the necessity to increase public works and aid to employment does not warrant the continuation of the reduction at the present time."

Deficit in Prospect.

Mr. Hoover pointed out that a deficit of 180 million dollars is in prospect for the present fiscal year after making use of 185 millions of foreign debt interest payments, but without including any of the proposed deficiency appropriations for unemployment and drought relief, and that the 1932 fiscal year budget barely balances with a prospective surplus of $30,000,000. He added that "it will tax our every resource to expand in directions providing employment during the next few months upon already authorized projects."

"This is not a time," he said, "when we can afford to embark upon any new or enlarged ventures of government."

The budget accompanying the President's message provides for total expenditures of $4,054,519,200 for the fiscal year 1932, exclusive of postal expenditures paid from postal revenues, as compared with estimated expenditures of $4,014,941,900 in the fiscal year 1931 and actual expenditures of $3,994,152,487 in the fiscal year 1930.

Small Surplus Estimated.

Receipts are estimated at $4,085,119,927 in the fiscal year 1932, as compared with estimated receipts of $4,184,585,343 in the fiscal year 1931 and actual receipts of $4,177,941,701 in the fiscal year 1930.

It is on the basis of these figures that a surplus of $30,600,727 is forecast for the fiscal year 1932, and a deficit of $180,076,657 for the fiscal year 1931. In the fiscal year 1930 the surplus was $183,789,214.

The President's budget message was read in the house by the reading clerk and referred to the committee on appropriations. In the senate it was referred to the appropriations committee without being read.

The receipt of the budget message was followed by the reporting from the house committee on appropriations, which has had advance sheets of the budget for some time, of the first of the annual supply bills, including funds for the treasury and postoffice departments for the fiscal year 1931.

Hope for Passage Friday.

Debate was commenced on this bill, which carries a total of $1,083,553,943, a decrease of $56,906,095 from appropriations for the fiscal year 1931 and a decrease of $20,725,410 from the budget recommendations. The leaders hope to have the bill passed in the house by Friday.

While President Hoover in his budget message expressed no opinion as to the prospects of a restoration of this year's reduced income taxes rates at some future time, he inaugurated a new policy of budget making with respect to the use of foreign debt interest payments which may facilitate a return of the lower rates.

For the first time since the adoption of the budget system the estimate of surplus or deficit takes into account the use for current expenditures of the foreign debt interest payments, which in the current fiscal year amount to about $185,000,000.

Once having made up budget estimates on this basis it is expected that the administration will be compelled to do so in the future, and that it will be unable to withstand congressional pressure for the limiting of debt retirements to the requirements of the sinking fund and other statutory requirements, which provide for a cut of $40,000,000 in the funded debt in the present fiscal year and $468,000,000 in the fiscal year 1932. Debt retirements for the last several years have

THEY DISCUSS THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Tribune. McCUTCHEON

"What did you think of the President's message?"

"Gosh, not exactly cheerful, was it?"

"Not exactly, but that's why it will do some good. It was a plain, unvarnished statement of conditions which we all know exist. There was no bunk about it. He didn't try to gloss over conditions with a lot of misleading optimism. At the same time, it had some very encouraging features."

"For instance?"

"Well, take bank deposits. They're higher now than they were in '28, which was our biggest year."

"Yeah, tell that to a guy who is broke and out of a job and see what he can get on it at the bank."

"Just the same, it shows the country isn't broke. A man out of a job would be a darn sight worse off if there wasn't a big reserve of money ready to jump in the minute the tide turns. That's the most encouraging feature about the whole situation."

"Well, mebbe. But what good is all that money doing if it keeps hiding in the banks?"

"There you get down to human nature. When people are uncertain they want to hold on to their money until they see signs that times are improving. Then the money will begin to come out, timidly at first and then in a constantly growing volume. When that time comes, old Mr. Depression will be over."

"All right, but excuse me if I keep my savings salted away for a little while longer."

"A lot of people feel that way, and I can't say I blame 'em. At the same time, there's one thing to remember when you are feeling blue."

"What's that—my money in the bank?"

"No, as long as you're not spending it it isn't doing you much good except for its moral effect. What I mean is this: I'll bet there isn't a person in the United States who does not expect this depression to peter out. Not today nor tomorrow, maybe, but eventually as sure as the sun shines. Take yourself, for example. Do you think this depression is here to stay and that we'll never have better times again?"

"Of course not! This is abnormal, and abnormal conditions don't last forever. The big question is, when will times improve?"

"Well, that's something nobody knows for certain, but I think I know. That they will improve is a certainty. This country isn't broke by a long shot. It's tremendously rich and it isn't going to hide in a cellar indefinitely. I don't look for a sudden burst back into boom times—in fact, I don't think it would be a good thing if they did—but I certainly look for a steady and gradual improvement as soon as people get over their scare. Most depressions in this country don't last long, and this one is well into its second year. I look for a gradual improvement from now on, with a definite turn for the better after the first of the year."

"Why then?"

"Well, you see I am a little superstitious. This year—1930—adds up to make 13, and it's been an unlucky year for everybody but the Democratic candidates. You will remember that 1921 was another of those '13' years and the depression then lasted only 14 months. On January first we will be rid of the 13 jinx and the psychological effect will be good. All we need is a cheerful psychology. A good part of every depression is psychological, and if everybody thinks conditions will improve they will improve immediately."

"But people aren't superstitious any more! That's pure rot!"

"I don't suppose you are superstitious?"

"Absolutely not—not as long as I'm in my sane mind and have my health." [Touches wood.]

Huge Oil Fire Casts Light on All New York

New York, Dec. 4, 2 a. m.—[Special.]—A steel tank containing 10,000 gallons of crude oil exploded late last night from an unknown cause in the plant of the Standard Oil Company of New York on the East river between North 10th and North 14th streets, Brooklyn. It set fire to seven other similar tanks containing crude oil and eight containing turpentine and started one of the most spectacular fires New York has seen in many months.

It is estimated that 160,000 gallons of oil and turpentine were burning at one time.

Great Crowds Gather.

The flaming tanks sent up great billows of smoke and flame that were visible for miles around. More than 100,000 persons along the Brooklyn and Manhattan sides of the river watched the blaze, while thousands more thronged the railings of the Brooklyn, Manhattan, Williamsburg, and Queensboro bridges for a sight of it.

Every available police reserve in Brooklyn was used to control the crowds.

The fire threatened 25 more vats, each holding 10,000 gallons of crude oil.

Fifty fire engines and seven fire boats were rushed to the plant from Brooklyn and Manhattan. Most of their efforts were directed to preventing the fire from reaching the nearby plant of the Brooklyn Union Gas company. The terrific heat preventing firemen from approaching near enough to fight the original fire.

Flaming oil poured into the East river. The oil tanker Vermont, the fireboat New York, and several coal barges caught fire but were extinguished.

Firemen played streams on a huge warehouse while others removed 5,000 cases of naphtha and 5,000 drums of pale oil stored there.

Explosion Rocks Houses.

The first explosion rattled windows and rocked neighboring dwellings. Then a great column of flame was seen to rise high above the area. As it rose it scattered like a titanic rocket and showered the Standard Oil property with tongues of liquid flame.

The flames followed underground pipes to the East river waterfront and ignited the turpentine tanks.

The fire was between 10th and 12th streets on the East river. It lighted the river for miles and showed a vivid color against the high buildings on Manhattan.

Oak Park Residents Ask for Sunday Miniature Golf

THREATENS GIRLS FOR $10,000; GETS 1 TO 20 YEAR TERM

Jacob Kier, 41 years old, 1129 East 55th street, who attempted to extort $10,000 from his friend, Attorney Raymond Kelner, by threats of death against the attorney and his two daughters, was sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary yesterday by Judge Joseph B. David of the Criminal court.

"I wish I could send you to death," said Judge David. "You are as bad as a wanton murderer. I believe the crime of extortion by threats should be made punishable by death and I am going to suggest that the legislature make this change."

Assistant State's Attorney C. Wayland Brooks prosecuted Kier. Kelner's daughters are Gloria, 5 years old, and Marcia, 3 years old.

DRUGGAN TO FACE COURT MONDAY, HIS LAWYER SAYS

The police will have an opportunity on Monday to serve a vagrancy warrant issued by Judge John H. Lyle for Terry Druggan, the beer baron who has eluded them for months while recovering from seven ailments in hospitals, hotels and apartment hideouts.

William F. Waugh, Druggan's attorney, informed the United States attorney's office yesterday that this client would appear for trial before Federal Judge Wilkerson on Monday on charges of evading income taxes. First Assistant United States Attorney Cassius Poust announced that he would request a continuance until Jan. 12, as the income tax trial of State Representative Lawrence C. O'Brien is set for Monday.

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Dr. William E. Barton, for twenty-five years pastor of the First Congregational church of Oak Park, Ill., and the author of more than fifty books on varied themes, was seriously ill in the Long Island College hospital, Brooklyn, tonight of a complication of diseases growing out of a heart attack last August.

Relatives expressed a fear that he might not survive the night.

The clergyman is in his seventieth year, having been born at Sublette, Ill., June 28, 1861. He has been in ill health for some time.

Authority on Lincoln.

While rated as one of the leading clergymen of the country, having attained the eminence of moderator of the National Council of Congregational Churches in the United States, Dr. Barton is perhaps best known from his various works on the life of Abraham Lincoln.

He was long recognized as an authority on the Great Emancipator and was the sponsor of more than one hitherto "untold story" regarding the doings of the civil war President. His "Life of Abraham Lincoln" and "The Paternity of Lincoln" are among his better known works.

Many of his writings dealt with religious subjects. His manuals for services and sacraments in church are in general use among Congregational churches.

Parents Early Settlers.

Dr. Barton's parents were among the early settlers of the Sublette region of Illinois. He was educated at Berea college, Kentucky, and Oberlin Theological school. Prior to a call to the pulpit of the Oak Park church he had filled pastorates in Tennessee, Ohio, and Boston. Following his retirement from the Oak Park pastorate he made a tour around the world.

SUBURBAN LINES GIVE EVIDENCE OF RISING TRADE

Railways Show Gain in Shopper Traffic.

Passenger traffic increases are being noted daily on the suburban services of the major railroads in the city, passenger agents reported yesterday. This is the trend already charted by the increased demands on the street car, elevated, and bus lines to care for the Christmas shoppers.

The reports from the railroads give added strength to the conclusion that preholiday buying has got away to an early start and that Christmas shopping will be heavy, both in the loop and in the neighborhood shopping centers.

Find Sales Are Mounting.

From every section of the city—north, south, west, northwest, and from Evanston—business men gave predictions, based upon observations, that since Thanksgiving Christmas savings check expenditures and a spurt of normal buying have shown in mounting sales stickets which approach the height of last season.

The figures on passenger travel for the city and suburbs, known as an unfailing indicator of the state of business, have stopped their downward trend and are assuming normal proportions, with every indication of climbing continuously until Christmas.

I. C. Figures Show Increase.

The increases on the electrified suburban lines of the Illinois Central railroad are shown by the statistics of Abner Bernard, superintendent of passenger service.

Taking the figures showing the number of passengers carried on the suburban lines during average days in October and November, Mr. Bernard was able to illustrate the increase immediately. The figures:

Day—	Passengers.
Last Friday in October	118,928
Last Friday in November	139,721
Last Saturday in October	125,170
Last Saturday in November	128,899

The average number of passengers carried on a week day by the Illinois Central suburban service has been increasing steadily since September. The September average was 116,209; in October it reached 119,284, while the November figure, based on incomplete compilations, was in excess of 121,000.

"The material increase we have noted lately will continue to rise," Mr. Bernard predicted. "Christmas shoppers are filling the trains every day. It may be necessary to add more cars."

The Chicago and North Western railway, which has carried about 60,000 passengers daily to and from the suburbs in recent weeks, has noted an increase of about 5 per cent, said Charles A. Cairns, passenger traffic agent.

"We have been forced to add extra cars on our trains every day to meet this perceptible increase," said Mr. Cairns. "For two weeks it has been apparent and I don't think it can be ascribed alone to cold weather. Shoppers are making their Christmas purchases and if they continue to come as they are now, we will have to add extra cars to the extras we already provide."

Rock Island Reports Gain.

L. M. Allen, vice president of the Rock Island lines, reported a 10 per cent increase in suburban business in the last fourteen days, and is completing a tabulation of figures which he believes will prove his estimate.

"We see the effects of Christmas shopping on our evening trains," said Mr. Allen. "In the mornings the women buyers stream into the sta-

Trip Home of Lipton Yacht Fight for Life

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Shamrock V., Sir Thomas Lipton's defeated America's cup challenger, almost went down in the Atlantic on her trip back to England.

The boat was torn by seas until her bow was wrenched open, her deck was shredded to a sieve, her hatches were ripped until bucketsful of water poured into her and ten men, all there were aboard her, ill and weakening after subsisting on water soaked food, took her into Southampton after nothing less than a super human struggle for seventeen windblown days and as many wild nights.

Even the lights in hurricane lanterns, swung in the hold where the bruised and battered men slept in oilskins in an endeavor to keep dry, were put out, not by the wind but by the sheer drop of the yacht down from the crests into the troughs of the seas.

Drive Through to Port.

Finally, all suffering from the fumes of oil spilled from the lanterns below and unable to digest what food was left, they decided it was better to drown than to starve and to drive on no matter what came. That drive, in a tail of the lashed out wind, carried them into port.

Sir Thomas said tonight at the Hotel Biltmore that he had not been told of what Shamrock went through. He had been informed she met with some heavy weather, but assumed that her good time on the crossing was indicative of a good trip.

It was not until today, when Capt. Irving Johnson, her mate, arrived back on the liner Olympic, that the facts were learned.

He told the happenings from notes he had taken, as if he were making up a log, and he showed photographs he had snapped during moments when he was able to hold a small camera.

Only Ten on Trip Back.

Summing up the experience, he said: "Seven times we scudded straight through hell and out again."

Capt. Johnson disclosed that only ten men made the passage back to England on Shamrock, whereas it was thought that twenty did. Not one of the crew that came over here with her would return on her. The only man that had a part in bringing her here who went back on her was Capt. William Paul, her navigator on her first trip. Capt. Ted Heard and his cup racing crew had returned home by steamship.

Capt. Paul had no mate. Capt. Johnson, whose home is in Hadley, Mass., was at Bristol with Newcomb Carlton's schooner yacht Khajmuon, laying her up for the winter, and he signed as mate. Not counting the cook, he had only seven seamen.

Trouble and Storm Brewing.

Just before nightfall the first day out the tie stay between the masts carried away. The jib was taken in hurriedly to ease the main mast and a mizzen backstay was rigged forward to hold the after spar.

The barometer was going down and plenty of sea room was wanted.

"When the blow came out of that falling barometer the deck opened up," Capt. Johnson said. "A sea poured down into the storeroom aft. When the food was hauled out salt was sugar and tea was coffee."

"The next morning," he went on, "we were in the gulf stream, with the gale northeast against a southwest current. Whitey Peterson was at the wheel with his 220 pounds. A weather cloth had been stretched in the mizzen rigging to keep the seas off him, but they broke through it as if it had been made of paper instead of heavy canvas.

Binnacle Torn Away.

"Then one great sea broke over the quarter, tore the binnacle out by the roots, bolts through the deck and all, and swept it overboard with the compass. Another sea came aboard and Peterson, who is 6 feet 3 inches tall, was lifted upside down so that he

Returning Confidence Noted In Recent Buying Activity

The reports from the shopping areas these days are of a very encouraging nature. The stores, it seems, are doing increased business. Traffic, as reported by the various transportation agencies, is showing signs of new life. Can these factors be taken to mean that many people have resumed normal buying?

"It's Christmas that is doing it," somebody will rise to point out. This is all very true. But buying for Christmas needs is a part of normal buying. It is a branch of normal buying, however, that could easily be sidestepped by those whose shaken confidence discourages any commitments except for immediate necessities.

Confidence, if the signs are read correctly, has not been undermined so much as some people may have been led to believe, or else it is staging a strong come-back. Much improvement in business still must come, of course. It will come if the pre-Christmas attitude continues to prevail after the holidays.

There is no reason why it shouldn't. The depression has about run its normal course. The next move will be in an upward direction. To hasten it, the thing to do for everybody who can is to buy normally for normal needs.

16 WARRANTS DISCOVERED IN HANDS OF POLICE

Recovery Is Veiled in Secrecy.

The vagrancy warrants for sixteen well known police characters, which have been missing since they were issued by Judge John H. Lyle on Oct. 20, have turned up in the hands of Chief of Detectives John Norton, it was disclosed yesterday in a recently issued order.

The disappearance of the warrants, which supplemented those issued by Judge Lyle for the twenty-six public enemies listed by the crime commission, has been a subject of controversy between the judge and the police.

Sent by Special Delivery.

Chief Norton did not use the regular police channels of communication to notify the forty-one captains commanding police districts that he now has the warrants in his possession. He sent out his order, dated Nov. 29, by a special delivery letter to each captain so that there would be no chance for a leak in the department.

The batch of warrants was given by Judge Lyle to an assistant corporation counsel several weeks ago with orders that they be personally delivered to Acting Police Commissioner Alcock. The police have denied at various times ever receiving the warrants, according to charges made by Judge Lyle.

Norton's Order Quoted.

Norton gave no intimation in his letter to the captains as to how the missing warrants came into his possession or when he received them. His order was as follows:

"I hold vagrancy warrants for the following men. Do your utmost in apprehending these men."

The order then lists the names of the men wanted by the police. Barney Bertsche, who in the old days, was considered the kingpin in the criminal element, heads the list. Bertsche is still said to have influence in gangland.

Capone Lieutenants in List.

Ted Newberry, north side Capone chieftain; Dennis Cooney, south side vice lord; Sam Guzik, one of the three brothers who operate the beer privileges for Capone; and Julian (Potatoes) Kaufman, north side gangster, are among those named in the list. The others are:

Dutch Vogel	Charles Fischetti
Paddy Sullivan	Jack Heiman
Willie Marks	Ernie Rossi
John Ormondo	Sam Kaplan
Rymie Levine	Mike (Bube) Quinlan
Sam Campagnia

The secret communication of the detective chief also called attention to the fact that he has unserved warrants for the following public enemies:

Rocco Fanelli, Jack McGurn, Joseph Genero, Frank Diamond, Klondike O'Donnell, Tony (Mops) Volpe, Leo Mongoven, Myles O'Donnell, Frank McErlane, and Vincent McErlane.

New Trial for Brancato.

Judge Lyle was occupied yesterday by a tilt with Attorney Frank McDonnell, representing Dominick Brancato, whom the judge sentenced to six months in the Bridewell for vagrancy two weeks ago. After Judge Lyle had held a private session in his chambers last evening with Attorney McDonnell and attaches of the state's attorney's office, McDonnell announced that Brancato would receive a new trial today.

The report of the new trial for Brancato was certified by others at the conference. The secret session ended with the judge remitting a $100 fine for contempt which he had placed against the attorney earlier in the day.

Lyle Refuses Comment.

"I never say today what I am going to do tomorrow," said Judge Lyle when asked about the secret conference and whether Attorney McDonnell had correctly described what occurred.

"You have McDonnell's statement, not mine. You can see what I am going to do by being in court tomorrow."

As Attorney McDonnell was leaving the courtroom following the session in chambers, Judge Lyle said to him: "We will take care of that matter at any time you come in tomorrow. Suit your convenience."

Brancato Case Recalled.

Brancato was arrested last September in front of the downtown office of Chief Investigator Pat Roche of the state's attorney's office. It was announced at that time that Brancato and a companion, Dominick Bells, were suspected of a plot to harm Roche and Special Assistant State's Attorneys Charles Rathbun and James McShane. They were armed when arrested.

When Brancato appeared before

Judge Lyle on the vagrancy charge he received a quick trial that ended with the maximum vagrancy sentence of six months in the Bridewell. Before that Judge Lyle had sentenced him for contempt, but rescinded this sentence when the more severe vagrancy penalty was imposed.

A writ of habeas corpus was taken out for Brancato, charging falsification of the Felony court records to show that Brancato waived his rights. Three Criminal court judges sat en banc in the hearing on this writ, but decided that the charge was too serious and that the case should be presented to the state Supreme court by way of writ of mandamus against the Felony court to make the record speak the truth.

McDonnell Enters the Case.

Attorney McDonnell entered the Brancato case yesterday for the first time. He appeared to make some motions in Judge Lyle's court to prepare for his appeal. Among his papers he had attached a transcript of the record of the speedy court hearing at which Brancato was sentenced. It had previously been rumored that the stenographer's notes had been destroyed, but Attorney McDonnell said he resurrected them.

Judge Lyle said Attorney McDonnell was not making his motions at the proper court hour. The attorney persisted. The judge fined him $100 for contempt and the attorney refused to pay. He insisted on being taken into custody.

Attorney McDonnell's brother, Simon McDonnell, also a lawyer, went to Judge Harry Fisher's court with a writ of habeas corpus. He returned soon with a private message for Judge Lyle. Soon afterward the bailiff told McDonnell to walk out of the back room where he was held in custody.

Lawyer Confers with Judge.

Attorney McDonnell returned to the courtroom at 4:30 o'clock to renew his motions. He was invited into Judge Lyle's chambers.

"The judge said he would grant a new trial," McDonnell said after emerging from the secret conference. "He said that since Brancato is a minor hoodlum he would grant him a new trial, sooner than be bothered with appeals. The judge said if it was somebody like Sammons he would fight the case to the finish. I told him that I was employed to fight the case and that I would go to the Supreme court if he denied my motions."

WIDOW, 61, RAPS DRY LAW AS SHE GETS 30 DAYS

Mrs. Cornelia Hurn, 61 year old widow of 2224 West Marquette road, was unruffled by a sentence of 30 days imposed upon her by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley yesterday for violation of the liquor laws.

"Not all the murderers are hanged and not all the thieves are in jail, but many an innocent person is made to suffer under the prohibition laws," said Mrs. Hurn as she chatted with a Negro woman in a cell at the marshal's office.

"I don't care, though, thirty days is not long; but it will be a merry Christmas for me."

The woman was charged with maintaining a nuisance in the garage at the rear of her home, which she rented and operated as a rooming house.

'ALCOCK MAKES 2D REPORT ON POLICE RECORD

Acting Police Commissioner Alcock yesterday issued the second of a series of reports on the accomplishment of the police department since he was made its commander. In the new report he said that 1,927 robberies had been "cleaned up" between June 17 and Nov. 22. By "cleaned up" the commissioner said he meant the arrest of the men who committed the robberies and the whole or partial recovery of the loot.

TELL GRAND JURY ABOUT JUDGE'S SON ON PAY ROLL

Move to Transfer Canal Case Is Pressed.

First Assistant State's Attorney John Northrup, who is seeking the transfer of the sanitary district scandal case from the court of Judge Charles A. Williams, yesterday took five witnesses before the county grand jury, where they testified that Judge William's son, Willard L., received pay from the district from March, 1928, to December, 1929, without doing any work.

Northrup recently filed a certificate of prejudice against Judge Williams, charging that he was ineligible to hear the case and that because he had sponsored his son for the job, he was not a "disinterested judge." Judge Williams, however, has refused to surrender his jurisdiction over the case.

Northrup said yesterday that he did not intend to ask the jury to indict young Williams but that he merely wanted the testimony of the five persons, four of whom formerly worked in the sanitary district offices where Williams was supposed to be employed, to be used in support of his charges of prejudice against the judge.

Witnesses Before Jury.

The five witnesses called by Prosecutor Northup were Mrs. Lillian Williams, wife of Willard Williams, who, it is charged, frequently called for his pay check; Henry A. Cohen, James Hartford, Alexander Brody, and Miss Elizabeth Brody, the latter four all working employés in the law and docket department at the time Williams was drawing pay from it.

Although Judge Williams is keeping jurisdiction over the sanitary district case against Timothy J. Crowe and others, he announced on Tuesday his return to the civil branch of the court insofar as all other cases are concerned. The sanitary district case is set for Dec. 15.

Judge Williams' action and the disclosure yesterday that Judge George Fred Rush will return to the civil branch Jan. 1 left the Criminal court judiciary faced with desertion of judges which, it is said, may cripple the administration of justice.

Judge E. I. Frankhauser is another judge who was promised relief from Criminal court work, it is said, as soon as new judges were elected to fill vacancies caused by deaths. He, however, has given no indication of desertion of the Criminal court branch until a substitute is sent in his place.

Protest from Crime Board.

The difficulty, it was whispered among the judges, is the result of a protest from the Chicago crime commission through Henry Barrett Chamberlin, operating director. The commission, it is said, does not believe that the community will be best served by sending the unseasoned judges to the Criminal court. Only two of the newly elected judges have had any real Criminal court experience. They are Judges John Prystalski and Walter Stanton, both prosecutors in the Maclay Hoyne régime.

"This court must have the coöperation of all judges assigned to it to function properly," said Chief Justice John P. McGoorty of the Criminal court yesterday in discussing the judicial difficulties.

The Criminal court has been short handed all this term. The court has never had more than 10 judges this term, whereas in the past it has had as high as 13 judges. Most of this term the court has been run with seven or eight judges.

WINE MAKING JUICE INDICTS NINE; GETS OTHERS U. S. FUNDS

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Nine officials of the California Vineyard company now awaiting trial under federal indictment for conspiracy to violate the prohibition law by selling grape wine, today began legal maneuvers for a novel defense.

Four of the nine indicted, all of them Los Angeles residents, filed an amended demand for a bill of particulars from the United States attorney containing an accusation that the government has for years condoned technical infractions of the prohibition law. The defendants' legal papers also set up the defense contention that the government itself has been financing Fruit Industries, Ltd. (which has as its attorney Mabel Walker Willebrandt), which offers a beverage service identical with that they were indicted for.

The government farm board loaned Fruit Industries, Ltd. $4,000,000 through the grape control board, the defendants aver, and infer that the federal money now is engaged in filling the market from which California Vineyards company was forcibly detached.

CAR OF DYNAMITE BLOWS UP THREE BUILDINGS, 36 DIE

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Thirty-six persons were killed and three buildings destroyed when a freight car loaded with dynamite exploded today at the railroad station at Porto Novo da Cunha, state of Minas Geraes.

The car of dynamite had been sidetracked at the station since the revolutionary movement broke out. The cause of the explosion was not determined.

URGE CAMPAIGN TO CONSOLIDATE TAXING AGENCIES

The methods of attaining the consolidation of the taxing agencies in the metropolitan area and the benefits were discussed by university professors and taxation experts last night at a meeting of a subcommittee of the council committee on economy, efficiency and rehabilitation. It was agreed that some tentative program be formed by the summoning of representatives of the taxing bodies with experts to enlist public support to the movement.

Consolidation was held necessary to meet forthcoming governmental financial crises. The advantages were listed as economy, more efficient service and centralization of responsibility. Consolidation of schools, police and health departments was held to be of primary importance, and advaneed as the first step in financial consolidation.

Experts differed as to whether a constitutional convention or a series of constitutional amendments would be of most benefit. Possibility of partial consolidation under present laws was pointed out. All agreed that public education is the most necessary step.

George O. Fairweather, chairman of the advisory commission on real estate valuations, spoke before the Chicago real estate board. He urged reform in the taxing administration and spending administration to advance the welfare of the community.

Stanton Gives Alibi in Zuta Extradition Case

Danny Stanton, Chicago hoodlum, who is fighting extradition to Wisconsin, where he is wanted for the murder of Jack Zuta in a gang attack on a lake resort near Delafield, took the stand yesterday before Judge Philip Finnegan and testified that he was attending a fish fry at his stepfather's home in Chicago when Zuta was killed. The extradition hearing will continue today.

FIRST WOMAN JURY IN STATE HEARS INQUEST

Feminine Leaders Serve "as Civic Duty."

The first jury of women to be impaneled in Illinois served yesterday at a coroner's inquest in Chicago.

The inquest was strictly a feminine matter. The jurors were prominent women and they were headed by Jane Addams, internationally famous welfare worker. The victim over whom the inquest was held was a woman—the 1,451st victim of motor fatalities in Cook county in 1930. Even the undertaker in whose chapel the inquest was held was a woman—Mrs. Delia K. Brooks.

The significance of the occasion, bring in the fact that women at last had come to realize, after a long battle for the privilege, the right to serve as juries in Illinois, overshadowed the actual purpose of the inquest, which was to determine the manner of the death of Mrs. Elsie Wasson, 7058 Eggleston avenue.

Killed as Son Steps on Starter.

Mrs. Wasson was killed in the rear of her home when her son, Edwin, stepped on the starter of Mrs. Wasson's car, which had been inadvertently left in gear. The car jerked forward and Mrs. Wasson, who had been standing in front of it, was crushed to death. The verdict of the jury, read by Miss Addams, found that the occurrence was accidental and the son was absolved.

The women jurors displayed an interest and an avidity for service such as few juries of men have ever manifested, Coroner Bundesen observed after the inquest. The customary duty, he said, is for jurors to sit mute, satisfied merely to listen, whether the testimony is clear to them or not.

But this first jury of women flouted this custom, themselves asking questions of most of the witnesses who testified. The coroner complimented the "juresses" on their unusual intelligence and aptitude in bringing out important points of the case.

Serve as Civic Duty.

Afterwards, when asked what they thought of their experience, most of the women jurors said they had served from a sense of civic duty. They acknowledged their willingness—although none would admit a pressing desire—to serve on criminal juries. But all except one of the six expressed positive scruples against the death penalty, and admitted they would not be qualified to serve on a murder jury in which the death penalty was asked. The sixth was undecided.

Miss Jane Addams, Hull House, chairman.

Miss Genevive Corkell, 7125 Euclid avenue, chairman of the women on juries committee of the Cook County League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Gerhardt Meyne, 1448 Lake Shore drive, chairman of the Woman's Symphony orchestra.

Mrs. Frank Halas, 158 South Hamlin avenue, president of the Illinois Women's Trade Union league.

Mrs. Hessie B. Neufield, 2746 Hampden court, chairman of the department of legislation and civics of the National Council of Jewish Women.

When the six women jurors appeared promptly at 3 o'clock at the undertaking establishment Dr. Bundesen took them into the presence of the body of Mrs. Wasson and swore them in as coroner's jurors. The inquest was then opened, with the coroner imposing rules of order—no smoking and no noise—which seemed a special courtesy to the women jurors, but which the coroner made plain are the regular rules of his office.

Jurors Ask Questions.

The first witness, a son-in-law of Mrs. Wasson, testified as to the statistical facts required by law, and was about to be dismissed when Mrs. Meyne inquired how long Mrs. Wasson's son, who figured in the accident, had lived at home. The witness replied that the son had always lived at home.

"Was there harmony in the relationship of the boy and his mother?" asked Mrs. Langworthy.

"It was just wonderful," the witness replied.

Miss Addams asked another witness if the son had seemed frightened when he was dispatched to call a doctor, and received a reply that young Wasson kept repeating, "O, my poor mother! Please do something for her!"

Question Policeman on Call.

The policeman who investigated the case was called, and said his station had been notified at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, the day of the accident. Miss Corkell, who led the years of struggle to have the legislature adopt the law permitting women to serve on juries, and who campaigned for the law in the recent popular referendum, broke in with a question:

"What time did the accident occur?"

"At 3 o'clock," the policeman said.

"Isn't it unusual for so long a period—three and a half hours—to pass before an accident of this character is reported?"

"Yes, ma'am, it is very unusual."

Coroner Bundesen at this time intervened with a compliment to the jury.

"I might say that it is gratifying," said Dr. Bundesen, "to have a jury so alert as to bring out the material and important facts leading to an intelligent verdict in this case."

The victim's husband, Loren G. Wasson, was then called. He expressed his opinion that the death of his wife was clearly accidental.

Son Called As Witness.

Mrs. Neufield, questioning the father, brought out that the younger Wasson has been ill for a year and a half. The son then was called as a witness, and described the accident. He said he had been unable to stop the car, after accidentally starting it, in time to save his mother. Dr. Bundesen then sent the jury to deliberate, saying:

"I deem it a particular privilege to be permitted to call what appears to be the first body of women jurors impaneled in Illinois."

OTTAWA CALLS 5 WOMEN.

Ottawa, Ill., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Five women, four of whom were mothers and housekeepers, appeared in the Circuit court here today under court summons for jury service. They were the first women ever called for Circuit court jury service in Illinois.

Mrs. W. F. Carr, chairman of the Ottawa Public Health nursing organization, past president of the Ottawa Woman's club and for several years an officer of the Illinois Woman's Suffrage organization was the first called.

Fly Together, but Refuse to Talk of Marriage Plans

"Business Trip"

Cleveland, O., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Miss Amelia Earhart and her fiancé, George Palmer Putnam Jr., landed at Cleveland airport late today after an air trip from Newark, N. J. They were accompanied by Miss Edna V O'Brien of New York, business associate of Miss Earhart, and two pilots. They made a one hour stopover at Bellefonte, Pa., they said.

Both Miss Earhart and Putnam, who have kept newspaper men on the jump since obtaining a marriage license a couple of weeks ago, reiterated previous assertions that "we expect to be married within the next fifty years."

The trip to Cleveland was one of business, they said. Putnam is making a talk here tomorrow and then going to Chicago, while Miss Earhart said she would return to New York.

AUTO EXPENSE OF SCHOOLS' STAFF HIT BY TRUSTEE

An investigation will be started soon into a condition characterized by Mrs. W. S. Hefferan, a member of the school board, as one of "wholesale mismanagement" of the automobile expense accounts allowed to school employés. This was indicated yesterday after a meeting of the finance committee of the board.

A controversy involving Mrs. Hefferan and Joseph P. Savage, a recent Thompson appointee to the board, arose when a recommendation was submitted for the approval of the payment to Paul Gerhardt, school architect, of $450 for expenses on his car for the last five months.

"There are members of the department of administration who are forced to use the street car because they cannot afford to maintain cars," said Mrs. Hefferan. "On the other hand, other employés collect large and often exorbitant amounts for the use of their machines."

"If the man has been promised $90 a month for maintaining his car," said Savage, "there should be no hesitation by this committee in giving its O. K. An investigation of the situation is no excuse for delaying this particular matter."

Mayor Thompson's proposal that school children be dismissed from classes every year on Oct. 9 was tabled by the committee on school administration after Mrs. Hefferan submitted figures showing that $271,878 was the cost of closing the schools for a day.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 3.—Half a dozen dead and one half of the city of Choluba at odds with the other half is the result of a row in which the city council and other high civic officials, aided by numerous citizens, took part this morning. It was all on account of a pretty waitress, Maria Cuevas and an aldermanic junket into the slums.

Ald. Serafin Tlaculio was dancing with the waitress when Macidonio Navarro, the mayor's son, made disparaging remarks about both dancers. Tlaculio rushed at Navarro with a drawn pistol, but Navarro had the drop on him and Tlaculio fell dead with a bullet through his heart.

Other members of the city council rushed into the dance hall from the billiard room and the shooting became general with the crowd automatically dividing into two political bands. Navarro fell, shot through the head. Another member of the city council, who defended him, was also killed. More than a score were wounded, some so seriously that they are not expected to recover. Residents tonight are peeping from behind closed wooden shutters, fearing more gunfire.

4 SHEET METAL OFFICIALS NAMED IN TRUE BILLS

Charges of conspiracy to obtain money by threats of strikes were made yesterday in true bills reported voted by the grand jury against four business managers of the Sheet Metal Employers' union. The charge carries a penalty of five years in the penitentiary.

The men named are James Close, A. H. Cronin, Charles West, and John J. Gillen. Close and Gillen were previously named in conspiracy indictments with other officials of the sheet metal unions. Cronin is a former furnace inspector for the city and is now said to be a part time employé of the school board.

According to the charges of Assistant State's Attorneys Charles Lounsbury and George Lavin, the men forced 67 south side metal worker employers into an organization known as the Cook County Sheet Metal Employers' association. The entrance fee was $50 and dues $10 per month. In addition a tax of 1 per cent of gross value was charged for the use of a "union label." James A. Miedema, who was forced to resign as president so that Cronin could be "muscled in," charges that he has been threatened since he coöperated with the prosecutors.

Seize Company Secretary as Embezzler of $31,000

Joseph Gondek, 45 years old, secretary of the Cortland Building and Road company, 1734 Cortland street, yesterday was arrested, charged with embezzling $31,000 over two years. Walter Bornski, president of the company, made the charges. According to the police, Gondek was preparing to flee from his home at 1523 Erie street when arrested.

SISTER CHARGES MYSTERY IN RICH WOMAN'S DEATH

Court Asked to Impound Body for Inquest.

Chief Justice John P. McGoorty of the Criminal court yesterday refused to dismiss a petition asking that the body of Mrs. Kittie Gunn Jones, 74 years old, 4129 Drexel avenue, be impounded in Rosehill cemetery pending action on a request for an exhumation and inquest. Mrs. Jones died suddenly on Sept. 6 following a hypodermic injection, according to the petition, leaving her estate of approximately $500,000 to her second husband, Charles W. Jones, 47 years old.

The petition was filed in the Criminal court on Nov. 28 by Attorney Edward M. Burke of the law firm of Loesch, Scofield, Loesch & Richards in behalf of Mrs. Louie Estelle Thompson, 70 years old, 1636 North Shore avenue, sister of Mrs. Jones. The action is the first step in an attempt to break Mrs. Jones' will, attorneys said.

McGoorty Allows Hearing.

The husband, through Attorney David Stansbury, presented a motion to dismiss the petition on the ground that the charges in the petition were largely hearsay and not admissible as evidence. Mr. Stansbury was formerly associated with Frank J. Loesch, senior member of Burke's law firm, in the prosecution of vote frauds at the 1928 primary election. Chief Justice McGoorty assigned the petition for hearing before Judge Joseph B. David for Dec. 8.

Mrs. Jones was born Kittie Oakley of a prominent family of Peoria. Her first husband, Curtis A. Gunn, was widely known as a sportsman and was at one time a business associate of the late John W. Gates. Gunn died on Sept. 14, 1914. In an action filed by his widow contesting a bequest under his will to a grandniece it was revealed that his estate at that time totaled $330,000.

Weds Jones in 1925.

According to Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Gunn had holdings of $900,000 when she was married to Jones on July 1, 1925. Jones met Mrs. Gunn six months before their marriage at the Mercy hospital during the illness of a mutual friend. On their marriage license she gave her age as 45, although she was then 69. Jones' age was given as 42.

Jones is said to have been a major during the war and to have been decorated with the Legion of Honor. Since the marriage the estate has dwindled to less than $500,000, according to Mrs. Thompson.

After the marriage Jones made his home at the residence in which his wife had lived for 40 years. For a time their chauffeur was Frank Bell, now in jail under sentence of death for the murder of Christ Patras, a café manager. Bell has offered to give evidence to aid Mrs. Thompson.

What Petition Charges.

On the evening before Mrs. Jones' death, the petition declares that she was given without her request or consent an intravenous hypodermic injection by Dr. Charles L. Loffler, who was summoned by Mr. Jones. The death certificate, signed by Dr. Loffler, attributed death to kidney ailments and heart disease. Mrs. Thompson says that Jones told her he had given his wife medicine after the injection was given.

The petition asserts that Mrs. Jones was in good physical condition, although weak mentally. She is said to have suffered slightly from diabetes. Mrs. Thompson says that she was not notified of the death until after her sister was buried and that a brother Charles Oakley of Chicago, was not notified until late on the evening of Mrs. Jones' death. The will, drawn in 1927 and comprising less than 150 words, left the estate to the husband, with no mention of relatives. It was not drawn by an attorney, Mrs. Thompson says.

Dr. Loffler said the death certificate was the best evidence of his opinion of the cause of death. He said that the injection, given for the blood, was a common practice.

Motor Drops from Plane; 1 Dies in Leap; 3 Saved

COLON, Canal Zone, Dec. 3.—(AP)—C. L. Domeyer of Red Wing, Minn., chief aviation mecnanic in the United States navy, leaped 400 feet to his death in Limon bay today when the motor dropped from a navy seaplane carrying a crew of four. The pilot saved the ship and the other men were uninjured. Domeyer had a parachute when he jumped, but the altitude was insufficient to open it.

NEW WITNESSES DISPUTE VERSION OF GARY TRAGEDY

Assert Three of Youths Were Not Drunk.

Testimony that three of the five youths accused of killing 18 year old Arlene Draves during a drinking orgy in a Gary home were not intoxicated as the defense claims when they attacked her will be presented to the Lake county grand jury next week, it was learned last night.

Gary police disclosed they had a new witness in the person of Patrolman Ellis B. Thomas, who was eating his midnight lunch Saturday in the hot dog stand at 37th street and Broadway when it was visited by David Thompson, Paul Barton, and Virgil Kirkland. Patrolman Thomas was in lengthy conversation with all three and in a signed affidavit he declares they "were in full possession of their normal faculties." The other two defendants are Leon Stanford and Henry Shirk.

Girl in Car at Time.

The Draves girl was in the car at the time, supposedly unconscious. A waitress also has signed an affidavit telling how the three boys made alternate trips to the car. She likewise said they were not intoxicated.

Still another witness was found yesterday. She is Mrs. Bernice Elser, 21 years old, 669 Tyler street, Gary. She attended the party with her husband, Bert. She has been under the care of a physician since Arlene's death. She left her bed to give a signed statement to Lieut. Edward Thixtum of the Gary police.

"As soon as I arrived at the party I met Arlene," her statement reads. "I talked with her and I am sure she was not drunk. I smelled no liquor on her breath. I sat around with the others of the party, and in the meantime Arlene had disappeared.

"Later, after midnight, Thompson came in and asked us if we wanted any sandwiches. He went to get them, along with Leon Standord and Paul Barton. I did not see Arlene in the house at that time.

Says Kirkland was Drunk.

"It was about an hour afterward that Thompson and the others returned with the sandwiches. I noticed there was considerable laughing and talking among the boys. I heard Stanford ask Kirkland if Arlene was still in the car. I noticed Kirkland was very drunk. I looked out and saw Standord, Thompson, and Shirk standing beside the car."

GIRL, 10, TELLS JURY HER FATHER KILLED MOTHER

Story of Shooting as She Saw It.

CRIMINAL COURT.

John Sarko, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Phillip Finnegan.

Marie Robson, murder, sentenced to 14 years in the penitentiary by Judge H. I. Frankhauser.

Harriet Belak, 10 years old, testified in Judge E. I. Frankhauser's Criminal court yesterday that her father, Andrew Belak, 48 years old, shot and killed her mother, Mary Belak, and then shot himself in the wrist so as to make it appear that he was wounded while defending his wife. She was the only eyewitness to the crime, which occurred on March 18 in the home of Mrs. Belak at 840 Holt street.

The child, called as a state's witness, sat calmly in the witness chair, her head just peeping up over the rail, and told the story which the state hopes will send Belak to the electric chair. The girl seemed to be unfriendly to her father. Only once did she glance in his direction as she swung back and forth in the swivel chair.

Under cross examination for two hours by Attorney Thaddeus C. Toudor for the defense, the girl was not shaken in her story. She denied time and again that a man named George had committed the crime.

The girl seemed bored by the constant questioning of her father's attorney and frequently yawned as she answered, "I don't remember that," or denied the charges that she had been intimidated by Assistant State's Attorney Logan Hackman.

"I was sleeping when I heard the shot," said the girl. "When I woke up I saw my mother running up the stairs. My father shot after her and she fell from the stairs and down on one of the beds. My father then shot himself and told me to say that George did it when the police came. I did as he told me."

PHILIP HOLDEN SHOT IN EFFORT TO LOOT BANK

Philip Holden, 28 years old, id to be the son of a former Chicago merchant, is in the prison ward of the county hospital at Los Angeles, Cal., critically wounded. He was shot through the head by an armed citizen when he and two companions attempted to hold up a bank there. The two companions were captured. Police of Los Angeles say Holden attended Notre Dame university for two years, quitting college when he inherited $90,000 at the death of his father.

FIFTH OF TAXES UNPAID; COUNTY FACES BIG TASK

See Further Trouble with Coming Collections.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

More than one-fifth of all of the Cook county taxes, due last July, have not been paid. This deficiency—by far the largest in local history—totals more than $51,000,000.

The taxes involved are those levied in 1927 and ordinarily payable in 1928; but because of the delay in the reassessment of real estate the payment of these taxes was delayed until last July 10 by special act of the legislature.

The 1928 taxes levied on all real estate, personal property, railroads and capital stock totaled $233,162,829. This represents not only the taxes for the city of Chicago, the city schools, park boards, sanitary district, library, municipal tuberculosis sanitarium, and the county government, but also all of the other cities, villages, towns, drainage districts, and the like within the county limits.

22 Per Cent Still Unpaid.

Of this total bill the property owners have paid only $181,414,619, according to the new county treasurer and collector, J. B. McDonough. There consequently remains unpaid $51,748,-20, or approximately 22 per cent.

Indicative of the extent of this deficiency is the fact that a few years back an allowance of 5 per cent for loss and cost of collecting taxes was more than ample, while in his estimates of corporate revenue, City Controller Schmidt has set aside an allowance of 9 per cent for loss and cost of tax collections. The county controller has reckoned on 10 per cent. The sanitary district makes the same percentage allowance, and the school board is expected to follow the city controller's lead.

Part of the unpaid taxes will be collected. Some property owners lack the money now. Others believe their assessments are too high, and have paid only a part of their taxes. Still others protest against the large percentages of total taxes levied against real estate. These latter two classes of objectors are contesting the assessments in court. Some of these will be ordered by the court to pay. Tax experts predict that the final amount of unpaid taxes will be 18 per cent. About 14 per cent of the 1927 taxes were not paid.

See More Delinquents.

The tax expending bodies thus face a threatening situation as they begin preparing appropriations to be spent in 1931. The Association of Real Estate Taxpayers predicts that a larger percentage will fail to pay their taxes next year—when the 1929 taxes are due on April 1 and the 1930 taxes are due on Dec. 1—than failed to pay their 1928 taxes.

The tax bill due on April 1 next will be 20 per cent higher than the one payable July 10 last; and the one due on Dec. 1 will be about 30 per cent higher than the April bill.

The Strawn citizens' committee had the legislature, in special session last summer, adopt relief legislation, which was designed to wipe out the financial difficulties of the local governments. But all that legislation was based upon the assumption that the property owners would pay their taxes. Officials admit failure to collect one-fifth of the taxes will cause serious financial difficulties.

Schools Ask $237,957,742.

The public school system, which had an aggregate appropriation of about $90,000,000 this year, has a preliminary budget for next year, as presented yesterday by Business Manager Ernest Withall and Auditor Brackett, calling for appropriation totaling $237,-957,742. In this sum are unpaid liabilities of previous years, totaling $141,414,003, largely tax anticipation warrants. The proposed appropriations, without these liabilities, total only $96,543,739; but in that figure are current loss and cost of tax collections, which makes its not comparable with the previous total. The educational fund will have about $6,367,000 out of that increase must be paid loss and cost of tax collections.

City Controller Schmidt's budget does not include millions of unpaid tax anticipation warrants. But it does include current loss and cost of tax collection. Otherwise the city's budget of about $161,000,000 is net.

Sanitary District Budget.

In the tentative sanitary district budget of $73,895,229 there are included current loss and cost of tax collections and also items for construction which cannot be paid out until 1932 or 1933. Only $47,069,000 of the total appropriation is to be paid out next year.

The county budget has reached the stage of an estimate of revenue, which for corporate purposes is placed at $22,010,404, and for roads at $16,340,-588. The budget, however, will probably be about $49,000,000, to comply with the new law.

The sanitary district budget has a distinct advantage over all the others in that the 1931 appropriations are on a basis so that they may be compared with previous years. The district budget supplies data for each of five previous years so that the trend of expenditures in each department can be noted at a glance.

PROMOTE 3 OFFICERS IN REORGANIZATION OF ILLINOIS GUARD

Three promotions and another resignation in the 202d coast artillery, Illinois National Guard, were announced yesterday by Col. Charles C. Dawes, who began a reorganization of the unit when he took command as successor to Col. Charles J. Kraft. The indictment of Col. Kraft on charges of embezzlement by the federal grand jury last July involved the coast artillery unit in a $200,000 scandal.

Col. Dawes announced that Capt. Arthur C. Osborne had been promoted to major to succeed Maj. Allen M. Cordell, who was one of the four officers whose resignations were accepted recently "for the good of the service." Lieut. Elmer Wegner becomes a captain to fill the vacancy left by Osborne's promotion. Capt. Arthur T. Broche's resignation has been accepted and Lieut. James F. Willett promoted to fill the vacancy.

The trial of Col. Kraft had been set for today in Federal Judge Woodward's court, but continuance until some time in January is expected. Kraft's attorney, James O'Callaghan, of the firm of Litsinger, Healy & Reid, also represents State Representative Lawrence C. O'Brien, who goes on trial next Monday on charges of evading income taxes.

BOARD TO HOLD FIRST 1929 TAX HEARING MONDAY

The first hearing on complaints against the 1929 real estate assessments will be held on Monday by the board of review. Chief Clerk Bernard Weaver announced that notices will be sent out today to 200 complainants to appear before the board at the hearing.

The board of review has announced that it will follow the same procedure in hearing complaints as was used last year. Changes or confirmations will be determined by the recommendations of the board of assessors' technical staff and by the evidence submitted by taxpayers.

Where necessary the board of review will make its own investigations, it was announced. Approximately 25,000 complaints were filed during the two weeks which ended last Friday.

Alcohol Kills Two More; Ten Days' Toll Is 8 Dead

Lumberton, N. C., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Poisonous alcohol claimed two lives here today, bringing the total deaths from this cause in North Carolina within ten days to eight.

1 KILLED, 1 HURT BY AUTO; CATCH DRIVER IN CHASE

A woman was killed and a man critically injured yesterday when they were struck by a hit and run motorist while crossing Roosevelt road at Wood street. The motorist was captured by police at Ogden avenue and 13th street after a wild chase during which a dozen shots were fired. He is John Jeziora, 20 years old, 4308 South Sacramento boulevard.

The dead woman was Mrs. Catherine Boyle, 48 years old, 1748 Washburne avenue. She died a few hours after the accident in the County hospital. Roy Maypole, 38 years old, 1215 South Crawford avenue, who was also struck, is in the County hospital with a fractured skull. Jeziora, the police said, was intoxicated and speeding at 50 miles an hour.

This death and three others raised the Cook county motor toll for the year to 1,025. The other victims:

George Oakley, 47 years old, colored, 4402 Indiana avenue. Killed when struck by the auto of George Hogan, 5230 South Morgan street, while crossing Michigan avenue at 44th street.

George Wilson, 45 years old, colored, 24 North Sheldon street. Killed when he was struck by a hit and run driver at Madison and Loomis streets.

SEIZED AS ROBBERY SUSPECT.

Jack Williams, alias Ralph Walker, 21 years old, 5042 Prairie avenue, was seized as a robbery suspect yesterday by Sergt. Wellington Britton of the detective bureau. Williams made the mistake of reaching for his gun when Britton stopped him for questioning at 51st street and South Park way.

SECRET POLICE 'OVRA' ARRESTS U. S. BORN WIDOW

Deals Swiftly with Foes of Fascist Regime.

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Copyright 1930: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ROME, Nov. 3.—The existence of a Fascist police organization with the neat four letter name of Ovra, recalling the Cheka and designed to figure henceforth as a nightmare to anti-Fascists, was revealed with a flourish here today.

Like the Russian Ogpu it is called after the initials which it presumably stands for "Organizatione Vigilanza Reservata Sulle associazons." This label covers the crack corps of sleuths from all stations of life who work directly under Premier Mussolini in his capacity as minister of the interior and whose job it is to protect the Fascist system.

Makes Three Roundups.

Of course it has always been there doing just this, but the incorporation of the Ovra was only brought to the public attention today by being coupled with the announcement of three separate roundups of enemies of the régime who are accused of complicity in various sorts of plots in recent weeks. The announcement of the new organization, however, has had the curious psychological effect of sharpening the edge of terror in the peoples' minds by giving it a name—before it was just "the police."

The 27 conspirators who have been rounded by the Ovra in recent weeks, including the last batch arrested over the week-end, are in dungeons awaiting trial. They are said to have made sworn confessions. They will answer for their misdeeds to the high Fascist tribunal for the defense of the state.

What the fate of the 27 will be none can guess but apprehensive friends and relatives, figuring on the basis of previous performances of the tribunal in similar cases, fear they will be sentenced to exile on the dreaded Lipari islands.

Death Plots Charged.

Twenty-four of the culprits whom the Ovra came to the conclusion were engaged in plotting "criminal attempts" on Oct. 28 last, the eighth anniversary of the march on Rome, are accused of conspiring against the lives of persons whose identity can only be imagined by one not at all on the inside of these goings on.

Prof. Guiseppe Renzi of Genoa whose arrest gave the anti-Fascists their chance to pull off a great hoax to the effect that he, a benefactor of Mussolini at one time, had died in prison, has now been released, according to an official communique issued tonight. This is his second release and he is said to have pledged himself to keep to erudition and out of politics.

Then there is the daring group that laid down the chain letter barrage against Fascism for so many months. The Ovra is believed to have gotten the three ring leaders for, in addition to Renzo Rendi, another Genoa professor, and Mario Vinciguerra, there is the American born woman, Mrs. Lillian Vernon de Bosis, widow of Dr. H. J. de Bosis, the Italian savant and translator of Shelley. She was born in St. Louis and is now in her sixties. She is widely known in the intellectual world in Rome and in the American colony. Her son, Lauro, is secretary of the Italio-American club at Columbia university and has lectured at Harvard. He was on his way to Rome to visit his mother when the news of her arrest reached him.

The Ovra's third group of prisoners, announced today, was the capture of a communist gang which the police say was preparing several outrages of its own on the recent anniversary of the march on Rome. The names of the members are still secret and all that is known is that they are from the province of Romagna in northern Italy where Premier Mussolini was born.

The simple announcement that there was such a corps as the Ovra and that it is functioning with such vigor was received with intense interest. The semi-official newspaper La Tribuna carried a grim editorial on the new organization tonight.

"Those who plot will take notice that there are people whose eyes are open and ready to act in the name of the state," the newspaper said. "The Ovra steps in and does its work before the crime is committed and not afterward for the police of this Fascist state do not have to work as do those of demo-liberal régimes amidst political discussions and journalistic uproars. It is silent and active and strikes down the guilty before they have had a chance to move."

Squeeze Fascist Finances.

BASLE, Dec. 3.—Financial pressure on Italy is understood to have been tightened, apparently in the hope of realizing some progress in the Franco-Italian naval negotiations at Geneva during the final days of the preparatory disarmament commission.

The situation rising from this and other factors are considered in some high quarters to place Premier Mussolini so much between the devil and the deep sea that there is serious speculation behind the scenes as to how long the Fascist régime can survive.

Conditions are so serious that it is understood certain powers are already throwing an anchor discreetly to windward by renewing informal contacts with leading anti-Fascisti exiles to learn what their policies would be if they should return to power.

7 OF CREW OF CHICAGO LIQUOR SHIP PLEAD GUILTY IN NEW YORK

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Seven defendants in the trial of the government versus the owners and crew of the yacht Halcyon of Chicago, which was seized in the Hudson river off Scarborough last July 8, as it was landing a cargo of liquor, pleaded guilty in Federal court before Judge Alfred C. Coxe today.

Only one man, John Devanney of Yonkers, said by the prosecution to be one of the ringleaders, is standing trial.

Devanney is charged in the indictment with being ringleader in the conspiracy to import liquors from St. Pierre Miquelon via the St. Lawrence river, Lake Ontario and the Hudson river. It is said that his function in the alleged ring was the "fixing" of prohibition officers and making arrangements for landing the liquor at American ports.

The indictment charges specifically that on July 3, Devanney offered a bribe to a New York state trooper, who accepted the bribe and tipped off the prohibition inspectors. Five days later agents seized the Halcyon off a Scarborough pier, where 239 bags of liquor already had been landed and loaded upon trucks.

The seven who pleaded guilty will be sentenced tomorrow by Judge Coxe. Among them was Joe Bedelle, said to be an associate with Devanney in the management of the conspiracy.

The Halcyon, which has been libeled by the government for its alleged use in violation of the prohibition laws, is valued at $100,000. The confiscated liquor was worth approximately $50,000.

INDIANA BANK BANDITS GET $67,500 LOOT

Frankfort, Ind., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Led by a middle aged man and aided by a bobbed haired blonde woman who waited in the rear of a big automobile, five unmasked men held up the Farmers State bank here this afternoon and escaped with at least $67,500.

The bandits covered the half dozen employés and thirteen customers in the bank with revolvers.

The customers and most of the employés were forced to lie on the floor face downward. One elderly man with rheumatism stooped with difficulty.

"Take your time, Buddy," laughed the leader. "We've got all afternoon."

The bandits ignored the smallest money in the tellers' cages, but did take $1,500 in larger silver. Each carried a canvas bag and the loot was divided on the spot and carefully stowed away.

'TRUCE' PLEDGED BY DEMOCRATS TURNS TO WAR

Shouse, One of Signers, Denounces Hoover.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—That carefully erected structure of words "Democratic coöperation with the administration" was toppled over today.

In both houses appeared bills sponsored by Democrats and by anti-administration Republicans going farther in both appropriation and method than the President's recommendations. In the house of representatives the opening debate on the treasury and postoffice appropriation bill served as the signal for a torrent of oratory, in which depression was the theme and the administration the target.

Chairman Jouett Shouse of the Democratic national executive committee, one of the seven who signed the coöperation pledge, completed the job by issuing a criticism of President Hoover's message in which blame for the seriousness of the situation was laid at the President's door.

Assails "Procrastination."

Mr. Shouse inquired why the President's suggestions had not been made at the last session of congress.

"Had it not been for his procrastination the expedients he now suggests would have been inaugurated six months ago," Mr. Shouse asserted.

Had the President aided the Wagner unemployment bills instead of "conniving at their destruction, lest political credit might accrue to the Democrats," he would have accurate unemployment figures, Mr. Shouse claimed.

"The conclusion is inescapable," the Democratic leader charged, "that it was the President's desire to minimize the severity of the situation because of the imminence of the election just over. The presence of this timid and unwise feature in the President's policy was typified by the ill advised optimism of his statements on the subject that brought so much criticism on him last summer. It was this unfortunate refusal to meet the facts, rather than any other element, that caused the holding back of relief measures until the bitter winter is upon us."

Under Fire in House.

In the house Representative Joseph Byrns [Dem., Tenn.] attacked the President's plan, contained in the bill introduced by Senator Glenn [Rep., Ill.], to appropriate $150,000,000 to be distributed by a cabinet committee. He charged that $72,000,000 appropriated for public buildings was lying in the treasury unspent because of red tape in preparing plans and approving sites.

In the senate Senator Thomas J. Walsh [Dem., Mont.] introduced a bill to set up a fund of $100,000,000 which the treasury would donate to states in monthly grants to aid in meeting their emergency relief expenditures.

Lines Up in Court

Lee Hanley, Northwestern university quarter back and brother of Coach Dick Hanley, was dismissed on one charge of assault and battery yesterday by Judge Edgar A. Jonas in South State street court, but was ordered to appear on Jan. 10 to face another charge growing out of the same encounter in a taxicab at Soldiers' field last Saturday during the Notre Dame-Army football game.

SUBMITS BATCH OF NOMINATIONS FOR SENATE O. K.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—President Hoover today sent to the senate nominations for members of the new federal power commission and also transmitted the name of William N. Doak as secretary of labor and a long list of recess nominations made during the summer.

Members of the power commission, not heretofore announced, were George Otis Smith, for many years director of the geological survey of the interior department, who is to be chairman, and Frank R. McNinch of North Carolina, a Democrat who supported Hoover in the 1928 campaign.

On Power Commission.

The President also renamed Ralph B. Williamson of the state of Washington, Marcel Garsaud of Louisiana, and Claude L. Draper of Wyoming, whose nominations were submitted to the senate last spring but were not acted upon.

Recess appointments were not made in the case of the power commission, which has not as yet been organized.

There were intimations of opposition from southern Democrats to Mr. McNinch because of his desertion of the Smith-Robinson ticket in 1928. He has the backing of Senator F. M. Simmons [Dem., N. C.], whose refusal to support the 1928 Democratic ticket resulted in his defeat for renomination. Mr. McNinch is a former mayor of Charlotte, N. C.

Doak to Be Unopposed.

That Mr. Doak will be confirmed for secretary of labor without opposition was indicated by a statement by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, who had objected to the naming of a labor leader identified with the Railroad Brotherhoods rather than with the federation.

"After the President made his decision we accepted it as final," Mr. Green said today. "He is entitled to exercise his judgment in the selection of his cabinet. We never entertained the slightest thought of opposing the confirmation of his appointment."

The recess nominations included the six members of the tariff commission, some of whom may be opposed. Lawrence A. Glenn of Murphysboro, Ill., a brother of Senator Otis F. Glenn [Rep., Ill.] was in the list as appointee to the Mississippi river commission.

All the B. L. of Chicago will anxiously await Mr. K.'s announcement in next Sunday's Tribune.

Budget Message Cites 180 Million Deficit.

President Hoover said that he is not disturbed by the prospective deficit of 180 millions in the current fiscal year and that this can be carried along through a reduction of the balance in the general fund, which at the beginning of the present fiscal year amounted to 318 millions.

Less Income; More Outgo.

"Due to the depression it is now estimated that the income of the government in taxes and in postal receipts for the current fiscal year probably will fall below the anticipation by over 430 million dollars," the President stated. "Moreover, the measures taken to increase employment . . . together with other items of increase, including the increase in veterans' services enacted by congress, represent a very material increase in government expenditures of over 225 million dollars.

"This would indicate a change in the situation from the estimates of the last budget of nearly 655 million dollars. This large sum, however, is partially met by the application of 185 million dollars of interest payments on the foreign debt to current expenditures and by arrangements of the federal farm board, by which they reduced their net cash demands upon the treasury by 100 millions during this period. These sums, together with economies brought about in the government, reduce the practical effect of the change in the financial situation to a present estimated deficit of approximately 180 million dollars for the current fiscal year.

Wants Sinking Fund Kept.

"I do not look with favor on any attempts to meet this deficit by reduction of the statutory redemption of the public debt."

"The adverse balance can be met by reducing the general fund balance from the amount in it at the beginning of the year, supplemented, if necessary, by the temporary borrowing by the treasury. When we recollect that our budget has yielded large surpluses for the last eleven years which have enabled us to retire the public debt, in addition to retirements required by law, to the extent of nearly $3,500,000,000 we can confidently look forward to the restoration of such surpluses with the general recovery of the economic situation, and thus the absorption of any temporary borrowing that may be necessary."

J. P. MORGAN ENDS VACATION OF FIVE MONTHS

New York, Dec. 3.—(AP)—J. P. Morgan returned today from a 20 week vacation abroad with an assortment of acquisitions which included four blooded pigeons and a parchment making his an Oxonian doctor of law.

The financier came home on the liner Olympic. He had sailed for England July 19 on his own new yacht, the Corsair, as is his custom.

His vacation was divided between his home near London, shooting grouse at his hunting lodge in Scotland, and cruising about the Mediterranean. He received the Oxford degree just before he started home.

Silent, as usual, to newspaper men, Mr. Morgan lingered at the pier to watch stewards carry ashore the possessions he brought back. He evinced particular interest in the crate containing carrier pigeons, looking carefully to their safety. The birds are gray, with small heads.

Photographers, asking the banker to pose for pictures, reminded him he had permitted himself to be photographed at Oxford. "Well, why not use that picture?" he asked.

SLASH IN FUNDS FOR ARMY, NAVY RECOMMENDED

Hoover for Budget of 689 Millions.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—A slash in national defense expenditures during the next fiscal year was recommended to congress today by President Hoover.

Publication of the White House estimates of expenditures for the war and navy departments disclosed that the President recommended the expenditure of $89 millions on national defense in 1932, a sum $33,697,000 less than the 719 millions made available for the financing of the two military services during the current year.

Proportion Increased.

Despite the cut in war and navy expenses, President Hoover estimated in the budget that the military functions of the government would take 41.11 per cent of the total federal appropriations for all purposes during the 1932 fiscal year. This figure represents an increase of approximately 5 per cent over last year. The increase is due to the fact that several hundred millions is added to the veterans' bureau budget, the item coupled with war and navy costs in computing what are termed the military costs of the government.

Increase for Veterans.

The figures show the cost of national defense in 1932 is expected to represent 17.53 per cent of the total federal budget, compared to 19.17 per cent in 1931. The percentage of national expenditures recommended for the veterans' bureau jumped from 17.2 per cent to 23.58 per cent, thus accounting for the apparent increase in military spendings.

The brunt of the national defense reduction is borne by the navy, which accepts a cut of $32,946,000. The navy budget figure for 1932 is 349 millions in round numbers while the army is to receive $334,481,342. The army reduction is $751,000 below the current spending.

Start Veteran's Suit for Heart Balm of $100,000

Trial of the $100,000 alienation of affections suit against Wilbert H. Hasse, wealthy owner of the American Concrete Products company and the Forest Home cemetery, was begun yesterday before Circuit Judge Taylor. The suit was brought by William J. McGrory, 42 years old, 4456 Diversey avenue, a book salesman. McGrory, a world war veteran, charges that Hasse lured his wife, Frances, from him while he was a patient in the Edward Hines Memorial hospital in 1924. McGrory divorced his wife in 1928 on grounds of desertion. Hasse is married and has two children. During the last few years he has been living at Long Beach, Cal. Selection of a jury will be completed today.

NYE KEEPS RIGHT ON PURSUING, BUT DAVIS CARES NOT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Senator Gerald P. Nye [Rep., N. D.], and his investigating committee continued their obsequies over the Pennsylvania campaign today, despite the embarrassing fact that the intended remains, in the person of Senator James J. Davis, had got up and walked out on them.

The solemnity of the exercises was not as convincing as it might have been. No matter how zealously Senator Nye might insist that $272,000 of the $641,000 spent for the Davis-Brown ticket had never been reported to the committee the dismaying fact remained that Senator Davis was at that moment enjoying himself in the echoing halls of statesmanship, to which he had been admitted the day before.

That he will continue so to enjoy himself safe from harassment is a virtual certainty. Senator Nye's resolution to delay his admission having been defeated, 28 to 27, it would take a two-thirds majority to expel Senator Davis now. And in view of the senate's newly acquired attitude of indifference to the campaign expenditure of a few hundred thousand dollars it is unlikely that Senator Nye's revelations will get the senate excited enough to reverse its vote.

Dwight W. Morrow, of four fold fame, being a former partner of J. P. Morgan & Co., former ambassador to New Mexico, a wet Republican presidential possibility, and Col. Lindbergh's father-in-law, had no trouble in getting into the senate today and took his seat as the junior senator from New Jersey.

SENATE EXPECTS HOOVER'S COURT MESSAGE TODAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—President Hoover is expected to submit the world court protocols to the senate tomorrow together with a message urging American ratification. What action will be taken by the senate committee on foreign relations on the protocols providing for American membership in the international tribunal is still a puzzle. Indications tonight are that final senate action on the world court issue will not come this winter.

Opposition to giving the world court a position of priority on the legislative calendar continued to grow today. This was due largely to the fear on the part of both Republican and Democratic leaders that if the protocols are brought up, such protracted debate will ensue that the passage of the regular supply bills will be endangered.

PRESIDENT ASKS MILLIONS MORE FOR PROHIBITION

Plans Made to Continue Vigorous Enforcement.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—President Hoover intends to pursue a policy of vigorous dry law enforcement for at least another eighteen months, as indicated today in his budget message, which appended every cent in additional appropriations asked by the government's prohibition agencies.

The President's statement in his opening message yesterday as to the necessity for "most rigid economy" in all expenditures except those for unemployment relief apparently did not apply to Volstead enforcement, for in today's budget message he recommended a boost of more than three million dollars in funds allotted to the prohibition and industrial alcohol bureaus for the next fiscal year, ending July 1, 1932.

Dry Leaders Pleased.

Dry leaders both in and out of congress hailed the budget message as assurance that the administration will not waver on enforcement, for the present at least, regardless of what the Wickersham commission may recommend in its forthcoming report.

Hardly had the message been read, however, before the wets in the house were sharpening their knives and tomahawks for an attack on the prohibition items. At an opening session of the executive committee of the house "wet bloc" it was decided that a concentrated fight will be made to knock out the bureau of prohibition increase which Director Amos W. W. Woodcock hopes to use for the employment of 500 new dry agents.

To Fight for Beer Bill.

The wets also resolved to battle against alcohol poisoning and for vote at this session on a beer modification bill.

"So far as I am concerned I am against wasting another penny in an attempt to enforce an unenforceable law and there are a good many others who will stand by us," declared Representative J. Charles Linthicum [Dem., Md.], chairman of the wet group.

The total 1932 appropriation asked for by the prohibition bureau of the department of justice, and indorsed by President Hoover, was $11,530,690, a net increase of $2,480,660 over the appropriation this year. The bureau of industrial alcohol of the treasury department, with the approval of the president, asked for $5,092,940, a net increase of $519,700, an aggregate boost for these two bureaus engaged solely in enforcement of $3,000,360.

Other Dry Funds Asked.

In addition, the budget as submitted carried an increase of $3,948,285 for the department of justice, excluding the prohibition bureau, and an increase of $936,780 for the customs service, while the coast guard budget request decreased $590,794, due to a slump in its big building program of last year. It is estimated that one-third of the justice appropriation, one-seventh of the customs appropriation, and one half of the coast guard appropriation go for dry law enforcement.

Altogether it was unofficially calculated that the Hoover budget program if adopted would raise the cost of enforcement from approximately $50,000,000 to $55,000,000 a year.

House Debate Begins.

The house today started debate on the treasury and postoffice appropriation bill which includes the allotments to the industrial alcohol bureau, customs and coast guard. Slight cuts were made by the appropriations committee in each of the three.

The offensive of the "wet bloc" is expected to start Friday when the bill is scheduled for a vote. At that time, Representative Linthicum announced, the wets will attempt to insert an amendment providing that none of the alcohol bureau funds be spent for poisoned denaturants. The fight against the prohibition bureau increase will take place when the justice department appropriation bill is considered.

COAL GAS POISON FATAL.

John Egan, 53 years old, 4336 Castello avenue, a fireman, died yesterday at the county hospital of coal gas poisoning. He had slept on a couch in the living room of his home with the stove going and all the doors and windows locked.

SAYS EXCLUSION OF "ALIEN" VOTES HITS NORTH ONLY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—States in the south where colored citizens are disfranchised in violation of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments would lose fully two-thirds of their seats in the house if representation were based upon the voting population rather than the total population.

This conclusion was drawn today by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.] from statistics supplied him by the census bureau in connection with the pending reapportionment question.

The Michigan senator compiled the figures to oppose arguments proposing a plan of "citizenship representation" through the exclusion of aliens from the population count for reapportionment purposes. If voting is a mark of good citizenship, he pointed out, the northern states with their aliens rank far above the southern states with their Negroes.

Senator Vandenberg's tables showed that in Illinois, for example, where four per cent of the population is alien, forty-one per cent voted in the 1928 election, while in South Carolina only four per cent went to the polls in 1928.

GERMAN PROTEST AGAINST POLAND ALARMS EUROPE

Nations Worry as Berlin Expresses Bitterness.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, Dec. 3.—The German government's protest to the league of nations over alleged violence and terrorism against German minorities in Polish Silesia during the recent elections reveals that Berlin makes serious accusations against the Polish government and intends to force an examination of the entire question during the council meeting beginning Jan. 19. The protest was made public today.

Allied, little entente, and league circles generally betray extreme anxiety over the temper of the memorandum, which is signed by the German foreign minister, Julius Curtius, and the possible repercussions when the German charges are adduced next month. The atmosphere is subcharged by the indifferent—almost contemptuous—attitudes of the Poles, and it is feared that any display of arrogance by Warsaw delegates during the council debate may precipitate the existing strain of relations to the snapping point.

The gravity of the situation is added to by France's attitude, inasmuch as the Paris government pledged to defend the integrity of Poland with the same determination as the Rhine, and military action between Germany and Poland ipso facto would draw French armed intervention against Germany.

Minister Curtius' note outlines in detail how the German inhabitants of Silesia were systematically prevented from voting during the elections.

Soviet Treason Trial Nears End; Ask Death for Eight

MOSCOW, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Eight Russian engineers accused of plotting the overthrow of the soviet government may know before the week-end whether they must pay with their lives for their acts of treason.

It was generall admitted that Prosecutor N. B. Krilenko will demand the death penalty in his summation tomorrow night, but some doubt existed whether the extreme penalty would be exacted from all the defendants.

There was a strong belief the death sentence would be imposed on all eight, but later would be commuted in the cases of some to ten years' imprisonment. This is considered a long prison term in soviet Russia.

Defendants Are Indifferent.

Workers and peasants throughout the nation have almost unanimously demanded death, but in view of the fact that most of the defendants have bared complete details of the plot for foreign intervention and have aided the government in rounding up hundreds of others as conspirators, it is thought probable some degree of leniency may be shown.

None of the defendants seemed apprehensive over his fate today. Prof. Leonid Ramzin, leader of the conspiracy, and the others placidly smoked cigarets and listened imperturbably, more like casual spectators than defendants.

The great part of the day was occupied by a closed session, at which activities of two agents attached to a "certain French institution in Moscow" were gone into. Red soldiers guarded every entrance to the building. The four judges are understood to have been furnished by the defendants with the names, dates and places concerning the alleged transmission of soviet war information to agents "K" and "R," through whom the defendants contend the information was relayed to the French general staff.

Britain Protests Propaganda.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 3.—The British government is instructing its ambassador in Moscow to protest to the soviet government against a radio speech broadcast last night from the bolshevik capital and addressed to the British workers.

A member of the house of commons declared the broadcast had "incited British workers to revolution," in violation of the Russian agreement to cease propaganda in Great Britain.

Foreign Secretary Henderson replied that "while the address was not an incitement to revolution, yet it was, nevertheless, a departure from the undertaking given by the soviet government in regard to propaganda." He said he was ordering the British ambassador to protest.

CUBAN STUDENTS KILL COP IN RIOT, WRECK BUILDING

HAVANA, Dec. 3.—(AP)—One policeman was killed and another wounded here today when students, protesting the reopening of the National university by presidential decree, clashed with police during a downtown demonstration. Fifty students were arrested.

The rioting began at the university this morning when classes were to have been resumed after a shutdown of the institution during the November elections and the 18 day period of martial law which prevailed in Havana and suburbs until 48 hours ago.

The students assembled in front of the offices of Dr. Rodriguez Molina, newly appointed as dean of the university in place of Dr. Martinez Prieto, to whom the students objected.

A black powder bomb was placed under the dean's offices, but failed to explode. Several of the students then entered the building and wrecked its furnishings.

CANADIAN IDLE BARRED OUT OF BORDER CITIES

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 3.—(AP)—A new difficulty was placed in the path of alien commuters by an immigration ruling announced today barring all except those who have had continuous employment in recent months.

The order affects only border cities, such as Detroit, where several thousand aliens, living across the Detroit river in Canada, hold jobs in Detroit and suburbs. Immigration officials said they expected the order to affect several hundred persons and that fifty already had been barred from entry for one year under its terms.

The barrier is raised against all aliens who have been without employment for as long as six months recently.

U. of C. Faculty Gives $11,000 to Aid Jobless

Faculty members of the University of Chicago have contributed $11,000 for unemployment relief, it was announced yesterday by Prof. James H. Tufts, chairman of the subscription committee. Altogether, 165 faculty members have made gifts or pledges, he said. Twenty-five others indicated they were already contributing through various relief agencies. "We expect the need to vary from month to month," said Prof. Tufts, "and that it will be greatest during January, February, and March." Distribution of the fund will be made through the committee.

Acidity
Gives You Those Dread Nights of Sleeplessness!

When every night is a sleepless night for you—when every morning finds you drawn, haggard and hollow-eyed, it's almost surely a case of Acidity!

When the stomach secretes too much acid it causes acid-indigestion, with gas, sourness, and burning. It also sets up fermentation and putrefaction in the intestines, creating poisons which pull us down physically and mentally. A marvelous German development, called Magnesia Oxoids, corrects Acidity in the right way. Upon contact with the gastric juice, Magnesia Oxoids generate nascent or active oxygen. The oxygen stimulates the alkaline gastric mucus which keeps the acid in check; corrects intestinal fermentation and stimulates peristalsis or the natural movement of the bowels. All three effects are necessary, and only Magnesia Oxoids supply them because it is the only magnesia product known to science which, when taken internally, releases oxygen to the system.

To see just how "acid" you are, make this test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxoids from Walgreen's Drug Stores or Economical Drug Stores or any other good druggist. Take two after each meal and see how much better you feel—how much more soundly you sleep and how much more energy you have. If after taking the contents of one bottle, the results don't more than amaze you, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money promptly and in full.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative, safe and pleasant.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

ROCKEFELLERS GIVE A MILLION TO JOBLESS FUND

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—A contribution of $1,000,000, given jointly by John D. Rockefeller Sr. and John D. Rockefeller Jr. to the emergency employment committee's fund for the unemployed, swelled the total of the fund today to $4,133,000.

No details concerning the Rockefeller gift were forthcoming. The donation, the largest the committee has received, was announced after the regular meeting of the central committee, held at the Bankers' club, at which Seward Prosser, chairman, reported a total of $3,133,000 in contributions. The goal of $5,000,000 set by the committee is brought past the two-thirds mark by the Rockefeller gift.

Is Probably a Record.

The Rockefeller donation is one of the largest, and probably the largest, ever made by a single family to an American relief fund, as far as could be recalled today.

John W. Prentiss of Hornblower & Weeks, chairman of the stock exchange division, announced contributions totaling $425,000, including $25,000 voted by the governors of the New York Stock exchange, and gifts aggregating $397,000 from 235 Wall street houses, members of firms and employés.

Other leading groups are: Bankers and trust companies, $343,000; investment brokers, $140,621; special gifts, $104,000.

Campaign Closes Dec. 17.

Mr. Prosser told the meeting that the campaign would close Dec. 17, as scheduled, regardless of whether the goal of $6,000,000 is achieved or not.

"But we are going to get it," he added confidently.

The latest survey of the unemployment situation by the police shows 48,516 heads of families out of work in the five boroughs. So far, aid has been given to 189,932 persons. In addition to food supplies, 19,894 persons have received clothing; checks have been sent to 862 families for a total of $12,671, and work has been found for 1,719 men and 121 women.

PERSONAL GIFTS SOUGHT TODAY IN RELIEF DRIVE

Ask City's Wealthy to Aid Jobless.

The governor's commission on unemployment today will turn its attention to the well-to-do individuals in an effort to boost the relief fund through personal gifts. So far the bulk of the contributions in the $5,000,000 emergency relief financial campaign have come from corporations and their employes, but today Chicago's wealthy men and women will be called upon by Joseph M. Cudahy and his committee, who are conducting the campaign for personal gifts.

Philip R. Clarke, chairman of the financial campaign committee, yesterday reported a number of large contributions from employers and employés. Among them were the following: Harley L. Clarke, $10,000; Lee, Higginson & Co. employés, $8,170, Charles A. Stevens & Brothers employés, $9,000; Northern Trust company employés, $9,067; the Aëromotor company, $4,000. Miscellaneous gifts brought another $20,000 into the fund.

The rating of the various teams raising contributions in the trade groups showed yesterday that the hardware, electrical, and sports goods the food products, the contractors, and the railway supplies divisions had not raised any of their quotas and that many others were lagging.

400 Get City Jobs.

One of the first measures to give employment to the most destitute men will be taken today, when Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe will add 400 men to the street department. These men will be selected by the governor's commission. They will be paid $5.50 a day from the commission's relief fund and will be given work for several days, when they will be replaced by another group of unemployed in greatest need of help. The men will be hired by agents of the governor's commission, the city merely supplying work.

Need for Old Clothing.

Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, chairman of the women's division of the governor's commission, yesterday stressed the great need for old clothing. Many destitute men and women are applying at the relief stations for old clothes and are being turned away, she said. She urged citizens to bring castoff garments and old shoes to the following receiving stations:

OBTAINS $6,000 LUNCH FUND FOR POOR CHILDREN

Lewis E. Myers, president of the board of education, yesterday announced that $6,000—enough to provide "penny lunches" to undernourished children of poor parents for the remainder of 1930—had been obtained. He refused to disclose the source of the money, only intimating that he had taken up a collection among business men.

Dental Society to Open Free Clinic for Needy

Dr. Harris W. McClain, president of the Chicago Dental society, announced yesterday that his society will open a free dental clinic for the treatment of needy cases. The decision was made in response to appeals from various charitable organizations that hundreds of the unemployed are in urgent need of emergency dental care, the president said. All patients will be required to bring certificates from accredited agencies.

PUBLISHER DIES IN SMOKE FROM APARTMENT FIRE

C. H. Young, 54, Victim in His Home.

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—A fire, apparently started by a cigaret he carelessly flipped to the floor of his living room, trapped Courtland H. Young, 54 year old magazine publisher, in his apartment on West 55th street this morning. He died of suffocation as he tried to fight his way out.

He was seen, still alive, swaying in the doorway between his bedroom and the burning living room when the superintendent of the apartment building, Nelson Bruce, was himself almost immediately overcome by the smoke and by the time firemen dragged him out and drenched the flames the publisher had fallen in the doorway and was dead.

Mr. Young was the founder and publisher of Young's Magazine, established in 1897, of Breezy Stories, founded in 1915, and of Yellow Book, founded in 1910, and of Droll Stories, established in 1917, the latter no longer published by him. He belonged to the New York Athletic and the Newspaper clubs.

Mr. Young's marital troubles gave him considerable publicity for several years previous to December, 1928, when he obtained a divorce from Dorothea R. Campbell Young of Brooklyn, a former "Follies" girl.

The Youngs separated in October, 1922, and after almost constant litigation of one kind or another, with allegations of infidelity, improper parties, and intoxication, the divorce was granted on Dec. 10, 1928.

BEGIN TRIAL TODAY OF ARMY MAN ACCUSED OF POISONING HIS WIFE

Kansas City, Kas., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Sixty-eight witnesses for the government and at least twenty-five for the defense had assembled tonight for the trial here tomorrow of Maj. Charles A. Shepard, army tuberculosis specialist of Denver, charged with the poison murder of his wife, Mrs. Zenana Shepard.

Maj. Paul R. Hawley, an important government witness, appeared today ready to testify regarding the death of Mrs. Shepard at Fort Riley, Kas., June 15, 1929. The officer, now chief surgeon with the Nicaraguan canal survey, attended Mrs. Shepard during her fatal illness at the military post where Shepard and Hawley then were stationed.

Maj. Hawley told reporters that "alcohol played no part in her last illness," countering statements of the defense that Mrs. Shepard drank excessively.

The indictment states Mrs. Shepard died from poison. The government has announced it will attempt to prove Maj. Shepard, 59, killed his wife because of his love for Miss Grace Brandon, pretty 22 year old stenographer of San Antonio, Tex.

The indictment is so worded that the jury must acquit or convict of first degree murder.

HOWARD CAPPER JAILED; UNABLE TO PAY $25 FINE

Howard C. Capper, son of John S. Capper, former head of Capper & Capper, was remanded to the Bridewell yesterday by Judge Edgar A. Jonas because he was unable to pay a fine of $25 imposed for disorderly conduct. The police testified he was intoxicated and carrying a bottle of whisky when arrested in the company of two men.

One of these, Daniel Clifford, 7023 Stony Island avenue, was sentenced to a year in the Bridewell for stealing a pair of gloves from a loop store. His brother, John, in whose possession the police testified they found four pairs of gloves, was granted a continuance of a week.

Young Capper, divorced four times, who says he has spent $300,000 "playing around," was disinherited by his father and has not been connected with the haberdashery company for five years, according to A. H. Turner, vice president of Capper & Capper.

A raid on a 1,000 gallon alcohol still led by Capt. Patrick Harding of the Rogers Park station yesterday resulted in the capture of four men after a chase in which several shots were fired by the police. The still operators broke through the glass of a greenhouse in which the still was concealed at 6453 North Damen avenue. One of them, Joseph Harris, 4312 North Rockwell street, was cut by the glass and he was taken to the Rogers Park hospital. Policeman Timothy O'Brien followed the fleeing alky cookers through the glass and received minor injuries.

Girl, 7, Is Killed by Train on Michigan City Crossing

Cecelia Pawlik, 7 years old, of Michigan City was killed yesterday when she was struck by a freight train at the 10th street crossing of the Michigan Central railroad in Michigan City.

tion on different trains and the volume is not so perceptible. But at night they come in a mass and we are putting on additional cars to accommodate them."

Joseph Caldwell, assistant general passenger agent for the Milwaukee railroad, said the Milwaukee would have to add extra equipment within the next day or two if the increasing flow of passengers continues.

"The veteran conductors tell me," he said, "that in the Deerfield, Fox Lake, and Elgin regions, we are packing the cars every day with passengers coming to and leaving Chicago. It's a definite pickup."

While the railroads were reporting stimulated business, bankers and business men in the outlying districts had encouraging reports of buying in their areas.

Joseph Reich, president of Reich Brothers' department store, 1548 Milwaukee avenue, was jubilant over the increase in buying noted at his store in the last week. "It begins to seem like old times again," he said. "We've noticed a better spirit on the part of the buying public; that is, people seem to be in a better mood to buy now than they have for some time. Christmas is just around the corner and I've no doubt that that is the compelling force behind them."

George W. Fleming, south side clothier and vice president of the Oakland Business Men's association, struck the same note. "Salaried people are recovering from the hysteria of hanging on to all their money and are doing normal spending," he said.

Thomas F. Airth, retiring president of the Evanston chamber of commerce, saw a picking up of interest and buying. "People are coming into stores more and more," he said, "and now they not only look at merchandise, they buy it. The volume of buying in some lines is larger than last year, although lower priced articles are being bought."

Two Hunted for Robbing Six of Furs and Cash

Police are hunting two Negro bandits who early yesterday held up and robbed three couples near South Shore drive and 75th street of $100 and fur coats valued at $950. The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lippman, 7358 Phillips avenue; Mr. and Mrs. David Caplow, 7330 South Shore drive; Miss Marie Landon, 7333 Escanaba avenue, and her escort, Fred L. Goss, an official of the Goss Printing Press company.

GERMAN POLICE RAID "FORT" ON POLISH BORDER

Seize Guns and Arrest Fascist 'Army' of 350.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BRESLAU, Germany, Dec. 3.—Police raided the castle of Baron Oelffen near Jaeschkewitz, near the Polish border, at dawn today and arrested 350 Fascists clad in "brown shirt" uniforms and carrying full marching equipment. Three truck loads of arms and munitions were seized.

The police conducted the raid on the information that the Fascists were organizing a frontier defense force against "Polish aggression," and to come to the rescue of "oppressed" Germans in Upper Silesia.

Castle Surrounded by Police.

Last Sunday and Monday, groups of Fascist storm troops gathered near Breslau, held maneuvers in the forest, and marched to Jaeschkewitz. Rooms in the castle were cleared and the dainty furniture was replaced by straw bedding for an army of 450 men. Police surrounded the castle last night and ordered the Fascists to surrender.

But there were too many Fascists and the police called for reinforcements. Many of the "Brown Shirts" fled. The police shot in the air and a few retreated into the castle. When police reinforcements arrived the raid was made. Baron Oelffen was taken into custody along with the rest.

Search of the estate and neighborhood revealed hidden caches of rifles, revolvers, bullets, barb wire, and other materials of war. Germany today rushed a force of 900 policemen to this district to clear up Fascist nests.

Police Kill One; Wound Twenty.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LEIPZIG, Germany, Dec. 3.—Two thousand jobless, led by communist agitators, rioted here tonight, trying to break through the police lines into the town hall. The outnumbered police shot one and wounded twenty.

In Dresden communists staged a hunger march. Police, in trying to disperse the mob, drew pistols and fired. Eight persons were wounded.

Kill Hamburg Policeman.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAMBURG, Germany, Dec. 3.—A Hamburg policeman was knifed to death tonight during an attack on rioting communists in "red navy" uniforms. Two other police officers were taken to the hospital with knife wounds. Police reinforcements cleared the streets. Rioting in Chemnitz was renewed late tonight and 100 were arrested.

Will Shut Cigar Factories.

LAHR, Germany, Dec. 3.—One hundred and sixty-two Badenese cigar factories, employing 13,500 workers, announced today they would close down because of the increased tobacco tax included in the government's new financial program.

LIVE LIKE SPARTANS!

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 3.—Heavily guarded by foot and mounted police and riot cars, the reichstag reopened this afternoon with the usually turbulent parliamentarians listening meekly to Minister of Finance Hermann Dietrich outline a program of financial reform which would cut expenditures by $345,000,000 a year. Parliament then adjourned, postponing debate until tomorrow.

The finance minister warned Germans they must live like Spartans until Germany again gets on her feet, adding he was sorry the government had been obliged to resort to an emergency decree, but that conditions had made it necessary.

"Better Times Are Ahead."

"But better times are ahead," Dr. Dietrich exclaimed.

The new budget, which cuts government salaries and appropriations for states, places jobless insurance on a self-supporting basis and taxes cigars and cigarets, is slightly over two billion and a half dollars.

Only "a small part of this sum will be spent on the administration of the reich," Mr. Dietrich explained. "A full billion dollars goes for payment of the war burden; 250 million dollars for interest and amortization of the national debt; 750 million dollars will be paid to federal states for their expenditures, leaving 500 million dollars for the reich's expenses."

THE RAILROADS' LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM.

The Association of Railroad Executives, speaking for all the principal lines of the country, has launched a campaign for legislation intended to improve the competitive position of the railway companies. To our view the program presents a hodgepodge of recommendation, some of them eminently reasonable and others unworthy of support.

On the one hand, the executives favor restoration to the railroads of the right to operate ships coastwise and on the great lakes. We can see no objection to that. So far as the great lakes are concerned, there were mixed cargo carriers in numbers on the lakes before the railroads were forced to divest themselves of their ship lines; since that date there has been a steady decline until today, when for long hauls the lakes are useful to few shippers except the largest industries with their own fleets. The railroad companies, it should not be forgotten, are in the transportation business and should be permitted to operate any kind of transportation unit which in their judgment will prove profitable. Experience seems to warrant the conclusion that a single ownership of ships and rails provides the best means of assuring adequate and coördinated use of both.

A recommendation of a different sort is the proposal to place coastwise ships, interstate trucks and buses and interstate pipe lines under the regulation of the interstate commerce commission. It is easier to explain than to justify this proposal. The railroads are conscious of the limitations imposed on them by the commission's regulatory powers and of the fact that their competitors are not similarly restricted. As the railroads have reason to believe that too much regulation has been injurious to them, the logical demand should be for less regulation. On the contrary, the railroads have taken the position that the public will be best served if the competitors of the railways are also subjected to restrictions. The railroad executives are contending that regulation, as practiced, is harmful to the most important element in the nation's transportation system and at the same time are asking congress to extend this baneful influence over all other methods of transportation.

Even if adopted, the proposal is not likely to work to the advantage of the railroads. If common carrier trucks are placed under regulation the larger industries which have use for trucks will operate their own fleets, as many of them do now, and they will continue outside the zone of regulation. The railroads will not regain the lost traffic. If common carrier ships are regulated there will be more privately operated ships which will be free of regulation.

Any one who has watched the trend of railroad earnings as reported on the financial pages in recent months will be disposed to agree with the railroad men that they are in need of relief, and any one aware of the importance in our economic structure of the underlying securities of the railroads will see the need for restoring the railroads' credit. The end will not be achieved by harassing other forms of transportation, but by relieving the railroads of their burden of excessive regulation. That is the good which the railroad executives should aim at.

BOURGEOIS DISREPUTABILITY IN RUSSIA.

Prof. Ramsin, one of the accused counter revolutionists in Russia, mentioned during the examination in which he repeated his confession of guilt that his pay as a technical engineer under the government had been $750 a month. There was a stir through the courtroom crowd at that and in murmurs of indignation the reproach of "bourgeois." Ramsin says he and others in the conspiracy betrayed soviet secrets in the hope that another revolution might produce a dictatorship of technical men. Evidently a breach of faith could be understood by the communists, but a disclosure that there was a bourgeois taint in the professor's cosmos would exile him from the understanding.

The soviet Russian contempt for the bourgeoisie is one of the most revealing lights upon their social scheme. The citizen of this class in any country is a man whose ideas of life contemplate a competence within an ordered society. He heads a family able with any sort of luck to maintain itself economically. He is frequently a middle man, the mainstay of retail distribution of production, although in a successful society of the sort there may be little distinction between producer and distributor. He is independent, in a fashion, and, although exposed to economic flux, generally prefers to take his chances on his own. He is a large consumer of products, but seldom aspires to an economic control of resources or finance and seldom has high political ambitions.

This citizen is regarded as the most solid support a government of law can have. He does not seek to impose a dictatorship and he refuses to tolerate one if he can successfully resist it. He does not attempt coercion and takes his chances with a free play of competition. Solidity is his characteristic, an independent individual capable of a high degree of social organization.

This is the man the Russian communist hates with a religious zeal because, probably, he is, if free from dictatorship, a competent individual in a world which the soviets insist must be czaristic. That they call their god Lenin and their czar Stalin does not conceal the autocratic and ecclesiastical structure of their society.

A CORRECTION.

A rather starry eyed comment in these columns upon the seating of Senator Davis was brought to earth in the same issue of THE TRIBUNE by Mr. Herrick of THE TRIBUNE'S Washington bureau. The ingenuous applause which the editorial department bestowed upon the senatorial majority seems to have been premature, not to say ill advised. The assumption of the editorial was that the senators who voted to seat the man whom the voters of Pennsylvania had chosen to be one of their representatives in the national legislature were moved by considerations of constitutional principle and by a reviving regard for the right of representation. Mr. Herrick, writing from the scene, explains that it was a choice between Mr. Davis and Mr. Grundy, not, as our incurable esteem for "the most august deliberative body in the world" had led us hastily to assume, a choice between the American theory of representation and a novel doctrine of senatorial autarchy.

Even Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, who voted for seating Mr. Davis, seemed to apologize or to distinguish the issue from that raised in the cases of Vare and Smith on the ground that in those cases the senate had before them a report impeaching their right, a formal consideration which does not involve the constitutional principle we had naïvely supposed had been vindicated.

As a mere choice between Mr. Davis and Mr. Grundy, the vote really reasserts the right of the senate to select a representative for Pennsylvania. The right of the citizens of a sovereign commonwealth to select its own representatives in the senate remains where it was sent by the votes of the senate in the Vare and Smith cases—in the senatorial waste basket.

No issue since the adoption of the constitution is of more vital importance than this, and it is time the American people let the senate know their will upon it.

JUDGE OLSON RETIRES.

After twenty-four years of very able service as chief justice of the Municipal court Judge Harry Olson has retired to private life and private practice.

Judge Olson had made a record in public life as a competent and forceful prosecutor before the Municipal court was established to replace the old justice shops. He was its first chief justice. From the start the new court was in danger of reverting to the type from which it sprang. With much patience, much tact, and shrewd judgment in the assignment of the men elected as his associates Judge Olson set and maintained a standard of integrity and accomplishment for the court which is most creditable to him and to the city. The Municipal court of Chicago has been in many respects a model which has been copied in other cities all over the country.

If the court has not always measured up to Judge Olson's ideals the fault lies rather with the political leaders who sponsored the associate judges and the voters who elected them. Not infrequently the judges have been men of inadequate learning and unstable character. In spite of that the Municipal court today is functioning with reasonable efficiency, and the credit must go largely to Judge Olson.

The new chief justice, John J. Sonsteby, we have every reason to believe, will maintain the standards set by his predecessor. It is Judge Sonsteby's good fortune that he does not have to build from the bottom. In his twenty-four years of service Judge Olson has laid the foundation securely and the community owes him a debt of gratitude for devoted and constructive service.

ANOTHER SCHOOL INCIDENT.

Mayor Thompson undertook to use the school children for the distribution of circulars in one of his personal projects. A rule of self-apparent propriety keeps the schools clear of such manipulation and Supt. Bogan refused to order the teachers to coöperate for the employment of the children at the mayor's orders. Mr. Thompson thereupon used the police force as a messenger service in violation of city ordinance. He also sent the pupils a message reflecting upon the character of the superintendent.

Mr. Bogan in administering his office as it should be has exposed himself to the same line of attack which was directed against Mr. McAndrew when he had the position, to the ignominy of all responsible persons engaged in it. The present superintendent had the courage to maintain his position, and parents of school children will do well to keep the incident in mind.

Editorial of the Day

NO FEAR OF DROUGHT.

[Sioux City Journal.]

The long drawn out drought of 1930 at last has been broken decisively. The heaviest rain in November since the weather bureau was established here registered a total of 2.80 inches. The rain came too late to be of any value in a growing season of this year, but it was welcome to the Sioux City trade territory because of what it means to next year's crops.

Considerable damage has been reported following the rain, but that is insignificant compared to the benefits to be derived from the heavy downpour of moisture over a wide area. The rain was for the most part gentle. It was not a heavy, washing rain, so practically all of it soaked into the ground.

There is no chance whatever that the moisture precipitated now can dry out before crops are planted in the spring. There will be no more hot weather, of course, and the result will be that soil conditions cannot help but be most favorable for spring planting and a quick sturdy growth. The subsoil is soaked, saturated. And more precipitation will come. The next heavy fall may be snow, but in a good many instances such precipitation is not so beneficial and for the reason that the ground frequently is frozen and much of the moisture is lost.

So there is no fear of a spring drought. Spring plowing and planting, provided the weather at that time is favorable, will be ideal. Most of the moisture that fell this week in this section of Iowa will be retained until then. Estimates would vary, but one may feel safe in saying this November downpour was worth something more than a million dollars.

KEEP UP WAR ON FLY.

JUST as we show signs of losing interest in the typhoid fly—there being but little typhoid to carry—we begin acquiring an interest in the anemia fly, and they are one and the same! We have merely discovered a new talent for our old enemy, the house fly.

Dr. E. M. Smith of Florida supplies proof that the house fly sometimes causes people to have anemia. Just how often the anemia develops and just how severe it is remains to be determined. This is the method of operation. Nearly every one manages to eat a certain number of fly eggs during the season. They are found especially on fruits and vegetables, but they may be discovered, if searched for, wherever flies have been.

The fly ranks with the crow bird and the duck in carelessness in dropping eggs around. Whenever foods are eaten raw hatchable fly eggs are liable to be swallowed. If they get through the stomach they are liable to hatch in the digestive tract. Some of those that hatch adapt themselves to the conditions of living in some stretch of the digestive tract and continue there for a time. There is no tendency for the larvæ to change to pupæ, and this prolongs the period of life in the digestive tract.

The larva has the power of drawing blood from the walls of the tract. The continued abstraction of blood causes a secondary anemia. As a rule a single dose of oil of chenopodium, or worm medicine, followed by a saline, will get rid of the offenders. Rarely is a second treatment required. However, so long as there is a combination of flies, raw food, and indifferent people there is liable to be reinfestation.

Chenopodium is the common worm seed which grows widely in America, and which has been in use always as a worm medicine. It is the best worm medicine against round worms. While ordinarily safe—as safe as any worm medicine—it is not foolproof. No worm medicine is.

The time has not come to stop warring on flies.

SORE SPOTS ON HANDS.

Mrs. A. H. writes: A few days ago I noticed a question asked about how to cure sore spots on the hands and between the fingers. My granddaughter had that trouble off and on for twelve years before we found a cure. Violet ray healed them up at once. I was so glad to find a cure that I want every one who has the trouble to know about it.

REPLY:

Physicians are finding exposure to ultra-violet light curative for more than one skin trouble.

CAUSE OF SHINGLES.

Mrs. A. D. B. writes: What causes shingles and what is the cure for it?

REPLY.

Shingle is a form of herpes. It is due to an infection of the nerve roots. Nature cures it. Since it is somewhat related to rheumatism, the salicylates ease the pain and ointments protect the ulcers.

IT ALL DEPENDS.

Mrs. G. B. writes:

Which is better to give my three children—cod liver oil or viosterol? Why?

REPLY.

Something depends on what your objective is. Viosterol is very much richer in vitamin D. Cod liver oil has some properties that viosterol has not. Since these are given for rickets viosterol is probably the better in most cases.

IMPROVEMENTS BY LESSEE.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—We signed a lease on a house for two years. 1. It stated the heating plant must be in good condition. Found that the furnace was in need of repairs, but all the landlord did was to put in a new grate. When cold weather came we had an official of the fire department examine the furnace, who gave us a written statement that it was unsafe and worn out. 2. We assumed the responsibility of putting in a new furnace and paid for it. We expect to move the first of May. 3 Does the furnace now belong to us? 4. We also brought a kitchen range with us and had it connected when we moved in. 5. Can we have the old furnace connected as we found it and remove the new furnace when we leave?

K. K.

1. Obviously, we cannot construe this wording to advantage without having the lease before us.

2. You should have notified the landlord in advance that you would hold him liable for cost; but even in absence of this your chances would seem good enough to warrant placing the claim in the hands of an attorney.

3. It seems probable that it is so attached to the real estate that you would not be entitled to take it out.

4. Depends on the method of attachment.

5. It would seem better sense to endeavor to collect the cost.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

BAD PAVEMENT.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—[Friend of the People.]—The paving in the 2300 block of 110th street is in a dangerous condition due to the use thereon by heavily loaded material trucks hauling construction materials. It has been the cause of much damage to cars which of necessity must use this street. What legal method should the property owners take to remedy this? On completion of the school building will the contractor be obliged to put the paving back into its original condition? H. P. M.

This office is advised that the brick pavement referred to was laid prior to the annexation of Morgan Park to the city of Chicago and it was built without a concrete base. Our engineer reports that 70 per cent of the pavement has been entirely destroyed. In view of the fact that vehicular traffic has a legal right to use all public streets, such streets should have a permanent pavement that will withstand present day traffic requirements. JOSEPH J. BUTLER, Superintendent of Streets.

TRUANTS PLAY GOLF.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Can a suit be brought against a miniature golf course for letting school children play golf free during school hours. The children stay away to play. J. M. K.

Not on the bare facts stated. It would seem more logical to ask the truant officers to follow up the children.

The Russian engineers who are on trial in Moscow confess they got a bribe of twenty-five thousand bucks a year from American firms. Shame on those American firms. They've been holding out on the poor unsuspecting Soviets. Why, over here twenty-five grand wouldn't bribe a police sergeant for New Year's eve, let alone the whole year. You couldn't look at a New York magistrate's chair for that piddlin' sum, and there isn't any racket we've got that would even start if that were all the money they could expect. And as for alky cooking and rum running and the other professions connected with these two basic industries, twenty-five thousand a year wouldn't keep a bootlegger's woman in perfumery. Twenty-five grand for a bribe. Why, offer that to any of our big gangsters and they'd twist the bills up and light their cigars with 'em. Oh, the poor Soviets—they're getting civilized, but they've got such a long way to go.

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 4, 1914.

CHICAGO.—"The Betrayal of Chicago at the Hands of Her Police," is the title of 60 closely written typewritten pages resting in the safe of State's Attorney Maclay Hoyne. It is the confession of the "king of swindlers," Frank Ryan, alias "Prof. Robert L. Milton." He told his story of crime and corruption in Capt. Halpin's detective bureau to the grand jury. He confessed and testified to the payment of thousands of dollars in protection money to members of the police department.

LONDON. — Another desperate attempt of the Germans to break through the allies' lines from Dixmude to Ypres has failed. The Germans, heavily reinforced, attempted to cross the flooded waters of the Yser on rafts just before dawn. They were discovered and at daybreak the artillery of the allies met the advancing Germans with devastating effect.

PETROGRAD. — Gen. von Hindenburg is striving his utmost to retrieve the situation for the Germans in Russian Poland by greatly strengthening his forces. It is believed that six corps, aggregating 200,000 men, have been thrown into the fifty mile gap from Sieradz downward towards Czenstochowa. In this region the Russians are reported to have the advantage. In the south the Russians are within cannon range of Cracow, and are mounting heavy guns to bombard the Austrian fortress.

CHICAGO.—Manager Joe Tinker of the Chifeds landed the biggest fish yet drawn in a Federal league net out of organized baseball yesterday when he signed Walter Johnson, former leading pitcher of the American league, to a two year contract.

NEW YORK. — David Lamar, the "wolf of Wall street," was found guilty by a jury of impersonating Representative A. Mitchell Palmer with intent to defraud J. P. Morgan & Co. and the United States Steel corporation. He was sentenced to two years in the federal prison at Atlanta.

DECEMBER 4, 1900.

CHICAGO.—The explosion of a boiler in the lighting and heating plant of the Chicago and North Western railroad at Kinzie and Kingsbury streets yesterday afternoon resulted in the death of five persons and the injury of sixteen others. The accident caused a property loss of $45,000 to the railroad and temporarily deranged its passenger traffic. The ten ton boiler, one of four in the building, was precipitated through the south wall, killing three section men, striking an outgoing passenger train and crashing through one of the parlor cars.

CHICAGO.—The "old school" aldermen fought to save their seats and their wards last night at the meeting of the city council, and at the close of a disorderly session they had defeated the redistricting ordinance by the close vote of 34 to 33.

50 YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 4, 1880.

WASHINGTON.—President Hayes' message has been completed and copies mailed out for release to the press on Dec. 6. In it the President reviews his entire administration. Among other things he renews his recommendations on the subject of polygamy. He considers that a practice which is condemned by the laws of the civilized world should not be tolerated in the United States.

OSHKOSH, Wis. — Fire destroyed the Beckwith house, the only first class hotel in the city. Mrs. Paige, wife of the Hon. S. B. Paige, wealthy retired lumberman, was burned to death in her room on the fourth floor.

ELGIN, Ill. — The Rev. Roswell L. Snow, a Congregational minister, and a resident here for upward of 40 years, died at the age of 70.

CHICAGO.—The Rev. Dr. William H. Ryder, on his return from New York, said he has not made up his mind whether he will accept the call to Dr. Chapin's church in that city.

NEW YORK. — Edward Langtry, husband of Lily Langtry, has arrived in New York on business. He says he will come over on pleasure next year and bring the Jersey beauty with him.

TWO BIG JOBS.

Prairie du Chien, Wis., Nov. 22.—Granting that all the ways and means suggested in which odd jobs, charity football games, buying by the public, and so forth, are featured in relieving the distress caused by unemployment, it occurs to many that, after all, these methods are but puny in their effect. Why not go at the problem fundamentally and actually provide work?

Suggestions as to what might and can be done are: First, abolish grade crossings of all steam and electric railways in the United States by either elevation of the tracks or by subways. The need for this improvement is a pressing one and will leave the country and its highways in untold better shape than they are now in.

Second, all high tension wires and the more important telegraph and telephone wires to be put in underground conduits. This is a very desirable work and will be of great benefit to the country at large and to the motorists on the highways. It will not only abolish the menace of the overhead wire but will do away with all poles on highways, which in themselves are unsightly and a not inconsiderable menace to the user of highways. F. J. A., M. D.

GERMANY THE KEYSTONE.

New York, Nov. 24.—The former president of the Reichsbank declares that prosperity can never return to the world until the German debts be remitted and a moratorium be granted. Otherwise, Schacht thinks, "world revolution" is bound to come, because the reich, with her millions of unemployed, simply cannot go on paying the unjust reparations.

In the remarkable interview published in today's papers Stalin answered the United Press staff correspondent: "Prospects are good for a world revolution!" Stalin's last published utterance was: "To expect that the German proletariat will give the United States bourgeois rulers 500 million dollars a year for sixty years is to expect a miracle, and we bolshiks do not believe in miracles!" There is an ominous parallelism between the reasonings of Stalin and Schacht. Will the reich and Russia go together in the years to come or drift asunder? Only Wall street can decide that momentous question.

A MONUMENTAL IDEA.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Before the controversy over the proposed doughboy monument reaches the proportions of a civil war, allow me to suggest a compromise: Why not erect it on the lower level of Wacker drive? In this location it would offend only the cultural sensibilities of the teamsters, truck drivers, and operators of Model T's. As a further suggestion have a tool shanty in the base of this monument, with a door salvaged from a French farmhouse, in order that toil worn descendants of the Cæsars whose mission is to "help keep the city clean" may store their manicuring sets preparatory to "plodding their weary way o'er moor and lea."

A platform should be attached to the monument, from which prominent Legionnaires could exhort destitute, homeless ex-service men, guests of the Hoover hotel, to wait until 1945 for their adjusted compensation.

LEGIONNAIRE.

CIVIL LIBERTIES.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—In view of the fragmentary publicity recently given to meetings participated in by the Chicago Civil Liberties committee in Chicago and suburbs during the last week, I should appreciate the courtesy of your columns for the purpose of setting forth briefly and accurately the principles of the committee.

The committee itself represents many divergent viewpoints on economic and social issues. Among its sixty members are to be found outstanding civic leaders of many different groups and organizations in the community. The committee is not opposed on principle to including among its members representatives of either communists or Fascists, but, so far as my present knowledge as president goes, no one of its present members is properly included in these categories. The committee will be as ready to defend the civil rights of our incipient Fascists, if they should at any time be challenged, as it has found it necessary during recent months to defend the legal rights of communists. In defending the civil rights of either group the committee expresses no approval or disapproval of the views or policies of these groups, and any confusion between the defense of civil liberties and the particular views for which such rights provide a constitutional vehicle of expression is unfair to the committee, its officers, and its membership.

On behalf of the committee I should also like to take this occasion to express publicly my appreciation of the improved attitude shown in recent months by the present law enforcing authorities of the city of Chicago and of Cook county and for their coöperation in defending the civil liberties of groups with which they themselves in large part disagree. In my opinion no better proof can be given than this of a genuine belief in Americanism and in our historic institutions, and of a sincere desire to defend such institutions against attack from whatever quarter.

ARTHUR FISHER,
President Chicago Civil Liberties Committee.

CIVIL SERVICE.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—In June, 1929, there was what was supposed to be a civil service examination for junior clerks for the city hall. I with hundreds of others took it. Now eighteen months have gone by and no list has been posted. Can it be possible that during all that time there were no vacancies in that branch of the service to be filled?

Now that the present grand jury is investigating some city departments, why not turn the spotlights on the civil service department, too? A. W.

SPARROWS.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—Now that winter is here and the ground is likely to be covered with snow let us not forget our little feathered friends, the sparrows. Prof. A. G. Ruggles, Minnesota agricultural college entomologist, says: "When the English sparrows bring to their nests 500 destructive caterpillars in one day, as one pair did, they are entitled to consideration as a most useful bird. The birds frequently consume insect eggs equivalent to one-half of their own weight." Then, too, they are the only birds that stay with us the year round.

ONE of the unique values enjoyed by advertisers in THE SATURDAY EVENING POST is observable every Thursday all about you.

Just watch the buyer of this magazine as he opens it to his gaze.

Time after time you will see him leaf through its pages starting at the back cover and coming forward.

This simply means that as banner-carrier to American business The Post's advertising pages compete successfully with its editorial pages in reader attention.

THE inexperienced sometimes feel that an advertisement in a lean publication has a special advantage in visibility.

What of it?—Marshall Field's store set out in a vacant prairie might be more conspicuous but it certainly would be less successful.

The aim of the mature advertiser is not to snare his reader, but to inform him; in The Post he gets plus visibility because he gets plus interest.

Buyers come to the market; business goes where business is.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST reaches the most intelligent and progressive audience in America—that hub three-million-strong which turns the taste, thinking, buying of the other millions in this land.

It is big in circulation because it is big in character; it is big in advertising because it is big in rewards!

Herman Trelle Wins His Third Championship.

BY PAUL POTTER.

From up in the windblown northern prairies of Canada came Herman Trelle, a wheat grower, to be crowned wheat champion in yesterday's grain judging at the International Live Stock show.

Grown 1,200 miles north of Chicago, Trelle's sample of hard red spring wheat that weighed 63.5 pounds to the bushel gave Canada its sixth wheat king and Trelle his third championship in this supreme court of grain exhibitions. Trelle, who is from Wembley, Alberta, also won highest honors with his sample of field peas. George Avery of Kelso, Sask., was made reserve champion on a selection of durum wheat, the kind that's made into macaroni and spaghetti.

Own Oats Strain Wins.

Another exhibitor to enter the agrarian hall of fame yesterday was L. E. Peterson of Victor, Mont., who wrested from his neighbor, C. I. Gustafson, the grand championship in oats. Gustafson's victory strain had won twice previously, until Peterson brought in a strain he had bred and developed himself.

Ribbon decked beauties of the animal kingdom continued their march before the judges yesterday, with farmers from the middle west winning most of the high awards. Walter Mommsen, Miles, Ia., farm lad, won the junior live stock feeding contest.

H. J. Fluck of Goodenow, Ill., exhibited the grand champion Hereford bull.

Frank Harding, executive secretary of the Shorthorn Breeders' association, informed R. W. Dunlap, assistant secretary of agriculture, that his breed was better represented in Chicago this week than at any previous exposition, in both numbers and quality.

Governor Is Guest.

Gov. L. L. Emmerson was a guest during the afternoon horse show. The 1,200 4-H club boys and girls visiting Chicago this week, attended the performance in a body.

At 9 o'clock this morning the grand champion steer of the international, "Jimmy," a fat little coal black Aberdeen Angus, will be auctioned to the highest bidder. He is owned by J. F. McKenny of King City, Mo., and was declared yesterday by the committee of judges from Scotland to be the finest steer an international show has ever seen.

Competing against eight universities and colleges, a team of University of Missouri students yesterday won the intercollegiate meat judging contest. Through this victory, Missouri for the first time came into possession of the National Live Stock and Meat board trophy, previously held by Iowa and Pennsylvania.

An attractive co-ed, Miss Eva Buel, of the Nebraska team, won individual honors, scoring 797 of a possible 900 points.

HORSE SHOW RESULTS

Following are the results of last night's horse show, giving the name of the entry and the exhibitor:

RECORD CROWD GOES TO POULTRY EXHIBIT ON THE OPENING DAY

The annual poultry show opened in the Coliseum yesterday with a record first day crowd. More than 4,000 birds are on exhibition, as well as rabbits, foxes and mink. There was an exhibit of caracul sheep, whose lambs provide the crinkly wool demanded for fashionable coats.

Never to be exhibited again, according to their owner, are five white leghorn hens which recently won the Illinois state egg laying contest with an average individual record of 320.2 eggs for a year. The hens are the property of Prof. E. H. Rucker of Ottumwa, Ia., and are said to have set an official world's record for a pen of hens.

Gov. Emmerson of Illinois yesterday complimented the show management. He was the chief guest at a noon luncheon where no products but those of the poultry farm were admitted to the table. The Emmerson cup will be awarded to the champion fowl of the show when judges have completed their work.

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

To end a stubborn cough quickly, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germ-laden phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in the obstinate bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

DROUGHT WORST ON RECORD, HYDE SAYS IN REPORT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—The 1930 drought was the worst ever recorded in this country and "greatly reduced farm production," Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde declared today in his annual report to the President and congress.

Tallying up the results of the long arid spell, the report revealed the heavy inroads it made into virtually all of the major farm commodities, except wheat, over a large area of the country, and warned that the effects still are to be in some sections during the winter.

Thirty States Hard Hit.

"About thirty states, including all of those in the great central area, extending from Virginia to Montana and from Pennsylvania to Texas, were hard hit," Secretary Hyde stated. "In many localities farmers have little to sell and will be obliged to practice strict economy in their live stock feeding. In some parts of the country thousands of farm families will suffer privations.

"Unhappily, moreover, the cut in farm production coincided with a sharp decline in the demand for farm commodities, and consequently in the farm commodity price level. Only in the case of a few commodities was the drop in production partly compensated by a rise in prices."

The southern third of Illinois and Indiana was included in the worst drought area, according to the report, while northern Illinois and Indiana, Michigan, and most of Iowa suffered somewhat. Wisconsin escaped the drought almost altogether.

Production Figures Compared.

The wheat crop totaled 840,000,000 bushels, as compared with 806,000,000 in 1929; total production of corn, oats, barley, and grain sorghums was estimated at 90,000,000 tons, as compared with 103,000,000 tons in 1929.

"Corn production is estimated at 2,047,000,000 bushels, or 22 per cent less than the production in 1929," said the report.

The Wheat Situation.

Discussing the wheat situation, Secretary Hyde said that income from this year's wheat crop is likely to be considerably below that received from the previous crop, as prices have declined to the lowest level since 1901 and 1902.

"The carry-over of wheat has increased each season since 1926," the report continued. "The carry-over in the United States on July 1, 1930, amounted to 275,000,000 bushels, as compared with 247,000,000 on July 1, 1929.

"The world stock as of July 1, though very large, was not quite as large as at the beginning of the previous season. The world wheat crop will amount to about 3,650,000,000 bushels—about 160,000,000 bushels more than in 1929, but 320,000,000 bushels less than in 1928."

4-H CLUB PRIZES WILL MARK 100 YEARS OF REAPER

The centenary of the invention of the first grain reaped is to be recognized by the International Harvester company in presenting scholarships of $500 each to the 100 outstanding farm boys and girls in 4-H clubs during 1931.

This announcement was made yesterday at a luncheon given the youthful delegates to the club congress at the harvester company's works, by Cyrus McCormick Jr., a descendant of the inventor. The 4-H club members will be judged on their accomplishments for the advancement of agriculture.

The scholarships are to be distributed so that 10 are placed in eastern states, 35 in the southern states, 40 in midwest states, and 15 in the far west. The youngsters visiting the harvester works heard an address urging cooperative marketing by Alexander Legge, chairman of the farm board and ex-president of the company.

BIGGER AND BETTER

THE GREAT AMERICAN VALUE

Fine-car distinction and quality in the new Chevrolet Six

CHEVROLET

Again, Chevrolet and General Motors have utilized their combined resources to establish a new and higher standard of value for the American motor car.

A new six-cylinder Chevrolet is now on display, offering fine-car distinction and quality certain to appeal to every discriminating buyer. For the new Chevrolet represents a type of economical transportation that America has long anticipated—a low-priced six styled with such striking talent and good taste, so smartly beautiful and complete in its perfection of detail, so advanced and refined mechanically that you will immediately recognize it as the Great American Value.

Front view of the new Chevrolet Sport Coupe

This great value is the outcome of four basic advantages which the Chevrolet Motor Co. enjoys: (1) The savings of volume production in nineteen great plants which are models of completeness and efficiency. (2) The economies which result when raw materials are purchased in vast quantities. (3) The benefits of continuous research in General Motors laboratories and on the General Motors Proving Ground. And (4) the close association with the Fisher Body Corporation who, this year, have surpassed all their previous achievements in fine coachcraft by developing bodies of outstanding quality, refinement and value.

These basic advantages have made it possible to build a finer car at lower cost. They have enabled Chevrolet to offer important improvements throughout the new Chevrolet Six—to give it a longer wheelbase—greater roominess and comfort—strikingly smarter style—impressive new luxury—more thoroughly satisfactory performance—greater dependability. And—of great importance to hundreds of thousands of future buyers—these savings of efficient manufacturing are being passed on to the buyer in the form of lower prices!

» » AT NEW LOW PRICES « «

Read over these new low prices. Know how very little it costs to own the Bigger and Better Chevrolet Six. Come in today and give this new automobile a thorough inspection. Study the many refinements and new appointments introduced in the distinctive bodies by Fisher. Ride in the car. Drive it! A few minutes' experience will convince you that the new Chevrolet Six is a new and finer type of economical transportation—a quality automobile that you will surely want to own.

OPEN CONTEST ON WILL GIVING 3 NURSES RICHES

Kin Contend Dr. Thomas Was Incompetent.

The contest over the will of Dr. Rosse Merrick Thomas, for many years professor at Rush Medical college, who died in December, 1928, leaving the bulk of the income of his $50,000 estate to three nurses, was begun yesterday before Circuit Judge Michael Feinberg. The contestants are a son, Lester C. Thomas of Denver, and a granddaughter, Phoebe Ann Delaney of Chicago.

Yesterday's hearing was devoted largely to the selection of a jury. Attorneys representing the litigants expect that the trial will require many days, as scores of witnesses are to be placed on the stand to tell about the eccentric physician.

The contestants, according to Attorney Francis X. Busch, will contend that Dr. Thomas was incompetent at the time the will was drawn, nine months before his death. The suit is directed against the Continental Illinois bank, as trustee of the estate, and other institutions.

Income to Three Nurses.

Under Dr. Thomas' will his son is to receive the income from $15,000, while the granddaughter will receive the income from $5,000. The income from the remainder of the estate is willed to Miss Eliza Lockwood, Miss Mary Homan, and Miss Sue Randall, all nurses, "for the valuable services rendered by them in their professional capacity." They are to make written application, which is to be considered sufficient evidence of sums needed.

Attorneys have located Miss Lockwood and Miss Homan. The third, Miss Randall, is dead. Under the will the other nurses are to receive help on the recommendation of the Young Women's Christian association and the Illinois Training School for Nurses.

All payments are to be made in checks designed by Dr. Thomas, which bear an engraving of Dr. Thomas and his mother, Mrs. Emeline Thomas. Inasmuch as the petition to contest the will was filed shortly after the will was admitted, none of the money has been paid out to the nurses.

Depositions Filed in Court.

Attorneys for both sides filed depositions with Judge Feinberg yesterday. One of these was taken from Miss Hallie A. Hall, another nurse, who attended Dr. Thomas shortly before his death. In it Miss Hall describes Dr. Thomas as "eccentric, perverted, and addicted to the use of drugs."

The physician would generally cook his own meals in his room at the Edgewater Beach hotel, Miss Hall says, and was often censored by the manager of the hotel. Among the nurses associated with the physician, his hotel room was known as "Dr. Thomas' light housekeeping suite," Miss Hall says.

She declares that the physician frequently mentioned his son and said that he intended leaving him his entire estate. She says he often remarked that "the lonesome widows at the hotel wanted him."

Body Drifts Ashore Amid Wreckage; Fear Ship Lost

YARMOUTH, N. S., Dec. 3.—(AP)—A body attached to wreckage drifted ashore at Yarmouth Cape today and was believed to indicate the loss with all hands of the motorship Linton, 391 ton pulp carrier. The Linton sailed from Yarmouth for Selmah at midnight in the teeth of a northwest gale. Normally she carried a crew of ten.

MADRID, Dec. 3.—(AP)—A newspaper reporter resigned his job today and then, armed with a pistol, went to the office of Premier Berenguer and fired a shot over the premier's head.

The reporter, Joaquin Llizo, denied he had intended to shoot the premier, declaring he wanted only to shoot at him as a protest against conditions in Spain.

His pistol jammed after the first shot and he was seized by the premier's brother, Luis.

Berenguer, who had been about to hold a conference with assembled newspaper men, walked up to Llizo with perfect coolness and said: "Well, why did you that?"

"I came here," replied Llizo, "to make a bloodless but energetic protest against the social régime represented by your government."

At police headquarters, Llizo, in a statement to Chief Mola, said:

"My act was a protest against the political and social conditions which exist at present in Spain and which, if continued, will carry Spain to chaos. Everything goes bad in Spain. I did not care to kill Berenguer as my philosophy causes me to oppose killing.

"I also did not care to kill because I entered the building as a newspaper reporter and would not want to cast shame upon my brethren of the press. It was for the purpose of preventing reporters as a class from being subjected to humiliation that I resigned this morning from El Sol and thus was not a reporter when I shot.

"I alone am personally responsible with no confidants or accomplices."

Deaf Hear Again Through New Aid

Earpiece No Bigger Than Dime Wins Enthusiastic Following Ten-Day Free Trial Offer

After twenty-five years devoted exclusively to the manufacture of scientific hearing aids, the Dictograph Products Co., Inc., Dept. 509M, 180 North Michigan Blvd., Chicago, Ill., has just perfected a new model Acousticon that represents the greatest advance yet made in the re-creation of hearing for the deaf. This latest Acousticon is featured by a tiny earpiece no bigger than a dime. Through this device, sounds are clearly and distinctly transmitted to subnormal ears with wonderful benefit to hearing and health alike. The makers offer an absolutely free trial for 10 days to any person who may be interested, and a letter will bring one of these remarkable aids to your home for a thorough and convincing test. They will send you as well details of their special Christmas offer, which represents a saving of $10 in the cost of your renewed hearing. This offer expires December 24th. So clip this advertisement and send it to them with your name and address today! Advt.

SUPER-HETERODYNE

GENUINE RCA LICENSED

AT LESS THAN 1/2 THE FORMER PRICE

9 Tube, 10 Circuit, Screen Grid Radios

WHY Super-Heterodyne?

The present Radio wave length allocation is such that many stations are crowded into one small band. On your Radio dial you cannot separate them, therefore, you are obliged to be content with local and nearby stations. SUPER-HETERODYNE is the only Radio that can tune out local stations by turning the dial a fraction of a band, and is sensitive enough to powerfully reproduce distant stations so tuned in. Hitherto, a good SUPER-HETERODYNE was too costly a thing for most of us. They sold formerly from $300 to $600. Just imagine getting one at only $77.

Pay Only $2 a Week

We are all excited about this wonderful sale . . . and for a mighty good reason! NEVER BEFORE has a Radio set of this caliber been offered at anywhere near this low price. NEVER BEFORE has an all-electric Super-Heterodyne . . . the most wanted of Radios . . . been sold at $77.00, complete. Why it is actually less than you would pay for an ordinary Radio. That's the story of this sale in brief, for here is YOUR OPPORTUNITY to own a startling performer . . . the Radio that will change all your ideas of broadcast reception. Extra salesmen and additional service facilities will insure prompt installation for you. Act at once! Come tonight if you can.

came to with his feet up in the mainsail. But he still clung to the wheel. When he came down he landed on his knees.

"I jumped to the wheel with him and steered by the wind. Then we took in the staysail before it could be carried away and scudded under bare poles for eighteen hours.

"With the wind was a driving rain. We donned our oilskins, and from then on slept in them."

Then the next blow came. It was a northeaster. Shamrock was turned to run dead before it.

Men Lashed to Wheel.

It was eighteen hours under bare poles—two men lashed to the wheel, and the rest huddled below, gulping canned goods and apples.

By that time all aboard were getting weak from lack of food and loss of sleep. Water was dripping through the deck almost everywhere. There were pipe bunks forward, with sides a foot high, but the men were hurled out of them as fast as they dozed off in them, or sometimes as soon as they stretched out.

Finally they took to the sail bin amidships. It had a side two and one-half feet high. Several packed in there at a time with the spare sails, winding their feet and arms around each other until they were in a knot, and could stay in.

The men were shaken around like beads in a rattle. They were cut and bruised. Capt. Johnson dressed wounds and was dubbed "the doctor." There wasn't a whimper out of one of those men, he said.

Sew Up Wind Torn Sails.

While the yacht scudded through the night under bare poles, men sat on deck with lanterns, while others sewed the canvas where it had chafed. One man held another while he sewed.

Men were washed around on deck in constant peril of being swept overboard. Andrew Anderson was washed from the wheel, but caught in the mainsheet. The same sea hurled a man into the wheel and he grabbed it, saving the yacht as well as himself.

In mid-Atlantic, on the seventh day out, a southwest gale came up. All felt then it was a case of getting to England; that drowning was better than starving, anyway. Shamrock was driven before it. She made 309 miles in 23½ hours.

Bishop's rock was sighted and the battered yacht made Southampton in 19 days and 8 hours.

SAYS LENHARDT'S MOTHER FRAMED JAIL BREAK PLOT

Howard Saske testified yesterday in Judge Sabath's Criminal court that Mrs. Julia Glovka, mother of William Lenhardt, condemned slayer, was the brains of the plot to free Lenhardt. The plot was frustrated through a confession by Frank Bell, who is also under death sentence. Saske testified that Mrs. Glovka furnished him with the revolver, which was smuggled to Lenhardt.

The testimony of the two condemned murderers will be pitted against each other, it was disclosed yesterday when attorneys made their opening statements. Bell will testify for the state and Lenhardt will try to relieve his mother and her two co-defendants from liability for his attempt to escape.

Joseph Connior, 62 years old, former jail guard, and James McNeill, colored prisoner, are other defendants.

LAWYER REVEALS BROKERS' WOES IN THREE STATES

Delve Into Affairs of Concern.

Robert S. Strauss & Co., investment brokers of 105 West Monroe street, were in difficulties with the authorities of three states before involuntary proceedings in bankruptcy were begun in Chicago charging liabilities of $2,500,000 with virtually no assets.

This was admitted at a hearing before Referee Garfield Charles last evening by Robert E. Hogan, a former assistant state's attorney, who was general counsel for the concern. Questioning of Hogan disclosed that Robert S. Strauss, no longer connected with the company, and Albert W. Cohn, president, who has been missing since the bankruptcy petition was filed, were indicted and fined in Texas in 1923 on charges of using the mails to defraud.

In Trouble in Iowa.

Hogan said the company was in difficulty in Iowa in 1929 over alleged violation of the blue sky laws, but that he compromised with the investors, paying out between $30,000 and $40,000 and forestalled threatened indictments.

Further trouble arose in New York state, Hogan said, and he affected the same compromises.

"So you call yourself an antidote for indictments?" asked Attorney Michael Gesas, representing Sam Howard, receiver for the company.

"No, I call myself a chump," replied Hogan.

Asked to Explain Loss.

Attorneys Gesas and Louis Cohen demanded that the witness return $83,000 in securities which they charged belong to the company. He replied that he owned the securities. Then he was shown a financial statement of the company, issued at the time of the Iowa trouble, which declared assets of $4,272,235 and a net worth of $2,884,119. He was asked to explain how, with a net worth of nearly $3,000,000 at that time there now are liabilities of $2,500,000 and negligible assets. Referee Charles adjourned the hearing until today before the question was answered.

The investment concern is alleged to have swindled thousands of investors throughout the middle west out of small amounts by inducing them to exchange first mortgage real estate bonds for worthless "gold notes" of the company. The company also is said to have sold $1,000,000 worth of its preferred stock without authorization of the secretary of state. This stock is worthless, according to Mr. Howard.

Pleasant New Way To End Nasal CATARRH

30 DAYS FREE TRIAL

Tells The World His New Discovery Opens Up Catarrh Stuffed Nostrils In 3 Minutes.

Is That Good News?

Ask Any Walgreen or Economical Drug Store

Catarrh is a disease that causes no end of annoyance and humiliation and is a condition that all clean people detest.

A few years ago Catarrh was considered incurable, because no one was clever enough to get together a formula that would spread over the membranes of the nasal tract a cleansing substance that would keep them free from vile mucus.

But Opex changed all that and now all you have to do is to spray on Opex and faithfully treat the cause of Catarrh.

When you spray Opex you can send the healing, purifying vapor from one nostril thru the other (see picture) or from either nostril to the bottom of the lungs and out thru the mouth—You can actually see the steam-like smoke coming from nostrils and mouth.

That's the way to get after Catarrh and to lessen those annoying, ringing, buzzing noises in the ears when caused by Catarrh.

The price of a bottle of Opex that will last two months is $1.00—it's easily worth one hundred dollars to any man or woman who wants clean nostrils free from disgusting mucus.

And remember this: the toughest old head colds are knocked out in a few hours with Opex.

Bear this in mind also, for it will be joyful news to millions. After you spray Opex for two or three weeks there won't be any lump of mucus in your throat to hawk up every morning—what a blessing.

Opex is sold in this city by all Walgreen Drug Stores with the distinct understanding that if you are not satisfied at the end of thirty days your money will be gladly returned. Opex is delightful to use because of its wholesome fragrance. You can spray that irritated throat with Opex.

When the League Court Protocol Comes Out, Kill It!

Viewed from the standpoint of national need, the President's decision to send the Root protocol to the Senate is unfortunate. The country had hoped to avoid an extra session of Congress. It expected that the short session begun today would be devoted to the necessary appropriation bills. No legislation beyond that needed to accelerate public works will aid employment. With an extra session avoided, the business of the country could proceed without undue worry to regain its feet. Men so conservative as LONGWORTH and SNELL showed willingness even to accede to a vote on Muscle Shoals in the short session if that would protect business from the peril of an extra session.

President HOOVER's action appears to make it sure that the Seventy-second Congress will have to be called together in March as soon as the Seventy-first Congress has expired. Senator BORAH, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, welcomes the President's decision. He is not inclined to sidetrack the protocol. Disregarding Mr. HOOVER'S implied suggestion that the matter should not be "brought up in the press of other business," Senator BORAH voices bluntly his assumption that the protocol would not be sent to the Senate "if it was not the desire to have it disposed of as soon as practicable." That is logical.

If the President had desired to make certain that the League Court issue could not clog the important business of the lame duck session it was easy to keep the papers in their pigeonhole for a year or even longer. He has chosen to do otherwise. He has chosen to let the Senate devote the precious days of the short session—three months that include the Christmas holidays—to discussion of the Root protocol. The advocates of an extra session, no matter what their opinion of the protocol, hail his action gladly.

Such is the dark side of the picture. Let us find the brighter one. Soon or late the protocol had to come to a vote in the Senate. It has been like a dangerous animal hibernating. The temptation has been to let it sleep, perhaps to let it die of inanition. Now that it is to be pitchforked into the open, the opportunity is at hand to kill it. Whatever delays may result from its unexpected entrance on the legislative scene, whatever temporary harm or anxiety it may bring to business, at least there will be a sigh of relief if it is disposed of forever by the simple process of annihilation. If it be done quickly, then what appears now to be an unwise movement by President HOOVER may be regarded in future as a stroke of political genius.

There should be no question as to the fate of the protocol in the Senate. Accepting it would mean that the Senate was eating its own words. It was after deliberate consideration and long debate that the Senate drew Reservation No. 5 and attached it to the resolution which consented to adherence to the statute for the League Court. This reservation read:

> "That the court shall not render any advisory opinion except publicly after due notice to all States adhering to the court and to all interested States and after public hearing or opportunity for hearing given to any State concerned; nor shall it, without the consent of the United States, entertain any request for an advisory opinion touching any dispute or question in which the United States has or claims an interest."

Let us say in passing that adherence to the League Court under any circumstances would be a dangerous adventure. A nationwide referendum on that question probably would show that the people of the United States are as strongly opposed to joining the court as they are to joining the League itself—and the country had a "great and solemn referendum" on that question. But the propagandists were at work and the Senate became temporarily infected with the belief of the internationalists and idealists that the court was a palace in which the Princess of Peace lay sleeping, not to awaken until Uncle Sam's arrival. Hence the vote, nearly five years ago, to adhere to the court with reservations, the most important of which is quoted above.

The European statesmen who run the League of Nations declined to accept the terms of the Senate. When that was announced President COOLIDGE said:

> "I do not intend to ask the Senate to modify its position. . . . Unless the requirements of the Senate resolution [the reservations] are met by the other interested nations I can see no prospect of this country adhering to the court."

Among the people the verdict was the same. It was generally believed that the case was ended and sealed. But the propagandists were not so easily beaten. With the blessing of the internationalists and the idealists the Hon. ELIHU ROOT went to Europe to effect a compromise. He carried with him a formula of his own, but it fell before the swords of the diplomatists at Geneva. Whatever effort it made to retain the force of Reservation No. 5 was eliminated by that astute British diplomat Sir CECIL HURST. Whether it was Sir CECIL who wrote the protocol which Mr. ROOT brought back, or Mr. ROOT himself, or these two eminent gentlemen in concert, the protocol emasculated the reservation. It did not—it does not—permit the United States to prohibit the submission to the court, for an advisory opinion, of a question in which we assert we have an interest. We may object, but if we insist upon our objection we must get out of the court. Such withdrawal, says the Root-Hurst protocol, drawn at Geneva for acceptance by the Senate in Washington, "will follow naturally without any imputation of unfriendliness or unwillingness to cooperate generally for peace and good will." Never had words more sugar on the surface or more gall underneath. If we should object to the submission to the court of a request, put forward by another Power, for an advisory opinion on the right of the United States to limit or forbid immigration on the ground of color, the only certain weight behind our objection, under the Root-Hurst protocol, would be a single vote. If we did not yield, if we continued to object, "the exercise of the powers of withdrawal provided for in Article 8 hereof will follow naturally," &c. After that would come the storm of criticism, the accusation of selfishness, the deepening of hatreds which we have tried to dispel.

Considering these things, it is little wonder that the Root protocol has stayed in its pigeonhole for nearly two years. Its explosive possibilities are realized by most thinking Americans. As GEORGE WHARTON PEPPER said of it, it is "an arrangement which substitutes the remedy of withdrawal from the court after the mischief has been done for the salutary provision which prevents the mischief from arising." Some advocates of adherence to the court accepted it: they would accept almost anything to get us in. For most of these supporters are also advocates of American entrance into the League of Nations. As Colonel HOUSE said when the Senate passed the resolution with reservations, "it means that we have entered something like the League of Nations." We had not quite entered, for Europe refused our terms. Reservation No. 5 was the only thing that saved us from being ushered into the rear vestibule of the League of Nations. It was the only thing that prevented the United States from being entangled in the mesh of European political conflict. And now the Senate has to decide whether it shall comply with the desires of Europe, as expressed in the Root-Hurst compact at Geneva, or with the wishes of the American people.

Over and beyond the point directly at issue—the acceptance or rejection of the European substitute for Reservation No. 5—is the larger issue of membership in the League Court under any circumstances. Nearly five years have passed since the Senate voted for adherence with reservations. Meanwhile the peril of joining a subsidiary of the League of Nations, as Lord ROBERT CECIL called it, has not diminished. Conditions for peace abroad are, regrettably, no more favorable now than they were in 1925; indeed, many observers see in overproduction, national aspirations and racial animosities the making of serious trouble. Seemingly peace is more talked of than thought of. There never was a good time for the United States to join the League or its court; this is perhaps the very worst time. We have our own problems, which none of the machinery at Geneva can help us to solve. The League and its court are thoroughly European in character. It is impossible to separate them in any consideration of the future.

It is scarcely necessary to remind informed Americans of the relationship of the court to the League. It was created by the League. It is the legal adviser of the League. Its statutes are drawn with the consent of the League. Its Judges are chosen, paid and pensioned under League auspices. Its supreme law is the Covenant of the League. In the words of Representative TINKHAM, it is the bureau, organ, political instrumentality, agent and servant of the League. It is amazing that any nation whose people rejected, by a majority of 7,000,000, a proposal to enter the League of Nations should still be faced with a proposal to enter the League Court. For, as the League is a supergovernment, so is the court. DAVID JAYNE HILL passed his measured judgment on that feature of it:

> "A court which judges without defined and accepted law, merely in accordance with its own sense of fitness or the decrees of a political body, is in its very nature a supergovernment, for it does not merely declare the law, which is the proper business of a court, but makes the law by its own unregulated action."

We might make friends for a day by entering the League Court. We should make enemies for a generation when the time came—and it inevitably would come—when circumstances compelled us to withdraw. Let us keep what friendships we have abroad by refusing to adhere, by conducting only one government—our own—and by giving aid and counsel to others when we can do so without entangling ourselves or alienating our friends. When the League Court protocol comes out of its pigeonhole and into the Senate chamber it should meet its death. And, to make assurance doubly sure, the Senate should rescind the resolution which Geneva rejected, thus clearing the air completely of the smoke of danger.

CENTRAL WEST FORESTATION PARLEY OPENS

Points Out New Way to Give Jobs to Idle.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Idle men as well as idle lands, both constituting a national problem, may be put to work by the constructive expedient of reforestation, more than 100 government and naturalist society representatives from eleven states reported here today at the opening of the three day central west forestry congress. Public ownership of large scale forest reserves and tax exemption for privately owned wooded tracts were urged as the best way to counteract the forest annihilation of the pioneer days.

R. C. Hall, acting director of the tax inquiry for the United States forest service, advocated immediate legislation providing tax exemption for farm woodlands. He cited success of the woodland tax exemption in Indiana in prompting farmers to reforest hundreds of acres formerly cleared for grain crops.

Indiana Program Told.

Ralph F. Wilcox, Indiana state forester, said:

"Indiana soon will have 20,000 acres of state owned land reclaimed for forests. One state reserve of 545 acres, scientifically cut, has produced $8,500 in the last four years with a modest investment."

City and county forests are impractical, Wilcox said, in the middle western states and only Kentucky, Missouri, and Tennessee offer opportunity for federal reserves.

"Indiana imports $32,000,000 annually in lumber, and yet there are 1,000,000 waste acres in Indiana capable of bearing timber," said Gov. Harry G. Leslie in opening the congress. "We are coming to realize that we cannot continue to produce wealth unless we begin to conserve our natural resources."

Steady all year round employment and a constant supply of cheap fuel for nearby communities is provided by a state reforestation program, said Richard Lieber, director of Indiana conservation. State aid for unemployment is being furthered by an increased forestry expenditure, he added. The forestry program is being pushed, particularly in southern Indiana, where the 1930 drought has left many farms still without water, and where crop failures have been frequent in recent years.

Kentucky Editor Speaks.

Tom Wallace, editor of the Louisville Times and former president of the southern forestry congress, this afternoon discussed the successful movement to preserve Cumberland Falls as a government preserve instead of turning it over to a power corporation.

Other speakers at the three sessions today included James O. Hazard, Tennessee state forester; W. E. Tharp, representative of the United States department of agriculture bureau of chemistry and soils; G. E. Young of Purdue university, and L. F. Kellogg of the central states forest experiment station; Dr. Edward C. Elliott, president of Purdue university, and Frank S. Betz, Hammond.

Illinois, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Arkansas, West Virginia, and Indiana are participating in the congress, along with representatives of several federal government units.

Lithuania Offers to End Unofficial War with Poles

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

KAUNAS, Lithuania, Dec. 3.—The Lithuanian foreign office announced today that instructions had been given to its minister to Berlin to notify the Polish government that Lithuania was willing to open up negotiations with Poland to formulate conditions to end the unofficial war on the Lithuanian-Polish border. Dr. David Zaunius, foreign minister, proposes that a conference should be held in Berlin on Dec. 15.

DEMAND GROWS IN COUNCIL FOR NEW WARD MAP

Want City Redistricted Before Elections.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Aldermanic expressions grew in volume yesterday that the council should proceed forthwith to remap Chicago's fifty wards without delay and thus clear the deck for the battle at Springfield this winter for reapportionment of senatorial and congressional districts. The law makes it mandatory upon the council to redistrict the city "on or before" Dec. 1, 1931, a year hence, on the basis of the national census.

The council at its last meeting adopted a resolution from Ald. John J. Clark calling on the judiciary committee to report a new ward plan as soon as possible. Talk in the antechambers yesterday was that by quick action a new ward scheme might be put through in time for the first aldermanic election, Feb. 24.

Many Aldermen Opposed.

Many aldermen, however, seem opposed to new ward lines for the next election. One idea was broached that if opposition heads off new wards for the approaching 1931 primaries and election, the council might adopt a new equalized ward scheme based on the census, which should become effective for the city elections in 1933.

Ald. Oscar Nelson, head of the judiciary committee, appointed the rest of the remapping subcommittee. It consists of Ald. James B. Bowler [10th], chairman, and Aldermen Robert R. Jackson [3d], William V. Pacelli [29th], Joseph C. Ross [40th], and W. H. Feigenbutz [45th]. The subcommittee was instructed to confer with each alderman to get his views on new ward lines.

Ald. Bowler is in California for the Notre Dame-Southern California football game Saturday, and upon his return, the map department is expected to be ready with a tentative remapping.

Want Quick Action.

At an informal conference yesterday, several council leaders expressed themselves in favor of quick action in order to get ready for the reapportionment struggle before the legislature.

"Chicago," said Ald. Clark, "has rightfully criticized the Illinois legislature because of its non-compliance with the constitution in regard to the reapportionment of senatorial districts. A demand is again to be made on the legislature to comply with the law.

"This demand will undoubtedly lose some of its effect if the council appears backward in redistricting Chicago's wards."

"Yes," said Ald. Edward J. Kaindl [30th], "the demand on Springfield to redistrict the state and give Chicago its rightful representation won't get far if the city council has shown itself negligent in remapping the wards, for the wards are as much out of proportion as are the senatorial districts."

Some pointed out that with eight vacancies in the council, due to the election of aldermen to other posts last month, it would cut down the usual volume of gerrymandering to remap now.

PRISONERS RISK LIVES TO SAVE DROWNING GUARD

New Orleans, La., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Two prisoners today risked their lives to save their guard from drowning.

Anthony Patorno, 27, and John Guste, 25, both trappers, were being brought here by Emile Kinler, United States deputy marshal, to answer to a charge of violating an anti-trapping decree.

In entering a rowboat with the two, Kinler fell into the icy water. Patorno and Guste dived until they found him weighted down by a heavy coat at the bottom of the stream. He was unconscious, but they revived him.

FATHER OF 3 JAILED WHEN HE FAILS TO TURN DRY INFORMER

Cadillac, Mich., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Frank Harrand, 35 year old farmer, remained in the county jail here today under an indefinite sentence for contempt of court because he could not or would not tell where he obtained whisky which caused his arrest for drunkenness at a dance nearly four weeks ago.

Henry Milton, attorney for Harrand, was seeking means today to obtain his release, but the Circuit court here already has held that Justice Millington was within his legal rights in imposing the sentence.

Millington declined to accept a plea when Harrand was arraigned until he had told where he got the whisky, and sent him to jail when he replied he did not know, but had intercepted a bottle as it was passed in a group of men in the dark.

In appealing on behalf of Harrand, his attorney cited that he has a wife and three small children.

Actor Plunges Five Stories from Window, but May Live

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—A five story plunge from his room in the Cadillac hotel today cost Frank McEntee, 54 years old, an actor, only lacerations of the scalp and possibly a fractured skull.

DYING DOCTOR'S DIARY DESCRIBES "LOVELY DEATH"

He Takes Poison, Then Tells of Sensations.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 3.—The strange revelations of a doctor who deliberately placed the fingers of death around his throat and then described in minute detail the final sensations on leaving life while he conversed with his wife and treated patients was contained in a diary read at a Brighton inquest today.

The physician was Dr. Hugh Hands, 63 years of age. Financial troubles were blamed in a letter to his wife, which was also written after he took a dose of poison. The account of how it feels to die was read at the identical hour he was summoned to appear in police court to answer a charge of drinking during illegal hours at his club, which his lawyers said they were able to disprove.

"Death Is Lovely."

The first entry in the death ledger was made at 11:30 a. m. yesterday, less than an hour before he died. It said:

"I have taken a half ounce of tincture of aconite and an ounce of chloral hydrate. Both were nice except for the tingling. Waiting—feeling very happy. The first time I ever felt without a worry and as if free. My heart must be strong. It won't give way. Don't forget to read my articles. It will save lives. Getting tired. It is a long time and so slow. The Japanese are right that death is lovely. Feel fine. Have no pain and have not taken any"—meaning prussic acid.

"Feel sleepy. Pulse still good. [Chloral.] Feel sick."

"Have my vein opened. May find myself alive in coffin. Terrible thought."

Nothing to Worry About.

The note ended with farewells and a postscript:

"God seems over me. Just leaving for a lovely voyage, but it is slow. First time I am without a worry. Money is nothing. It is nothing but wickedness."

There the note ended, but a second later took up the tale.

"Just given Mrs. Yenley an inoculation. Getting dazed slightly, but quite happy. Feel as though I am cheating the usurers. Pulse is good at 11:35. Just given an inoculation for asthma to Mr. Swan. Have not passed away. Surely can't live on. Only decent usurer was old Whiteman. He was kind to me. Extraordinary! Pulse going well; feel fine."

Leaves Body to Hospital.

There the note ended, shakily and trailing off: "No prussic" were the last legible words.

A letter to his wife left the body to a London hospital for the study of ductless glands and described his financial troubles as due to gambling.

"My brain is going—what the future may be I don't know," the letter finished.

The doctor's son, Richard, testified that he saw his father talking to his mother when he returned home for lunch yesterday. Later he went to the office and found the door bolted and heard groans. The door was broken and Dr. Hands was found dead. Suicide while of unsound mind was the verdict.

Labor Officials Attend Service for Mother Jones

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—(AP)—High labor officials took time today from other duties to attend the funeral of Mary ("Mother") Jones, militant labor leader, who died Sunday night. Included in the list of those who journeyed to St. Gabriel's church for requiem high mass were William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and William N. Doak, newly appointed secretary of labor. The body of "Mother" Jones left later in the day for Mount Olive, Ill. There she will be buried among "her boys" who were killed in 1898 Virden mine riots.

Fireman John F. Swanson Is Dead from Pneumonia

John F. Swanson, a member of fire engine company 97 at 13359 Burley avenue, died yesterday in the South Chicago hospital of pneumonia contracted while fighting fires during the recent zero weather. Swanson, who was 45 years old, lived at 1754 East 73d street, and was the father of two children. He had been a member of the fire department since February, 1914.

Albert Hinsey, Civil War Veteran, Is Dead at 82

Albert W. Hinsey, 82 years old, civil war veteran, who resided during the summer months at Somerville, O., died yesterday of heart ailment at the Colonial hotel, 6325 Kenwood avenue, where he made his home during the winter. He was once postmaster of Somerville. He is survived by a son, C. A. Hinsey of 7135 Yates avenue. The body will be taken to Somerville for burial.

Printer Who Taught Ochs the Trade Is Dead at 83

Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Henry C. Collins, 83 year old printer, who taught Adolph S. Ochs the trade of printing, died today. When Collins was foreman of the Knoxville Cronicle, Mr. Ochs, now publisher of the New York Times, was an apprentice.

MAJ. WILL CLARK, LOOP ATTORNEY 40 YEARS, DEAD

Maj. Will H. Clark, 67 years old, loop lawyer for more than 40 years, died yesterday at the Plaza hotel of heart disease. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nellie Reily Clark, and two daughters by a former marriage, Mrs. Margaret Clark McGarvey of Bronxville, N. Y., and Mrs. Louise Clark Kaspar of River Forest, Ill.

WILL H. CLARK. [Chambers Photo.]

Maj. Clark, who was an assistant of Frank J. Loesch in the 1928 and 1929 special investigations of crime, was associated in the practice of law with his brother-in-law, the late W. W. Gurley, who was for years general counsel for the Chicago Surface lines. He was once president of the South Side elevated railway, known at that time as the "Alley L." He was one of the alumni trustees of Northwestern university and a charter member of the Union League club.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

ALDERMEN WILL HEAR I. C. DEPOT PLEA TOMORROW

The railway terminals committee of the city council will meet tomorrow to consider the request of the Illinois Central railroad for an amendment to the 1919 lake front ordinance. If the amendment is passed by the council, officials of the railroad plan to begin work on the proposed Roosevelt road station in the spring, perhaps in March, which would be of aid in relieving the unemployment situation.

A clause in the old ordinance compels the railroad to give space to other lines which wish to occupy the proposed terminal. The amendment provides that the railroad will not be required to take in any tenant road after the next ninety days, which will permit the railroad to make definite plans for the terminal before March. Two offers made by the Illinois Central to other railroads have been refused.

Frederick Schaer, Retired Minister, Dies in the West

The Rev. Frederick Schaer, 83 years old, formerly pastor of St. Peter's Evangelical Neighborhood church at Northbrook, died Monday. It was learned yesterday, at Milwaukee, Ore., where he had lived since retiring from his pastorate. Funeral services will be conducted Monday at St. Peter's, with Dr. D. Irion, president emeritus of Elmhurst college, officiating.

FARM AND GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

Chicagoland residents will have a chance to visit a midwinter rose garden where approximately 1,000,000 blossoms will be displayed when open house, sponsored by the rose growers of the Chicago area, will be held at the greenhouses of Paul Weiss, Touhy avenue and Mannheim road, in Des Plaines, Ill., Dec. 15, 16 and 17.

Chicago and its adjoining areas is said to be the largest rose growing center in the world. A continuous glass roof covering 10 acres is a feature of the Weiss greenhouses, where 250 carloads of coal are burned annually to maintain constant summer temperatures.

Bushes numbering 350,000 will offer specimens of the new Mme. Claudia Muzio and the new and old Hollywood, Briarcliff, Cecile Brunner, Dame Edith Helen, Claudius Pernet, President Hoover, Matchless, and Killarney varieties. American Beauty roses, with their huge red blossoms and six foot stems, are among the collection, said to have returned to prominence with the return of long skirts.

Rose growing in Chicago "factories" is said to be conducted with all the efficiency for which American producing engineers are famous. Temperature, moisture, soil composition, every factor influencing plant growth is under control, except sunshine. Records have been made of the performances of each variety so that it is possible to time a crop almost as exactly as the production schedule of an automobile factory.

Sorority to Give Receipts of Card Party to Charity

The girls of the Alpha Beta Gamma sorority of St. Xavier's academy have voted to devote the entire receipts of their annual card party to charity and the unemployed. The party is to be held at the Shoreland hotel next Saturday. Miss Irene Foote, 7525 East End avenue, is in charge. She expects to raise about $100. Miss Foote is being assisted by the Misses Annebelle Boucek, Mary Slusser, Ruth Sisson, Verle Kretschmer and Julia Mooney.

C. H. Ware, Former Union Pacific Official, Is Dead

Anna, Ill., Dec. 3. — [Special.] — Charles H. Ware, aged 68, former vice president of the Union Pacific railroad died in Tulsa, Okla., today. The body will be brought here for burial. He retired from railroad service several years ago on account of failing health.

STRAWN BLAMES DEPRESSION ON FAR EASTERN WAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Dec. 3.—The destruction of buying power in China and India through civil war and dumping by Russia are the main causes for the present world wide economic distress, Silas H. Strawn of Chicago told the American chamber of commerce here in a speech today.

Mr. Strawn, who is chairman of the international committee of the United States chamber of commerce, is in France to attend a meeting of the general council of the international chamber which opens here tomorrow in an attempt to solve the business depression.

Disucussing the collapse of the Chinese and Indian markets through internal disputes Mr. Strawn said:

"As a result, the people in these countries today are starving. I think if these countries were stable they would be able to consume all we produce and thereby eliminate the economic crisis from which we are suffering."

FREE 2 WOMEN FROM GRIP OF CHINA BANDITS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PEIPING, Dec., 3.—Mrs. H. D. Hayward, of Seattle, Wash., wife of a missionary, and her nurse, Miss E. Gomersal, who with their guards had been surrounded by bandits at a Mongol hill village west of Paotow, were rescued today by Chinese troops assisted by Mongols. The two women were taken to Paotow and will be brought to a Peiping hospital as soon as they are able to travel.

The bandit situation along the Yngtze river is becoming worse, the capture of Changteh, an important city in Hunan, being confirmed, but there are no missionaries there or west of that city. The Franciscan priest, Augustin de Gaspert, was captured at Sinchow, about 40 miles north of Changteh. Fathers Laffan and Linehan, who were captured in April, have reached Hankow and are suffering intensely from dysentery of many months' standing.

RANDOLPH ACTS TO END DISPUTE ON POSTOFFICE

Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, will go to consult Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Ferry K. Heath Monday on the new Chicago postoffice.

Randolph entered the postal matter last week after the railway terminals committee of the city council had expressed dissatisfaction over a proposed ordinance which did not, in the committee's mind, satisfactorily guarantee the opening of Congress street, which must be cut through the new building when it is extended west across the Chicago river.

By Royal Command

BY DORNFORD YATES

SYNOPSIS.

Richard Chandos and his wife Leonie, former grand duchess of Reichtenburg, are visited at their estate near Littai in Austria, by George Hanbury. A telegram arrives from Marya Ilin, countess of Dresden, an expected guest, stating that she dare not come.

Prince Paul, ruler of Reichtenburg, had hoped to marry Leonie and was incensed at her marriage to Chandos. Fearing for Marya's safety because of her friendship for Leonie, Chandos and Hanbury, with their servants, Bell and Rowley, depart for Virgil, capital city of Reichtenburg, where Marya resides. Because of the enmity of the prince they must enter the country in stealth. They drive to the frontier and leave Rowley with the car at a farm and proceed by foot. They befriend a peasant named Ramon who, in gratitude, leads them over the border by a secret path under a waterfall. In the town of Vardar they board a freight train for Virgil and hide in a motor car, which they discover is consigned to Prince Paul. Not able to leave the train before arriving in the station yards at Virgil, they are saved by the wit of Hanbury, who tells the officials that they are in charge of the car by royal command to deliver it to the palace. Hanbury drops Chandos and Bell at the home of Marya and drives on to deliver the car. Chandos secretly arouses Marya, who tells him she sent no message and that the plans to drive to Austria that night. Hanbury returns safely from the palace. The three men hide in the garden. They realize the invitation was a ruse to lure them within the power of the prince. Marya receives a phone message from the palace, telling her that the prince will call on her for tea. While she then is awaiting the prince enters the garden with a wolfhound. The dog finds their hiding place. The men hold the prince and his servants at point of gun.

INSTALLMENT X.

A NIGHTMARE DRIVE.

"And now don't move," said George. "I'm going to stand here and watch you, and fire at the first that moves. I mean that, mark you. I'm not going to speak again."

By now Bell and I were wearing their hats and coats, and I took the dog by the collar and gave the sign to withdraw.

We did so in silence, only pausing to hide the boots in a clump of stocks, and when we were all in the saloon I closed and bolted the shutters and shut the windows behind.

"Where's the telephone?" said George. "We must cut the wire."

"In the hall," said the Countess, and ran before. . . .

As Bell took her dressing case—

"I don't like to leave Carol," she said. "You see, he's involved."

"Right," said I. "Let him put on my hat and coat. And follow in 10 seconds please. I'm going to start the car."

One minute later the Countess and George and Carol were sitting back in the car we had used that morning, Bell and the dog were beside me, and I was driving all out for the Austrian road.

Our going was none too private. I saw no man that I could have sworn was a spy, yet half a dozen that might have been watching the house, but we met with no sort of obstruction, and if we aroused suspicion I never saw it declared. I would never have believed it so simple to steal a royal car, but I think that those that were there had not noticed the arms on the doors and, our livery being plain blue, were not expecting the presence which we had so hurriedly left. When we came to the busier streets our fortune took on another still more convenient shape, for such police as saw the car coming made haste to clear the way, and the zeal they showed was so active and the compliments they paid were so grand that I could have burst with laughter, while Bell, whose reserve was prodigious, was shaking with mirth.

When we were clear of the city George leaned out of a window and spoke in my ear.

"Are you going for Elsa?"

"No," said I. "I dare not. I believe we've an excellent chance, but supposing we fail . . ."

"Right," said George. "Where then?"

"I'm damned if I know," said I. "How long before it's dark?"

"Nearly three hours," said George. "It's not yet a quarter past 6."

"Get the map off Carol," said I. "It's in my coat. We must dodge across country to Vardar and find some place to lie up."

I was eager to leave the main road and knew we should find a byroad some 5 miles on that would take us over the railway and into the hills: I, therefore, wasted no time, and the car being very willing and, in view of its heavy body, unusually swift, we had climbed a steep hill and were approaching the byroad before 10 minutes were past.

Now, though I slowed up for the turning, I was not expecting traffic upon such a road, and anxious not to lose time I certainly cut my corner more fine than I should. And this was very nearly the end of us all, for there was another car coming and taking, as luck would have it, more than its share of the way.

Thanks to our excellent brakes a smash was avoided with 2 or 3 inches to spare, and, from having come to a standstill, the cars were slowly beginning to draw abreast when a man leaned out of a window to shake his fist in my face.

I shall never forget that moment or the bitterness which it held, for when a poor wretch "hath nothing," it is very hard to surrender "even that which he hath." In that instant our half hour's start, so hardly won, sank to a few poor moments and what disguise we had was changed to a startling announcement of what we had done.

The man at the window and I had met before.

That scowl, that square jaw, those small eyes—I had reason to remember those features to the day of my death. For they were Grieg's features—the features of the man who had tried his best to kill me and now had "some job in the police."

His scowl slid into a stare, and I heard him cry out. And that was all, for I was gone as fast as my gears would let me and had pushed the car up to 60 before 30 seconds had elapsed.

I spoke to Bell.

"Can you see him?"

"O, no, sir. The last I saw he was turning. We must have a good minute's start."

"A good minute" . . .

As I spoke George put out his head.

"Take the first to your right," he said. "And then the first to your left. And keep your foot right down. We're leaving a trail of dust about 3 miles long, and unless we can leave him standing it's simply a paper chase."

Now, dust or no, I was very certain that we had the faster car. Provided, therefore, that we met with no serious check I judged we should shake off pursuit in 9 or 10 miles. If then we could only vanish within reach of the bridlepath, we still had a chance of escaping that very night.

I was less afraid of a check than of losing our way. Though the map was true George was not forced to read it at lightning speed and to decide in an instant which was the way we sought, and though he was careful never to hold me up but to give me directions as coolly as though we were riding to hounds I knew as well as he did that except he knew the country no man born of woman could guide a car going so fast.

We flicked through a nameless village and over a hunchback bridge: we were checked by a yoke of oxen passing from gate to gate, each second seeming a minute until the road was clear, for a mile and a half we flung up a twisting lane so girt and narrow that had we met but a handcart we could not have passed: we dropped down into a valley, sped by green watermeadows and switched to the right: we sang up a serpentine hill and into a range of beechwoods that ran for a lady's mile: and we swung to the left at crossroads where—hardship of hardships—a signpost had been blown down.

Oh, such was that nightmare drive, and when after 30 minutes we came to a sudden thicket with a track leading into its heart I was as ready as George was to, so to speak, go to ground.

Indeed before he had spoken I had set my foot on the brake, for if we had come as we wished we could not be far from the frontier and we might as another 10 miles before we found shelter like this.

One minute later we were deep in the wood.

At once I stopped the engine and all of us sat very still but all the silence we could hear were those of the countryside, the twitter of the birds about us and the splash of a neighboring rill.

"Blind leading the blind," said George quietly. "We've beaten Grieg but I've no idea where we are."

The daylight we had so much deplored was now the best friend we had, for unless we had found our bearings before night fell we could not hope to be out of the country by dawn.

We, therefore, sent back Bell to destroy any traces there might be of our entrance into the wood while the rest of us left the car to follow the track which soon gave into a meadow but on every side rose woodland and hills. This soon gave into a meadow but on every side rose woodland and might have stood in some courtyard for all the way we could see.

Groot	De Witt Jennings
Alex	Russell Hopton
Mr. Southard	Frank McGlynn
Mrs. Southard	Greta Gould

By Mae Tinée.

Good morning!

Min and Bill were cronies,
Big hearted and tough;
Pair of fightin', lovin'
Diamonds in the rough.

You need neither prophet nor critic to inform you that a picture featuring those tartars, Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery, also exhibits great damage to persons and property. Anything's a missile to those two in "Min and Bill," and the language that hurtles about the censors made considerably their business. If looks could kill—well—the film would have ended with the touching sight of Miss Dressler standing rampant and alone, her foot on the piled up dead and a rolling pin raised to heaven. However, looks do NOT kill; the law catches up with the heroine, and the movie ends on a note that sets you fumbling for a handkerchief.

The picture has been adapted from the novel, "Dark Star," by Lorna Moon, and the story was considerably changed in transition, that M'ss Dressler's rôle might be a fat and juicy one. You see her as a tough old waterfront woman. She runs a combination saloon, dance hall, and rooming house. She has in her charge a young girl, Nancy, who had been left with her as a baby by a drunken and dissolute mother—Stella—who had at once gone off on her irresponsible and reprehensible way. Min and her sidekick Bill, a seaman who rooms at her place, do the best they can for the child, which is not a great deal.

Though roughly shielded from actual taint, little Nancy grew up beautiful, but brassy, and the men about the place are beginning to eye her evilly when you meet her.

Old Min, aware of this, sends the girl to live with respectable people. Stella turns up—the same old Stella—and Min scuttles over to Nancy's retreat to order that her charge be sent away at once to finishing school. She hands over the bulk of her savings toward this end.

Nancy goes away. She returns, a charming young lady, engaged to a wealthy chap. She's been loyal to Min and hurries to the crusty old soul with news of her happiness. Again the girl's drunken mother is in the place and Min brutally sends Nancy away. But the mother is "wise." She's discovered that the child she had deserted had not died, as Min had informed her, and announces that she intends to get hers. She's going to the wedding!

"You're NOT going to that wedding!" says Min.

"Try and stop me!" says Stella.

And then Min proves her love for the child toward whom she has never displayed the slightest tenderness.

Miss Dressler gives a bangup performance. Her characterization is strongly drawn with smashingly effective comedy high lights. She's certainly the grand old czarina of the screen these days! Mr. Beery, as Bill is what he should be. Marjorie Rambeau plays Stella colorfully and Dorothy Jordan, as Nancy, is a dear. The other portrayals are satisfactory. Direction is astute and, technically, the film is to be commended. It is, in all respects, an interesting production though not good meat for children.

See you soon.

Cornwallis Memorial Part of Yorktown Festival

Richmond, Va., Dec. 3.—(AP)—A memorial to Lord Cornwallis, commander of the defeated British army, will be unveiled next year at the celebration commemorating the 150th anniversary of the American victory at Yorktown.

Provision for erection of the memorial, which also will be dedicated to the valor of all British troops who fought against the colonies, was made in a resolution adopted by the Yorktown sesquicentennial commission today. A committee was directed to select the form and location of the monument.

BISHOP OF ABERDEEN LAUDS HOLLYWOOD FOR ITS MORAL TONE

GLASGOW, Scotland, Dec. 3.—(AP)—It took the bishop of Aberdeen and Orkney to give the lie to all those canards about Hollywood, the movie capital. "Why," said he to the Rotary club here today, "it's more respectable than Kelvinside in the Glasgow suburbs, and it has more hard working, God-fearing and good living people."

As for the Mormons in Utah, whom he also visited, he said, "I always thought they were rather dissolute and strove to emulate King Solomon. I was surprised to find that they had long since become as monogamous as ourselves."

Professor Shies at New York; Not So Mrs. Albert Einstein

S. S. BELGENLAND, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Prof. Albert Einstein, famous author of the theory of relativity, does not care much about visiting New York when the Belgenland arrives there next week, but his wife does.

Asked if he would debark while the ship remained in port, the professor emphatically answered "No." Frau Einstein, however, intervened and said, "Of course we will not attend any dinners there, but we do want to see New York."

The noted savant spends little time on deck, but prefers the seclusion of the three flower filled staterooms allotted to him. He expects to spend most of his time on the voyage at work, and with his research assistant, Dr. Walter Mayer, has already deeply immersed himself in the mathematical routine from which he hopes he will not be disturbed until the Belgenland reaches California.

Prof. Einstein on his departure received farewell gifts from almost every part of the world. The one that impressed him most, however, was an oyster shell engraved with the shield of David, the gift of an anonymous admirer.

Equal 5 Billions' Worth of Radium, It's Said.

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 3.—(AP)—World famous radiologists came here tonight to present a gold medal to Dr. Robert A. Millikan and to witness an X-ray tube shooting gamma rays of astounding power.

It was a special night in the annual convention of the Radiological Society of North America. The specialists have been doing deeds of medical wizardry with $4,000,000 worth of radium split in small lots throughout the country.

They saw the rays cast by the new Millikan tube that give the equivalent power of $5,000,000,000 worth of radium.

So vast is the power of this 650,000 volt X-ray tube in the California Institute of Technology it will be years, said Dr. Millikan, before the actual effects of these rays will become known.

In fact, nothing in the biological field of the application to living organism is known, he said, disclosing its use on humans would not be considered until reaction of the rays on plant and animal life can be studied.

Dr. Millikan, who received the gold medal from President Robert J. May of the Society for X-ray Research Work, gave all credit for development of the tube to Dr. E. C. Lauritsen of the institute here.

"Premature conclusions would be unscientific and dangerous," Dr. Millikan said, in discussing the tube, whose power equals that of 20 pounds of radium in ray production.

Dr. Millikan revealed three types of investigation to be pursued:

"First, scientific studies of the properties of these very powerful and very penetrating rays themselves; second, physical studies of the transparencies of metal and other opaque substances, with largely increased possibilities for the detection of inhomogeneities or inclusions of one sort or another, in large masses of dense materials; and third, biological studies of the effects of these rays on living organisms."

King of Sweden's Cousin to Wed Pittsburgh Girl

New York, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Baron Jean Pellenc, French painter and cousin by marriage to the king of Sweden, confirmed reports when he arrived today on the liner Paris that he will be married in Paris next February to Frances Kier, daughter of Frank Kier of Pittsburgh. In New York the baron will visit an exhibition of his art works.

Father, Lacking Job for Year, Pleads for Any Employment

A man, 39 years old, who has not had work for eight months, and who has been in a hospital for nine weeks, wrote yesterday to Sally Joy Brown at THE TRIBUNE in the hope that one of her job offers might be for him.

"I have a wife, and two children in grade school," he wrote. "We have been forced to move because I was unable to pay rent. We are now living, the four of us, in a small room.

"I am capable of doing any bookkeeping, clerical, sales, or chauffeur work. I do not wish to ask for charity, but I must find work to take care of my family."

Another letter came from a world war veteran who has been out of work for more than a year. His wife has been ill in a sanitarium and his small son is in a home. He is in arrears with his rent. He has held good positions, he says, holding the last one, in a lumber yard, for five years. He ended by wishing Sally "a lot of luck."

Sally was especially happy yesterday because more good job offers than usual were received. This also pleased the Illinois Free Employment service, 116 North Dearborn street, where the job offers are sent twice a day just as soon as they are received by the Sally Joy Brown department.

"Mrs. F. on Montrose avenue created a job for a woman to cook and serve a dinner for a party instead of doing it herself. Mr. M. found two or three days' work for a couple of painters," said Sally as she thumbed through the jobs that arrived yesterday.

"The C. W. A., a woman's club, called for a woman to wash dishes after a luncheon they were giving and paid her 50 cents an hour and a good lunch. Mrs. R. in the 6100 block on Dorchester avenue called to say she could use a man to move a radiator long enough to get a rug laid, and she would pay him $5 and his lunch."

One garage called for three men and offered $25 a week. The jobs are permanent. Mr. M. wanted a refinisher for furniture. The W. café needed a Negro woman to wash glasses and silver. This also is a permanent job. The S. restaurant on North Halsted street desired a porter. Mrs. Z. in Ingleside is having her rugs beaten at 50 cents an hour so it will give a job to a handy man.

If you can think of a job, even one lasting only a day or two, call Sally Joy Brown at Superior 0100. The money will go a long way for any one whose family is hungry.

Chinese Professor Added to U. of Chicago Faculty

Appointment of Dr. P. C. Chang, noted Chinese scholar and authority on Chinese culture, as visiting professor at the University of Chicago for the winter quarter, was announced yesterday.

THE STAGE

ANNOUNCEMENT that the Theater Guild would bring its newly staged play, "In the Meantime," by Claire and Paul Sifton, to the Blackstone Dec. 29, was premature—and also incorrect. The management of the Blackstone corrects the Guild's bulletin by stating that George M. Cohan will appear there in his revival of "The Tavern," Sunday evening, Dec. 21, to remain for three weeks. And the Guild, when asked to name the new date for the opening of "In the Meantime," says that it is indefinite.

Mr. Cohan staged "The Tavern" in 1920, and by burlesque stage direction transformed a play that was written in dead earnest into a travestied melodrama in which the wisecrackers of the day rejoiced greatly. The innocent authoress of the piece drew handsome royalties for seeing her work staged as a hoax, and hasn't been heard from as a playwright since. "The Tavern," you may remember, is the play that put the remark, "What's all the shooting for?" into the argot of the period.

Last spring Mr. Cohan reassembled most of the members of the original cast and revived "The Tavern" in New York. He assigned to himself the rôle that was acted in Chicago by Lowell Sherman, and later by John Meehan. Others in the company are Joe Allen, the original hired man who wondered about the shooting; Robert Middlemass, Theodore Newton, Kathleen Niday, Eda von Buelow, Isabel Baring, Willis Claire, Edward F. Nannary, Joseph Mackinerney, and William Jeffrey.

Katharine Cornell is still on tour in "Dishonored Lady," but she will soon disband that company to begin rehearsals in Rudolph Besier's "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." This is the play about the wooing of Elizabeth Barrett by Robert Browning, of literary fame, that started all the descendants of father-in-law Barrett writing indignant letters to the London Times. Guthrie McClintic, Miss Cornell's husband and stage director, is now on his way to London to engage a cast.

Victor Herbert's "Babes in Toyland," which was given in revival at the Majestic theater last winter, will be revived again for an engagement at the Imperial theater, New York, beginning Dec. 22. Milton Aborn is the impresario. A number of the principals of last year's company have been engaged, among them Betty Byron, Frances Moore, Ethel Lynne, Martha Gale, Margaret Byers, and Eleanor Gilmore. Other players will be Charles Barnes, Dorothy Kane, Bert Matthews, and Miller and Mack.

Irene Bordoni will appear as the star of a musical play called "Hearts Are Trumps," which is announced for production in New York early in January. Russell Medcraft and Herman Hupfield are authors of the libretto and score. Two years have passed since Miss Bordoni's last play, which was called "Paris." Since then she has made frequent appearances in vaudeville.

John W. Atherton to Talk Saturday on Butler University

John W. Atherton, Indianapolis, Ind., executive secretary of Butler university, will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Butler Alumni club of Chicago in the Morrison hotel Saturday noon. Mr. Atherton will speak on the developments of the university during the last ten years. He has been executive secretary of the institution since 1921 during which time the financial assets of the university have grown from $600,000 to $5,000,000 and the school has moved to its new 250 acre campus in north Indianapolis.

Good Fellows Rally to Play Role of Santa

To Give Food and Toys for Christmas.

Within 48 hours after the call was issued for Good Fellows to deliver baskets to the poor on Christmas eve, 531 children in destitute families were assured of a visit from Santa Claus. The children are in 178 families that were assigned to 53 Good Fellows to visit three weeks from today.

The Christmas work has not detracted from the main function of the Good Fellows this year, the rehabilitation of families who have been left without income for food, shelter, clothing or heat as a result of the temporary employment slack. In the 48 hour period after the Christmas plea was made donations for the fund to support these families until they can become self-supporting again totaled $3,722.75.

THE TRIBUNE Good Fellow fund is for the sole purpose of caring for these families. Every penny reaches some family whose needs and worthiness have been established by investigation.

No money is being solicited for the Christmas baskets. You notify the Good Fellow headquarters in THE TRIBUNE offices at Dearborn and Madison streets how many families you want to visit with gifts on Christmas eve and the headquarters will send you the names and addresses of deserving homes. It's sugested that your basket contain groceries for a holiday meal, and toys, fruit, nuts and candy for children's stockings that without your help would be empty on Christmas morning.

This is the 21st year that the Good Fellows have carried cheer into the homes of the poor. Most of the thousands who have served before will be out again this year to help little boys and girls keep their faith in Santa Claus.

There are thousands of children this year who, without the kindness of some Good Fellows, will be disappointed in Christmas for the first time in their young lives. There are many families who, due to the temporary business lull, are suffering their first poverty.

There's a coupon in a nearby column for your convenience in enrolling as a Santa Claus to the poor or in making a contribution toward providing necessities for the destitute through the winter.

The management of the St. Clair and Eastgate hotels announced yesterday that a charity ball will be given on Dec. 12 in the grand ballroom of the St. Clair, the proceeds to be used in buying baskets that will be distributed to families recommended by the Good Fellow headquarters. The names of these families are obtained from a bureau of the Chicago Council of Social Agencies. Clubs, offices, factories, and churches that plan to distribute Christmas baskets are invited to use this clearing house to avoid overlapping of gifts to the poor.

Famous Club's "Low Jinks" Dinner Tonight

BY THALIA——

THESE Cliff Dwellers occasionally depart from the conservative and dignified traditions of their organization and have what one of their number characterizes as a "low jinks frolic."

The picnic they had at Frank Dudley's studio in the Dunes last June was one such occasion, and tonight's dinner party to be followed by movies of the picnic, promises to be another. The picnic was a jubilant affair, and the movies, including some "shots" of the personnel of the party at the barbecue dinner on the beach and an elaborate and ridiculous scenario concocted by Thomas Wood Stevens and having to do with pirates, bootleggers, African head hunters [properties from the Herbert Bradleys' collection of savage costumes] is purported to be immensely mirthful.

Herbert E. Hyde is in charge of the affair, and has been working since last September splicing together the film for the movies. Henry Kitchell Webster and Richard Atwater have done the subtitles. Anticipation to see the results of their efforts is keen, and more than a hundred reservations have been made for the party.

The Carter Harrisons and the William O. Goodmans, who were away when the memorable picnic took place, are going to attend the dinner, and others who will be there include Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, Arthur T. Aldis; Arthur Bissell, the Henry Kitchell Websters, Mr. and Mrs. George Packard, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reed Jr., Lee Sturgis, the Conset Wilds of Evanston, Ralph Fletcher Seymour, and Guy Hardy. Mr. Hyde is to reel off the pictures and act as master of ceremonies.

Find America Is Much Same, Happier Than Europe.

The young George Waller Blows returned from Europe a few days ago with tales of conditions in foreign ports that make the local economic scene pale in comparison. In Paris there is little gayety, and people are not even "dressing" in the evening. "Those who appear in evening clothes at the theater or night clubs," according to Mrs. Blow, "are actually conspicuous."

The Blows have been away since last June, having traveled a lot in Sweden, Holland, and Germany to see all the modern architecture they could, and were in Paris for 2 months just before they returned to this country. They are to be in Chicago until after Christmas, and will then go to New York which Mr. Blow thinks is the place for a progressive architect to be. They're staying at the Ambassador while they are here, and the 2 children are with Mrs. Blow's parents, the George J. Cookes.

Kohlsaat Girls Win Cash for Trousseaux.

Friends of the Edward C. Kohlsaat family are fond of telling of the accomplishments of the Kohlsaats' daughters, Cynthia and Suzanne, who was married last Saturday to Edward M. Eastman and Franklin E. Agnew jr. respectively. The girls made their own trousseaux all by hand and have earned the money for all their dainty stitcheries. The financial part of the job they accomplished by taking over the management of the Kohlsaat culinary department with the understanding that whatever excess they could derive from the housekeeping budget was theirs. The scheme was evidently quite as successful as it was unique, because the Kohlsaats are all good health and the brides each have a charming array of undies and table towels.

Club Almost Keeps Secret; It's Devoted to Sciences.

A new and unique organization which has been developing, without bursts of publicity, has just come to our attention. It is called, aptly enough, "The Originalists," and was founded last winter by Mrs. Irvin S. Kell, whose object was to form the nucleus of a group of leaders in the various arts and sciences.

The membership is limited to just one person representing each art or science. Informal meetings are held the first Wednesday of each month. There was one last night at the apartment of Mrs. Leo F. Wormser in the Drake Towers, with a talk on the history of medicine by Dr. Irvin Koll as the principal feature of the evening.

Among the members are Mr. and Mrs. Graham Aldis, the Henry Fields, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Hutchins, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Monroe, Miss Harriet Monroe, and John W. Root.

Expect Over $100,000 in Campaign for Children.

Aftermath of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society dinner at Henry H. Porter's house on Tuesday night—the committee was delighted with the guests' response to its plea for funds, but is going to try to swell the $70,620 received to $110,000, the sum needed for this year's budget, through personal solicitations.

The Chicago Latin school is giving a tea this afternoon for Miss Frances Bruning who is a member of the cast of the Theater Guild's "Month in the Country," and a graduate of the Latin school.

If Exmoor Country club doesn't turn out to be a veritable American St. Moritz this winter, it won't be the fault of the winter sports committee. So far as I can see, after perusing the elaborate program of activities they've outlined, the only thing they have neglected to provide is a nice set of Highland Park Alps. There is to be skating, both plain and fancy; hockey, tobogganing, ski jumping, trap shooting, and carnivals. Quoting from the alluring program: "The skating pond has been enlarged to almost twice its original size and will be well shielded with canvas for the comfort of the skaters and the preparation of the finest ice possible. Ever changing, vari-colored light will play on the skaters as they waltz in pairs or skate singly to the specially amplified, constant flow of enchanting music."

If the lady who paid for some tickets for the Junior league children's play and hasn't received them will call the league office at the Drake, she'll hear an apologetic explanation of the apparent oversight. It seems that the leaguer who sold the tickets went to the Army-Notre Dame football game last Saturday, and that her purse in which were the lady's name and address and the tickets was lost or swiped.

Christmas shoppers will find a tempting array of desirable gifts at St. Chrysostom's annual bazaar to be held at the parish house today from 10 in the morning until 10 o'clock this evening.

SOCIETY ATTENDS THE OPERA

The popular "Jewels of the Madonna" was applauded again last night by a large audience at the Civic Opera house. Mrs. Rensselaer W. Cox was hostess in her box in the upper tier to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Insull, Mr. and Mrs. D. Mark Cummings, and Augustus Peabody. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sims' guests were Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kehoe and Mr. and Mrs. Orville W. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowman Lingle, Countess Cardelli, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Faurot Jr. occupied the Lawrence M. Viles' box. The Charles Edward Browns' party included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Paepcke, the latter in white lace with a shoulder cape, and Miss Peggy Hambleton in black taffeta and net. Mrs. Brown wore black satin.

Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr. was hostess to her sister, Mrs. Joseph Medill Patterson, Col. and Mrs. George T. Langhorne, William B. McCluer, Henry H. Porter, and Frederick Poole. Mr. and Mrs. Byron S. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. A. Rosecrans Baldwin, and Mrs. John H. Winterbotham were guests of Joseph T. Ryerson.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus C. Dawes had with them Dr. and Mrs. William A. Pusey, Miss Betty Brown, and Miss Margaret Dawes. The Walter S. Brewsters' party included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bissell, Mr. and Mrs. E. Harris Brewer, Mr. and Mrs. James Weber Linn, and Arthur Campbell. Mrs. Brewster and the Bissells occupied main floor seats.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Hopkins were with Mrs. C. Morse Ely. The Stanley Fields' guests were Mr. and Mrs. Aldis Browne and Mrs. Charles Hoff of Baltimore. Mrs. R. Townsend McKeever was hostess to Miss Lucy Martin, G. B. Anderson, and Thaddeus Zazulinski.

In the Clayton Mark box Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Mark were hosts to Mrs. Clement Studebaker III. and Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Rhett. In the Ernest R. Graham box William Graham had as guests Miss Virginia Skindle, Stewart Boal, and Thomas and Robert Jorgenson.

Today's Fine Time to Discard Your Old Misfit Shoes

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

It's a rare shoe closet carrying shoes from six pairs up that hasn't at least one pair that could wedge a couple of wrinkles between the eyes after a few days' wearing.

That misfit pair ought to be given the air good and properly. They should be thrown out. Keeping them around in the closet reminds you that you paid for them and consequently you must get your money's worth of wear out of them. The truth is, there isn't any money's worth in them. If they're going to crease the smooth brow or pinch a small or great toe, they're too expensive to be worn. So, get rid of them.

Give them to the nearest charity relief station, although there would be more charity in picking out a patient and fitting her or him out in a pair of shoes that could be worn with comfort. What the result would be on the poor one's spirits would far exceed in glory the gift of a five dollar bill, granted the poor one's stomach was not empty. For comfortable shoes on the feet are worth more to an individual than money in the pocket.

Picking up bargains at sales is responsible for the overstocked shoe closets. They're no bargain if you can't wear them comfortably. Not that you can't get good shoes at sales, but the trouble with woman and her bargain instinct is that she will buy shoes at a sale that do not fit. She knows they're not comfortable when she is buying them, a procedure she would not be guilty of when being served in the regular shoe buying way.

One of these not-right pair of shoes may cripple a pair of feet in a week's wearing. And that's no exaggeration. It's ever the best way to have your feet measured each time you buy. For the measuring, stand on both feet without shoes. Stand around in the new shoes, walk around the store in them and know that they are right before you pay your money. Feet are too important a matter to looks [facial as well as foot appearance] to be picked because they are pretty.

Bright Sayings of the Children

Bobbie had been allowed to sit at his mother's company luncheon on the condition that he keep the silence appropriate for one of his few years. Bobbie's mother added a few flourishes to the serving of the meal as befitting a company affair, and throughout Bobbie kept remarkably quiet.

When fingerbowls appeared his wonder and interest got the better of him. "O, mother!" he exclaimed, "Where did you get the little gold fish globes?"

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Hoover had as luncheon guests today Mr. and Mrs. Will S. Hays, who were married a week ago in Bethesda, Md.

Mrs. Hoover was in the audience this morning at the first of this season's concerts of Mrs. Lawrence Townsend's series at the Mayflower. Clare Clairbert, young Belgian soprano, and Richard Crooks, tenor, gave the program. Mrs. Hoover had with her Mrs. Vernon Kellogg, Mrs. Charles D. Walcott, and Mrs. Stark McMullin.

Miss Mary D. Dawes, niece of the American ambassador to England, gave a luncheon today at the Willard.

Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick today issued cards for a tea at the Carlton Saturday afternoon, Dec. 13, from 5 to 7 o'clock, to present her daughter, Miss Kathrina McCormick, to Washington society. Representative McCormick will give a dance for her daughter during the Christmas holidays.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

R. F.: AS A GENERAL RULE A healthy person who feels sleepy and stupid after having the required amount of sleep will find the cause to be a disturbed digestion or lack of exercise.

It's a Miserable Moment for Mother When Child Acts Up

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

A booklet on sex education will be sent by Mrs. Bevans on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

One of the most miserable moments a mother can have is when her child acts up, shows off or is what she calls "plain naughty" when she has guests.

Sometimes she hides her discomfiture, except for losing the thread of the conversation and having that absent look in her eye every once in a while. If she hides her chagrin, a stormy session usually follows after the guests are gone. Sometimes, instead, she tries to discipline or coax the young disturber into normal behavior on the spot.

But in either case, her tea is spoiled and she's either mad or disgusted.

Do you groan in sympathy? Probably every mother has had such a thing happen once—and some mothers have it regularly.

Did you ever sit down calmly, after your irritation was gone, and try to figure out why it had happened and what you could do about it? There are several things that account for such "goings on."

One is that the child may be mismanaged most of the time, whether there's company or not. Naturally, when mother's style is cramped by having callers, it is a good time for the spoiled child to go a little farther than usual. The only cure in that case is a whole new system.

But often it isn't that a child is spoiled and a mother, by a little thought, can work out something.

One mother I know lets her little daughter help her prepare the refreshments, and help her serve them. She even made a cunning little dairymaid's outfit with an apron for the occasion.

Another I know draws her young son into the conversation for a while and tactfully leads her guests into treating the boy as more or less of an equal. After a while he goes about his own affairs.

Another plans some sort of play or handwork or games for her children for the special afternoon. Or invites a special little friend in for the same time. There are a number of devices you can use. But just don't expect a child who is ignored, or bored, or aimless while everyone else is having a good time, to be a model child.

Food Talk.

In looking through almost two dozen cook books that I have purchased in the last year I am surprised to find only six which contain recipes for apple dumplings. Apple dumplings are known the world over, and why they aren't considered more seriously as a delicious and economical dessert puzzles me.

Apple dumplings are an exquisite dessert and, when well made, are enjoyed by everybody. Too often we find the dumpling has not been cooked long enough for the apples to get well done. As a result they are dry and tasteless. Sometimes the apple is too small for the amount of dough or shrivels up through too long and slow cooking. A good apple dumpling necessarily must be full of apple and it must be juicy. To be juicy sufficient water must be added. The water also produces steam which will cook the apple more quickly than dry heat. A fine flavored apple must be used, for no amount of flavoring will make a poor apple tantalizing in a dumpling. A good sauce and a sauce that is liquid or semi-liquid is most desirable.

My preference is a rich biscuit dough for apple dumplings. Some people like a pie crust better. Use whatever you prefer. In either case the baking needs to be done at a high temperature for the first 15 minutes to produce the desirably flaky and tender crust. Then reduce the temperature to finish cooking.

Apple dumplings are a hearty food, so when you serve them let them suffice for dessert and then some. When eaten in a not too heavy a meal they will leave no regrets behind.

APPLE DUMPLINGS.

2 cups pastry flour.
½ teaspoon salt.
2 teaspoons baking powder.
5 tablespoons fat.
2-3 cup milk or cold water.
6 large fine flavored apples.
1 pint water.
1 cup granulated sugar.
2 tablespoons butter.
1 cup light brown sugar.
2 tablespoons flour.
2 tablespoons butter.
2 cups boiling water.
Few drops maple flavoring.

Make a biscuit dough of the first five ingredients. Pat or roll out to about ⅛ inch thickness. Cut dough into six or seven inch squares. Have apples [Jonathans, Northern Spies, Baldwins or Ontarios] pared, cored and cut into quarters, leaving intact. Wrap a square of dough around each whole apple, pinching the dough together. Put water, granulated sugar, and 2 tablespoons butter into an aluminum or porcelain baking dish. Heat to boiling on top of stove. While boiling, add apples, placing the top side where the dough is pinched together down. Place in a hot oven [450° F.] and bake for 15 minutes, then reduce the heat to a moderate oven [375° F.], and continue baking until apples are tender. Unless the apples are very tender the dumplings will not be good. Serve warm with the following sauce: Blend the light brown sugar, 2 tablespoons flour and 2 tablespoons butter together. Add boiling water and cook until thickened. Flavor with maple flavoring.

Keeps Salary Secret; Wife Resents That

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I know it sounds silly to confess that after five years of married life I still do not know what my husband's salary is." So "Troubled Housewife" introduces her domestic problem.

She tells of how one week she receives one sum of money, next week another, and third week still another face is put on her household allowance. Any questions in the five years of marriage about salary precipitates a storm, the man contending that if his wife trusted him she wouldn't ask questions, but be satisfied with what she gets.

The amount handed out hardly spell contentment, unless one were unusually thrifty, which the wife in this case happens to be. Rather than nag, she goes out and earns extra dollars, herself, at work that does not keep her away from home all day. This opportunity for keeping peace in the household is removed now, however, with the unemployment situation.

"If I only knew what I was to get from week to week, I could plan better. I could do witout knowing what his salary is. I don't know if he has a cent in the bank, or a thousand dollars."

Can you imagine anything less inspiring than working for a "firm" with a pay envelope whose contents you could only guess about before opening? The idea is preposterous, unless you happened to be working on a commission basis. Even then, you'd know your own commission.

Some women certainly get raw deals in their marriage jobs, among the rawest of which is to be kept in blind ignorance of the maintenance fund. The wonder is they don't strike, with the easy exits they have access to, today. But it is a certain kind of woman who gets the treatment mentioned and she certainly is not a lady given to speaking her mind, nor is she one who gets the best treatment, if my observations have not deceived me.

Where does the man get that stuff about it being "his" salary anyway. It is not his. It's hal fhers, if she is carrying on her end of the job satisfactorily. And why a woman shouldn't assert her rights to a stipulated income, right in the beginning of marriage, is more than I can see.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

It's Effort Wasted.

"Dear Miss Blake: For no reason that I know of the fellow I love hasn't bothered with me for over a month. How can I get him back?

"LONESOME MARGIE."

Usually it is effort wasted trying to get them back when they have become indifferent.

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—Paris has always liked black and white above all colors. If Eve had been a Parisienne, undoubtedly she would have chosen a black and white zebra skin for her first costume, and I expect Parisiennes will continue wearing black and white until Jean Patou's dire prophecy be realised and feminine fashions disappear from the face of the globe.

Some Paris couturiers are introducing a variation of the black and white theme by adding dark brown to it, and the result is unusual and extremely smart, especially for sports and morning wear.

Philippe et Gaston use black, white and brown for the above ensemble, designed doubtless for traveling, since they have named it: Pullman, but which will prove practical for motoring or walking, in town, on raw days.

Both coat and frock are of a warm, woolen mixture of black and brown flecked with white. The coat is cut with a slender blouse and a flared skirt. It's double breasted below the waist and has Directoire reveres and comfy pockets. Its collar and cuffs are of brown peschliki, the new Russian incarnation of chevrette. The cuffs are buttoned on to the sleeves through a narrow band of the material. The coat is lined with plain brown woolen which makes it extra warm.

The frock shows an interesting adaptation of the popular tunic line, achieved by a shaped, flaring band of the mixed woolen lined with the plain brown cloth. This stimulates a peplum on the hips and crosses in front to button on to the skirt at the top of the two godets which lend it fullness. A similar band imitates a bolero on the blouse. The flaring cuffs match these bands. The collar is white linen.

GIRL'S DRESS.

Small girls are never too small to like to be smart, and this chic model might well be envied by an older sister. It has the smart diagonal seaming through the hipline, and at each lower point the skirt is laid in an inverted plait, that creates an all-around wide box-plait effect. The bodice is cut in one until it joins the skirt. Covert cloth, wool jersey and tweed will be lovely for the dress.

The pattern, 2869, comes in sizes 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 8 requires 2¼ yards of 39 inch material with ½ yard of 35 inch contrasting.

WHY GROW UP?

When it's such a lot of fun just being a child—keeping house on a miniature scale (no trick at all to move when you feel like it)—driving your car as fast as you please (not a chance of engine trouble)—and disciplining your children as you see fit (dolls keep their opinions to themselves, the little dears).

But even if you have grown up, perhaps you can persuade your son or daughter to bring you down to Toyland. You'll have the time of your life, and probably won't want to go home at all. The thing to do, in that case, is to take part of it home with you—to save for the children's Christmas, of course.

Toyland Is on the Seventh Floor

A Roll-Top Desk With Chair to Match $19

Just the thing for a little girl's room, where she can take care of her correspondence in the most satisfactory way. In antique maple finish. Complete at $19.

Other styles for both boys and girls from $13.50 to $36.50, according to size and kind.

Four-Room House Electric Lighted $11.50

This very modern, electric lighted doll house has two rooms upstairs and two rooms downstairs. It is attractively painted in ivory with green roof and green shutters. It is unfurnished.

The Sally Doll $2.50 to $5.50

A perfect lamb, is Sally, and she wears the most adorable clothes. According to size and outfit, $2.50 to $5.50.

Baby Chow Dog, $10

The cuddliest sort of a pup—he won't squirm around and run away as a real one might. He comes from abroad and is made of the finest material.

Automobile, $17.50

Velocipedes $9.50

Adjustable seat and handle bars. Bell, mudguard, tool bag. Ages 2½ to 4, at $9.50. 4½ to 6, at $10.50.

Doll Bassinette, $3

It comes in a lovely shade of green, and is equipped with a mattress and rubber tired wheels. Size 14x24 ins.

Industrial Train, $10

Doll Carriage $10

What little girl wouldn't be proud to wheel it—just like a grown-up one in every detail. Tan, peach or green.

Other Specials $3.50, $5, $7.50

Forts, $1.75 to $45

Forts of every size and style are established in Toyland, waiting for little boys to choose them. $1.75 to $45. This one is $17.50.

Aluminum Percolator Set, $2.25

Every little girl is interested in seeing that her dolls have proper food. That's hardly possible without the right equipment. Percolator sets, including other dishes, $2.25.

Rocking Chair, $6.50

Fibre rocking chairs in three sizes, with upholstered seats. $3.75, $5, and $6.50.

Pool Table $5

Here's something every boy has wanted for a long time, but it's usually too expensive. This one has two cues, numbered balls, square, and chalk, and it's a very practical size, 22½ x 42½. And it is very low priced at $5.

Soldier Sets, $1 to $20

All kinds of stalwart soldiers have headquarters here—big ones and little ones—priced according to kind from $1 to $20 set.

MULLINS OUT OF NOTRE DAME'S COAST GAME

SHRINE DROPS PLANS FOR 1931 CHARITY GAME

Cannot Get Good Teams, Wade Says.

BY ARCH WARD.

There will be no Shriners' charity football game in Chicago next season. The decision to abandon the plan for a series of ten annual intersectional contests was made last night at a meeting of the Shrine's games committee.

Inability to obtain the caliber of teams desired was the reason advanced. This year's game, which brought together West Virginia and Oregon State at Soldiers' field Thanksgiving day, failed to raise the fund anticipated for the crippled children's home in Oak Park. While no financial statement has been announced, officials of the Shrine admitted the receipts were disappointing.

"We shall renew the series when ever two good teams are available," said Will H. Wade, general chairman of the 1930 game. "It is impossible to get the leading eastern teams who play as late as Thanksgiving because they all are under contract to traditional rivals. Illinois, Northwestern and other Big Ten teams that would be strong drawing cards are not permitted to play on Thanksgiving day. Notre Dame has such a heavy schedule that an extra game would be out of the question."

Approves New York Game.

The first intimation that Chicago's charity game was unsuccessful came from Knute Rockne, who assembled a team of former Notre Dame players to meet a similar group from Northwestern in a preliminary to the West Virginia-Oregon State contest.

Rockne has been quoted several times the last few days to the effect that he had not been reimbursed for an expenditure of $3,500 which he had advanced as expense money to the Notre Dame athletes. Shortly before his football team left Chicago Monday for Los Angeles to play Southern California, he canceled charity games his old timers had promised to play in New York and on the Pacific coast.

Rockne yesterday wired the committee in charge of the New York game that his boys had his permission to play. This message followed assurance from the east that expenses involved in assembling the Notre Dame team would be deducted from the gross receipts.

Explains Shrine Game Cost.

The Notre Dame coach, who last night was in Tucson, Ariz., with his team, explained his differences with the Shriners' committee to a TRIBUNE representatives as follows:

"I have no quarrel with the Chicago Shriners or, for that matter, with those who are staging charity games in New York Dec. 13, or in Los Angeles Dec. 27. The only trouble with those promoting such events is that frequently they are inexperienced and as a result misunderstandings arise. I got a team together for the Thanksgiving day game in Chicago, bringing them from all over the country to South Bend for four days of hard practice. I then took them to Chicago. These men came from Wyoming, North Carolina, the New England states, and other widely separated points, averaging probably 1,000 miles. In many instances they had to leave regular employment. One of them incurred a fractured rib.

Couldn't Afford Another.

"Such a wholesale movement costs money. Somebody has to pay for it. All of the boys turned in a statement of expenses to one of my student managers, who in turn presented it to the officials of the Shrine. He was informed there were no funds to meet these expenses. Since I had invited the boys and couldn't see why they should stand the expense, I paid it myself.

"There probably was some misunderstanding, but, meanwhile, I was left holding the bag and couldn't afford to be placed in that position with regard to the charity games in New York and Los Angeles. Nobody had put up the necessary money and I didn't feel that I could afford to do it."

Mr. Wade of the Shrine, informed last night of Rockne's statement, said he and Rockne had no pre-game agreement about expenses. He stated that the matter would be adjusted later.

"I don't care to make any comment about it until I have had a talk with Rockne," he said. "I think he will find some of his old timers were trying to put one over on his student manager."

CARNEGIE TECH ADDED TO PURDUE GRID SCHEDULE

Lafayette, Ind., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—With the addition of Carnegie Tech to an intersectional game on Oct. 24 at Pittsburgh, and Western Reserve on Oct. 31 slated for a double header on Oct. 3 as the season's opener, Purdue's 1931 football schedule virtually has been completed. In addition to meeting the three nonconference foes, the Boilermakers, champions in 1929 and runners-up this season, will meet Illinois, Wisconsin, Chicago, Iowa, and Indiana in Big Ten encounters. The 1931 Purdue schedule, as completed to date, follows:

Oct. 3—Case and Western Reserve at Purdue.
Oct. 10—Illinois at Purdue.
Oct. 17—Purdue at Wisconsin.
Oct. 24—Purdue at Carnegie Tech.
Oct. 31—Purdue at Chicago.
Nov. 7—Open.
Nov. 14—Iowa at Purdue.
Nov. 21—Purdue at Indiana.

Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—A trifle the worse for the wear of nine hard games, but obviously delighted to get out of the cold weather, Knute Rockne's Notre Dame football team rolled into town this afternoon. The players went immediately to the stadium of the University of Arizona for a two hour workout, consisting of limbering up exercises and punting and passing practice.

Foremost among the developments of the day was Rockne's announcement that Larry Mullins' leg had failed to respond to treatment and that the star full back from South Pasadena was definitely out of next Saturday's contest with the University of Southern California.

Rockne stopped long enough to dispatch some telegrams in response to the avalanche of wires awaiting him.

"Mullins wasn't the only casualty at Chicago," Rockne continued, "but the other boys will be able to play against the Trojans. Mullins' absence will hurt, of course, just as Savoldi's loss hurt us, but we didn't cry about Savoldi and we aren't crying about Mullins. I still don't think they can beat what we've got left by four touchdowns.

"My line is last year's second string line and that we put in the game near the end of the first half against the Trojans at Chicago, and Musick went right through them for two or three first downs in a row. Russell of Northwestern went right through 'em, too—until he became fatigued," Rockne added.

1931 Schedule Lighter.

"We've had a tough season. Next year we're going to play one less game than this year. We can't play Yale, as has been rumored, because our schedule is full." Rockne asked Los Angeles writers to announce that he has no tickets for Saturday's game.

"I haven't had any for any of the last few games and it won't do anybody any good to ask me for this one," he remarked.

Today's workout took place before several thousand citizens of Tucson, most of whom had turned out at the railroad station to welcome the Notre Dame team. Others had been invited to the public workout by a hunchbacked announcer dressed in a nondescript football uniform who ambled up and down the streets of the city inviting all and sundry to come out and see the boys go.

Secret Practices Today.

Tomorrow Rockne will put on two practice sessions, both of which will be secret. Apparently the fact that he will have to fall back on third and fourth string full backs hasn't discouraged him to the point where he is ready to hand the game to the Trojans on a silver platter.

"Nope," he said, "I'm like Capt. James Lawrence when he said, 'Don't give up the ship, boys.' I haven't given up the ship yet, but I've got the lifeboats ready."

SOX USE KAMM AS BAIT IN HUNT FOR NEW PLAYERS

Boston Nibbles with Offer of Bill Regan.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 3.—Possibilities in the big league trade market today involved the White Sox whose officials are attending the minor league convention here with the hope that they can talk at least one club in their league into assisting in the uplift of baseball on Chicago's south side.

BILL KAMM.

The new angle in the player mart broke out when the new Boston Red Sox manager, John Collins, himself an old Comiskey employé, approached Donie Bush in convention headquarters with a suggestion that the Chicago organization might be able to make use of Bill Regan, a second baseman of more than passing ability.

Bush's reply was that he wanted to sleep over the proposal. He hesitated because a trade for Regan would of necessity involve the services of Bill Kamm, who not so many years ago cost the Chicago club $100,000 in actual cash.

First Hint Kamm Will Go.

Bush's failure to turn down his thumb on any suggestion having to do with Kamm is the first indication of the intention of the Chicago club to trade the one time star. It had been rumored but not verified. One of the rumors concerned Kamm's going to Cleveland for Lew Fonseca, a first baseman. Bush, despite advice to the contrary, might accept this proposal next week unless the Boston club can talk long and lustily during the interval.

The weak spot in the proposal made by the Boston club is that Regan, while skilled in his particular position, doesn't offer a solution of one of several problems confronting Bush. A first baseman is what he wants more than anything else, principally because he recognizes the need of hitting strength in the infield. Regan, while a great fielder, has been only an ordinary man on attack. Bush, if he holds off until next week, might in trade for Kamm get somebody far more valuable than either Regan or Fonseca. The Yankees are going to bid for the Sox third sacker.

Giants Want Players.

No apparent headway was made among the National league clubs previously reported to be in the mood to trade important players. All the Giants' officials, including President Stoneham and Manager McGraw are on the scene and this is proof that

CHARITY FOOTBALL.

PROPOSED transfer of the Notre Dame-Northwestern football game of 1931 to Soldiers' field will come before Big Ten conference faculty representatives for approval at their session tomorrow or Saturday. Upon such approval depends Northwestern's cash contribution of $100,000 to the unemployment fund.

If this transfer is sanctioned, Northwestern will advance the money at once. It thus will be available for relieving distress among the needy during the coming winter. Northwestern hopes to get back its advance through sale of the extra seats available at Soldiers' field. Notre Dame, always a public attraction, graciously assented to the transfer from South Bend because of the cause.

Northwestern's generous offer followed original refusal of the conference committee to transfer the game this fall. It was an answer to impressions prevailing in some quarters that Northwestern actually did not wish the game so transferred and that request for action was only a "gesture."

This $100,000 offer surely appears to dispel those impressions, for that even Notre Dame and Northwestern will draw $100,000 more than normal is a "sporting proposition," if we may use such a term in such company. If the excess sale of seats does not reach $100,000, Northwestern, as we understand it, stands the deficit.

We are told from the "inside" that approval depends largely on whether Chicago and Michigan, scheduled the same date at Stagg field, heartily approve. Their own receipts possibly might be affected thereby. Chicago, it is understood, voted favorably on the original proposition. Michigan, approached for post-season charity games which it was unable to play, donated its share of its final scheduled contest to Michigan charities.

The Wake sympathizes with and approves the spirit of the conference rule that football contests be played on college fields. As we previously pointed out, transfer of the 1930 game would not have established a precedent and there was no conflicting game at Stagg field. For 1931, it is for the conference, if Chicago and Michigan approve, to decide whether the worthiness of the cause and the amount of money involved does not outweigh possible mild laceration financially of the feelings of Maroons and Wolverines.

Seasonal Refrain.

Once more through the house resounding
Heavy footfalls on the stair;
Once more ashes on the table
'Side of father's easy chair.
On the lawn no leaves need raking.
There is hay around the shrubs;
In a corner of the closet
Rests a rusty set of clubs.
Mother smiles and joins the children
In a joyous glad refrain:
O, the golfing season's over
And our daddy's home again."

Primo Carnera.

Primo Carnera's defeat of Paolino Uzcudun was a prelude to the "build-up" which sooner or later will find the Italian as principal in a title encounter in an American ring. Decision over Uzcudun in ten rounds is not a startling ring performance. At least half a dozen others should do the same. Carnera, however, will have great drawing power until he is decisively beaten because of his size and adroit press agenting of that size.

Lively Baseball Deceives the Public but Gives It a Thrill

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—The baseball magnates of the National league, in their meeting next week, will give consideration to the home run with a view to abating the profusion of the same and enhancing its charm for the customers. This indicates that the batting averages, which the patrons peruse with such serene faith that official figures cannot lie nor even exaggerate, are subject to arbitrary manipulation by the business departments, probably with the turnstile figures as the basis of regulation.

JOHN McGRAW.

If the home runs be few, the averages modest and the turnstiles' sluggish, as was the case about the beginning of the last decade, stimulate the baseball, restrict the pitchers and thus emphasize the batting. Then if, after a number of years, the customers again show symptoms of boredom or complain that the home runs are a menace to life and limb, call another conference and revise the hitting downward.

New Move Implies That Patrons Were Deceived.

Of course, this state of affairs has long been suspected and I am not sure but that I have seen some skeptical reference to the character of the official baseball published in the papers from time to time. But when Mr. John Heydler, the president of the National league, admits that the proprietors will give some attention to the composition of the baseball in their wish to minimize the home run, his high office suggests for the first time that the magnates have been deceiving the patrons in their long insistence that the baseball was the same old ball that Cactus Cravath hit for the heroic total of a dozen home runs before the war.

There is no reason for indignation about this because baseball, poetically called the national game, actually belongs to the baseball magnates holding the greatest number of stockholders' proxies. They do a very good job of running their business, their entertainment is an excellent dollar's worth and, considering the confusion of the football rules and the arbitrary character of some of them, under the regulation of a semi-public commission, it seems much better that interested business men should continue to govern baseball.

The regulation of the home run might be interpreted as a small imposition on the customers' illusions, as the home run long has represented triumph in the popular imagination, but it has not been as presumptuous as the coaches' rule in football, declaring the fumbled ball dead at the point of recovery. In this case the self-interest or class interest of the professional coach was consulted and obligingly served so that thenceforth until the next revision no coach would be in danger of being discredited by touchdowns scored against him from fumbles.

The Turnstile Is the Rule Makers' Guide.

One odd fact in all such manipulations of the rules of these sports is that the players currently engaged in the games never are consulted. In baseball the infielders and pitchers and some of the managers, notably John McGraw, have squawked about the frisky and sometimes homicidal character of the ball, but it is not to be supposed that the impending reconsideration will be due to any consideration for their ideas. On the contrary, the turnstile statistics will be taken as the basis for deliberation, and in the sense that the turnstile readings reflect the customers' pleas-

Referee—Saladore.

Rochester Centrals didn't play championship basketball last night at the Chicago Stadium, but they exhibited enough of their offense to outscore the Chicago Bruins, 24 to 18. The Bruins played good ball on occasions, but just when they had an opportunity to go on to victory in the second half they slumped.

Rochester had an advantage in height, with Tiny Hearn moving his six feet eight inches back and forth to give his mates the ball on the center jump and then to frustrate all Bruin follow-up shots. For another, the Centrals passed more smoothly and committed fewer errors. Which brings the matter down to an inevitable result, particularly since the Bruin long shot artists, Hickey and Kennedy, did not have exceptional luck.

Hearn Breaks Loose.

Charley Murphy was the worst offender of the Bruins in misdirection of passes. However, Herlihy, one of Chicago's three veterans, permitted Hearn to break away for the field goal, which gave Rochester a four point lead in the closing minutes and assured victory. Only three veterans are permitted on the floor at one time, according to league rule. Marty Berry, one of Rochester's best, is classified as a rookie, while Murphy and Bramhall, Chicago's "freshmen," are neither the equal of Berry.

Hickey scored first for Chicago and the Bruins soon led, 6 to 2. Then Rochester counted 11 points before Hickey again found the basket for his second and last field goal. After this Lefty Kintzing took a "sleeper" pass and hooked a basket for the corner for Rochester. Bramhall intercepted a pass to make the tally at the half read: Rochester, 15; Chicago, 10.

Pierce Scores for Central.

The Bruins came back with a rush after the intermission, pulling within a point of a tie. Murphy passed to Bramhall, who scored from underneath. Kennedy broke loose on an out of bounds ball under Chicago's basket, but McNeil, substituted for Pierce, who acquired five personal fouls, the limit, scored to put the Centrals out in front by three points.

Kintzing scored the longest field goal of the evening with ten minutes to play and Rochester led, 19 to 14. Bramhall scored from under Chicago's basket, and after Barlow's free throw added another on a pass from Hickey. Thus Chicago was within two points of a tie but on the next center jump Hearn got away from Herlihy and the game was over as far as the Bruins were concerned.

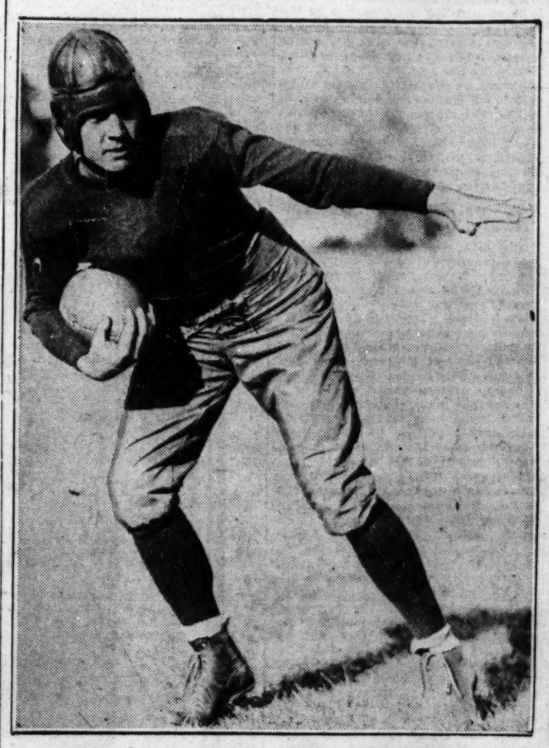
In the remaining minutes Rochester added two more points on Berry's side shot although the greater portion of the time the Centrals played safe and held onto the ball.

DETROIT MEN WIN NATIONAL BRIDGE TITLE

Cleveland, O., Dec. 3.—(AP)—R. R. Richards and Frank Eaton, Detroit, won the men's pair championship of the American Bridge league annual tournament here, it was announced tonight. They scored 162 match points to 97 for J. E. Swartz and M. Bernstein of Cleveland, winners of second place.

The women's pair title went to Mrs Carl T. Robertson and Mrs. Anne Rosenfeld of Cleveland. Miss Margaret Beech and Mrs. H. A. Stahl of Pittsburgh were third behind a Cleveland pair, Mrs. E. P. Sawhill and Mrs. A. C. Hoffmeir.

LOST—ANOTHER FULL BACK



Larry (Moon) Mullins, who succeeded Joe Savoldi as first string full back on the Notre Dame squad, will be unable to play against Southern California Saturday, a leg injury having failed to respond to treatment.

Blackhawks, Home in Lead, Play Americans Tonight

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Chicago Blackhawks, who appear to have the hockey world in a high fever as a result of early season accomplishments, tonight will be back on their home ice at the Chicago Stadium, there to meet respected foes, the New York Americans.

In suffering their first defeat in Montreal Tuesday night, 2 to 1, at the hands of the Maroons, the Hawks, on the basis of advance ticket sales, appear to have lost none of the prestige which they gained by accomplishing a tie in their season opener, followed by five victories over the class of both the American and Canadian divisions of the league.

Advance applications indicate a crowd of 15,000 will be on hand to greet the homecomers, it is said. A number of box parties have been planned, according to reports, and the entertainment committee, headed by Joseph C. (Gray Eagle) Farrell, is fixing to vie with the opera in the matter of swank, though there will be no arias unless Mr. Farrell sings himself. However, the pipe organist will play "The Storm," an indispensable interpolation, which is cut loose between the second and third periods of all local hockey matches.

Come Home in First Place.

The Blackhawks come home in first place and have reasons to believe they will stay there for a while, at least during their next three games—with the Americans tonight, the Detroit Falcons Sunday night, and the Montreal Maroons a week later.

In seven games the Hawks have acquired 11 points on the basis of 2 points for a win, 1 for a tie, and none for a defeat. The Boston Bruins, in second place in the American division, have played one more game than the Hawks, but have 2 fewer points. The Canadian division is headed by Toronto, with 10 points in eight games.

Hawks Have Won Five Games.

The Hawks are the only team in either division of the league which has won as many as five games, and also the only one which has lost but one game. Of the ten teams in the league all have played at least one tie, except the two Montreal clubs, and the Chicago visitors of tonight, the Americans, have battled to four draws, twice as many as any other club.

Although some of the Hawks received bruising treatment during their road trip, which sent them against four of the toughest teams in the league, it is announced that all the regulars will be able to put forth their best efforts tonight. Miller is carrying a few stitches as a result of the Maroon game and other athletes were scuffed up less seriously, but there are no slow healing wounds.

Harper Beats Fleming in Cue Final; Defends Title

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Robert B. Harper, Denver, successfully defended his national amateur three cushion billiard title tonight by defeating Frank L. Fleming, Champaign, in the third and final block of their contest. The score was 150 to 147 for Fleming. Tonight's score was 63 to 54 for Fleming in 94 innings.

Rothert Takes Stanford's Award; Has Won 12 Letters

Palo Alto, Cal., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Harlow P. Rothert of Los Angeles today was accorded the Glenn S. (Pop) Warner award, a gold watch, given annually to the senior of the Stanford varsity football squad adjudged first in character and athletic merit. Rothert has won 12 major awards in sports at Stanford university.

Michigan Swimming Team Beats Grand Rapids, 62-13

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Michigan's swimming team served notice tonight that it will be a serious contender for Big Ten honors by beating the Grand Rapids Y. M. C. A. squad, 62 to 13.

WILCOX REJOINS TROJANS

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Southern California today put in its third successive afternoon of dummy scrimmage against Notre Dame plays. Coach Howard Jones cut the contact scrimmage to a few minutes.

Howard Joslin, third string left end, was in the varsity lineup again, although Ralph Wilcox, for whom Joslin is pinch hitting, was in uniform and followed the team as it worked on new formations and defense instructions.

Wilcox Loses 15 Pounds.

Wilcox, who weighed 180 pounds during part of the playing season, is down to 165 pounds. His three weeks' stay in the hospital suffering from a brain concussion have made him such an uncertain quantity that he may not play more than a few minutes against Notre Dame Saturday, although as a graduating senior the boy will get in there some time.

Preparations thus far have indicated that the game will be another

STRIBLING SEEKS 294TH VICTORY AGAINST GRIFFITH

Tuffy Wants Chance at Heavyweight Crown.

During the ten years he has been boxing Willie Stribling has achieved 293 victories. Most of these bouts were in his opponent's back yard. In recent months he has invaded the camps of Phil Scott Otto Von Porat, and K. O. Christner and in each instance has gone away with a knockout victory.

On Friday, Dec. 12, when Stribling faces Tuffy Griffith at the Stadium, he will be going into partisan territory to seek a victory over Chicago's leading heavyweight title contender.

Griffith Popular Here.

Griffith, originally from Sioux City, Ia., calls Chicago his home and has become a favorite here. If he should beat Stribling he will immediately become the country's foremost heavyweight title contender.

Tuffy has been up and down several times. His downs have been precipitated mostly through inactivity. His knockout by Jack Gagnon in Philadelphia last spring almost caused the tough one to be dropped from all ranking as a title contender until he came back and gave Gagnon a decisive beating. He has wripped Paulino Uzcudun and Tom Heeney. Jack Sharkey refused to fight him.

Stribling Always Active.

Stribling has been one of the most active fighters in American boxing circles. While other fighters have held out for big bouts and large purses he has been taking bouts wherever he could secure them and today is ranked as the second richest boxer in the world and at present the richest man actively engaged in the ring.

It was only last winter that Stribling fought two bouts with Primo Carnera, winning one and losing the other.

BAUSCH ACCEPTS OFFER TO PLAY IN EAST-WEST GAME

Lawrence, Kas., Dec. 3.—(AP)—James (Jim) Bausch, Kansas athletic star, said today he had accepted an invitation to play with the West team in the annual East-West charity football game Dec. 27, at San Francisco.

Bausch's eligibility was the focal point of recent Big Six conference action, which resulted in the virtual ostracism of Kansas university by the other schools. Protests of alleged subsidization and recruiting, partially based on Bausch's case, resulted in the Big Six order.

Bausch, by a conference rule, would become ineligible for further Big Six athletic participation by playing in the San Francisco game. The ban could be lifted by a special ruling, however

It is understood no request for such a rule has been made. Bausch, a senior, ordinarily would be eligible for basketball and track this year. He is a letter man in both sports.

RUSSELL LEADS PATERSON IN 30-17 WIN OVER TOLEDO

Paterson, N. J., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Paterson defeated Toledo, 30 to 17, tonight in an American league basketball game that was close and interesting during the first half. Paterson led, 13 to 12, at the close of the first session. In the second half Paterson outplayed the visitors and won handily. Borgmann and Russell carried off scoring honors for Paterson, while Fatty Banks starred for the visitors.

Russian Wrestler Gets Match with Marshall

Lively Ball Tricks and Thrills Fan

Thus, in baseball, although the patrons do seem to have been the victims of a deception, their plight was no unhappy one, for they much enjoyed the hitting, suspecting perhaps, but never really admitting to themselves that three out of four home runs were factory made.

An envious manufacturer of baseballs once called my attention to the fact that the magnates had allowed themselves great discretion in the matter of the home run by adopting stipulations for size and weight alone. The ball must be of a certain weight and a certain circumference, but it may be stuffed with old rags, moss or seaweed, or wound entirely of rubber thread like a golf ball, according to the magnates' wishes, which, in turn, will generally correspond to the customers' relative appreciation of hitting and pitching.

How Long Hitters Are Developed for the Market.

His firm was manufacturing balls for a number of minor leagues and the specifications were governed by no rule if the inches and ounces conformed to the code. Consequently, some leagues, wishing to develop long hitters for profitable sale to the major leagues, were using a ball which jumped six feet if merely threatened and the customers on the pine planks of many a weed grown ball yard in the bushes were babbling joyously about home runs which would have been infield popups if the ball had been the same that Ty Cobb opposed at the height of his career.

Moreover, this sensitive ball was practically autopsy-proof, for the rubber threads were interwound with the wool so that when a major league scout, hesitating to recommend some new Babe Ruth, should cut the ball in half, the rubber threads would snap back into the vitals of the respective halves and disappear.

I used to think the customers needed a resentful voice to denounce the magnates for tinkering with the character of the baseball and denying that they had done so. It seemed a betrayal of public faith, and so no doubt it was, but, after a few yelps of indignation which were not any too genuine, I subsided because I enjoyed the home runs myself, even knowing they were largely synthetic.

Now, if the baseball is subdued and the pitchers are released from some of their restrictions, perhaps a fine sense of historical accuracy would rewrite Babe Ruth's achievements, reducing his home runs in proportion to the admitted stimulation of the ball he hit. Perhaps, even, some one ought to sue him for the refund of a like proportion of his earnings. But more likely the customers will just decide that he gave them a good time and let it all go. Such retroactive adjustments, carried out consistently, would ruin nations.

Skirl Victor in Pickwick by 3 Lengths

New Orleans, La., Dec. 3.—(AP)—The colors of C. V. Whitney scored for the first time at the Jefferson Park meeting today, when the three year olds, Blot and Skirl, romped home in front of their fields. Blot was the first to score, winning the fourth race, a claiming affair of six furlongs. Skirl carried off honors in the Pickwick purse, decided at a mile and 70 yards.

Kenneth Russell, up on Blot, had to bring his mount from behind in the stretch, but Eugene James, astride Skirl, had an easy time winning with the son of Broomstick, finishing three lengths in front of E. F. Brant's Eli Wier. James also had the mount of Celtic Prince, which finished only a neck back of Blot. Blot paid $11.20 and Skirl $4.80 in the mutuels.

James had another of his brilliant days, riding two winners, a second and one third. In addition to Skirl he was astride F. Wright's Woodgain, which won the second race and paid 9 to 1. W. C. Morris' Marengo proved to be the best bet of the day, however, paying $99.80 for his victory in the sixth race.

CHICAGO AWARDS GRID NUMERALS TO 20 FRESHMEN

Twenty members of the University of Chicago freshman squad were awarded numerals and eighteen other players received reserve numerals last night at a dinner.

Robert Cummings, 195 pound tackle from Bowen, Chicago; Robert Reneker, 200 pound center from Calumet, Chicago, and T. S. Decker, guard, from Culver, are rated as linemen who should be varsity regulars next season. H. Johnson of Horace Mann, Gary, and L. Changnon, Kankakee, Ill., a brother of the 1929 Maroon basketball captain, are the best of the ends.

Pat Page Jr. is the all-round star of the backs because of his blocking and defensive work. Page is also a first rate punter and drop kicker. He weighs 175 pounds. W. E. Pyott of Oak Park, Ill., brother of the 1923 captain, is another good back field prospect. R. J. Aufdenspring of Belleville, Ill., is rated as the best full back.

Pitt to Lose Cage Captain; To Play in East-West Game

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 3.—(AP)—The University of Pittsburgh's basketball team will lose its co-captain and star guard, Eddie Baker, as the result of his decision to play for the East in the forthcoming East-West charity football game a San Francisco, Dr. H. C. Carlson, Pittsburgh basketball coach, informed Baker, captain and quarter back of the 1930 Panther football eleven, that he need not report for basketball when he returns, as the season will be under way and the team organized by that time.

MAROONS LOOK GOOD IN EARLY BASKET DRILLS

Two Letter Men Form Team's Nucleus.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

It's all very well to cheer when your team is losing, but it is much easier to cheer a winner. This is by way of broaching the prediction that the University of Chicago basketball team may give the old grads something to shout wholeheartedly about before the season ends.

Not that Chicago will bowl over all its Big Ten opponents this year; that's asking too much of a quintet which last season won two games while losing ten, but from the appearance of Nels Norgren's squad last night in practice at Bartlett gymnasium against the Y. M. C. A. college we would guess Chicago will give an excellent account of itself by Jan. 10 when the Maroons open the conference season at Bloomington, Ind.

Fish, Ashley Are Letter Men.

Capt. Marshall Fish and Harry Ashley a junior from Frankfort, Ind., are the only letter men from last year, but Norgren has two other veterans as a nucleus for the quintet. Chicago, however, like Northwestern, needs a center, and on the development of such a player largely depends the team's success.

Fish needs no introduction. He led the team last year in scoring, making many of his baskets from far out. He is slated to play guard, although last year he moved to center when it became necessary, and it can be presumed he will fill in again if the newcomers do not make good. Ashley probably will be Fish's running mate at guard. He lacks an inch of measuring six feet, while the captain is an inch taller than this mark.

Yates Handles Ball Well.

Paul Stephenson, from Elkhart, Ind., a junior, and Sidney Yates, another forward, from Lake View High school, may team up at the front positions. Stephenson is handicapped by size, since he weighs only 148 pounds, but he is a fast, clever ball handler, able to match Yates' abilities. Yates made an excellent start last year for the Maroons, but a fracture of a wrist relegated him to the bench.

Joe Temple and Ken Fraider are candidates for guard. Each has had a year's experience. Temple has been a member of Stagg's back field for two seasons. He played prep basketball at Oak Park, while Fraider matriculated from Lindblom.

Keith Parsons, an 18 year old youngster from Davenport, Ia., is Norgren's first choice at center, although Art Cahill has been used as often in scrimmage. Parsons is 6 feet 4 inches tall. This height is exactly what Norgren wants, and notwithstanding Parsons' inexperience—he didn't play basketball in high school—Norgren hopes to develop him.

Cahill Reports from Baseball.

Cahill is a junior, but was unable to report last year. He just returned from the baseball trip to Japan, as did Capt. Fish, and neither will be eligible to play in the opening practice game a week from Saturday night against Cornell college at Bartlett gym. The members of the baseball team were not registered in the university the fall quarter.

Marshall Dzuibaniuk, a forward, former star at Englewood High, and Bernard Wien, a guard, just released from his duties at end on the football squad, are other promising sophomores.

Man to Man Defense.

Coach Norgren expects to use a man to man defense. His system of defense, as last night's drills indicated, will call for fast breaks whenever possible and a block and pivot to get players free against a set defense. The schedule follows:

PRACTICE GAMES.
Dec. 13—Cornell college at Chicago.
Dec. 17—Bradley Tech at Chicago.
Dec. 20—Brigham Young at Chicago.
Jan. 5—Ohio Wesleyan at Chicago.
Jan. 6—Marquette at Milwaukee.

BIG TEN GAMES.
Jan. 10—Indiana at Bloomington.
Jan. 17—Minnesota at Chicago.
Jan. 24—Michigan at Chicago.
Jan. 31—Minnesota at Minneapolis.
Feb. 7—Northwestern at Evanston.
Feb. 14—Northwestern at Chicago.
Feb. 16—Ohio State at Columbus.
Feb. 21—Illinois at Champaign.
Feb. 28—Indiana at Chicago.
March 2—Illinois at Chicago.
March 7—Ohio State at Chicago.
March 9—Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Purdue, Wisconsin and Iowa do not play Chicago this season according to the Big Ten's rotating schedule.

Lee Brissman Elected Augustana Grid Captain

clash of master psychologists, Rockne and Jones. If Rockne has had the jump on Jones at any time in their annual meetings since 1926, it has been in his use of psychology to fire his own team and lull the Trojans.

This year the Southern California players smile at Rockne's predictions that they will win by several touchdowns.

"We remember what Rockne said about our strength before, then slapped us down," an assistant coach said.

Just a Gag to Duffield.

"Our boys know too much about that gag," said Marshall Duffield, the Trojans' quarter back, who uses some psychology of his own as acting captain in most of the big games. "We read how Rockne picked Carnegie Tech to win by three touchdowns, and then picked Northwestern, and then picked Army."

Coach Jones spent part of the afternoon in a campaign against overconfidence, demonstrating to his men the disastrous effects of making mistakes against the Irish.

"If you are not more alive than you were that time," he told an erring Trojan, "Schwartz or Brill will be through you and through the secondary for a touchdown."

Practice Kicking Extra Point.

One indication of the thoroughness with which the Trojans are girding themselves for their big game of the year is the way the three Trojan kickers are going back to fundamentals.

Duffield, Baker, and Shaver have been practicing booting for hours. Duffield drop kicks, while Baker and Shaver are place kickers. John Baker is the 180 pound running guard who tries for nearly all of the points after touchdown. Baker's record this year is better than that of any Trojan goal kicker in the last five seasons, but he has been only 33 per cent successful. The team's uncertainty in the art of the kick for extra point was evidenced when the Trojans lost to Washington State, 7 to 6.

TURF STARS TAKE WINTERQUARTERS AT HERTZ FARM

One champion, and another which shares in the year's turf titles were in the string of thoroughbred horses which race for John Hertz and which went into winter quarters at his Leona farm near Cary yesterday.

Risque, the best 2 year old filly of the year was the champion in the lot. Valenciennes, ranked by many handicappers as the best 3 year old filly of the season as a result of her victory in the Thanksgiving Day handicap at Bowie, was the other top-notcher in the shipment.

The horses came from Maryland where they raced through the fall season. They were in charge of Trainer Bill Knapp. They will not race again until late spring or early summer.

Duffield Likes to Go Places, But Will Irish O. K. Passport?

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Marshall Duffield, quarter back of the University of Southern California football team, who goes out of the lineup with his team mate, Full Back Musick, late in each half to make way for a speedier pair, is one of the most unusual college athletes in America.

Duffield will be graduated at the age of 20 years next June. He may be the prize scholar of his class.

Duffy is a smiling, slightly pudgy, yellow haired youth 5 feet 9 inches and weighing 172 pounds. He says football has always been fun to him, not to be taken seriously. The serious thing in his life has always been a desire to travel, and since matriculating at Southern California and joining the football squad he has partly realized his ambition by trips to Chicago, Seattle, Berkeley, Palo Alto, and Pullman, Wash.

Wants to See Europe.

His football ability has served as a free ticket to several distant cities every season. Recently Duffy got the idea he would like to travel even farther. He wants to see Europe.

So he applied himself harder than ever to his studies and last Saturday he took the first examination for a Rhodes scholarship at Oxford university. Other Rhodes scholarship applicants from this section will take their examinations next Saturday while Duffield, still ambitious to go places, will be trying to travel around Notre Dame's tackles and ends.

Duffield was graduated from Santa Monica, Cal., High school when he was 16 years old. He won twelve high school athletic letters, three each in football, basketball, track and baseball.

Suffers Broken Leg.

Duffield played half back at high school and never called a signal until he came to Coach Howard Jones' notice at Southern California. He played quarter back on the Trojan freshman team and suffered a broken leg in practice. The next year he reported for varsity football practice and has used his speed, shifty hips, deft change of pace and stuttering leg drive so well that Coach Jones now terms Duffield one of the best quarter backs he ever coached.

Despite his athletic activity, Duffield has held his college scholarship record up to a grade only a little under a straight A average.

If he goes to Oxford as a Rhodes scholar, he may become the first American ever to win his blue in an Oxford-Cambridge rugby series. Duffield is said to be the perfect type of rugby player. Being only 20, he is still young enough to adapt his American football training to rugby. He already runs much as rugby players do, and his short, accurately thrown lateral passes are typical rugby tosses.

they want to lay the foundation for a trade. Freddy Lindstrom is the man they'll let go if another National league club will give something equally valuable in return. The Cubs would take Lindstrom on a cash basis but the Giants will not consider money.

William Veeck, the Cub president, during the day engaged in several lobby conferences with President Weil and Manager Howley of Cincinnati. The supposition is that they were talking about Pitcher Red Lucas. The Cubs will take him if money is the only consideration. They might, if pressed, include Cliff Heathcote or Danny Taylor, outfielders.

Hornsby, the Cub manager, is about the most colorful person in attendance at the convention. All the minor leaguers want to talk to him about hitting and about his two bum legs. He doesn't talk about his hitting ability. Nobody can explain that, whether it is Hornsby's hitting or the hitting of some other fellow. But the Cub pilot told them today, as they met him one at a time, that he had no doubt about his ability to play second base regularly next season.

Draft Breach Widens.

A wide open split between the major leagues and the five nondraft minors developed today, leaving the two groups so far apart that there seemed to be no immediate prospect of a solution of their differences over the draft question.

A state of virtual warfare seemed to exist tonight as a result of definite indications that the majors will refuse to reconsider their decision to discontinue as from Dec. 1, all business relations with the nondraft International, American association, Pacific Coast, Western, and Three Eye leagues until they accept the draft.

Word of the major's viewpoint came in the form of replies from President John A. Heydler of the National league and President Ernest Barnard of the American league to the nondraft minors' offer to reopen draft negotiations provided the majors withdrew their action in cutting off dealings with the affected circuits. These replies, in effect, declared that there was no chance of the majors reversing their action.

Thomas J. Hickey was reelected president of the American association for one year at the league's annual meeting. The schedule was discussed, but no action was taken on it.

C. A. A. EXECUTIVE GROUP REJECTS MERGER, REPORT

The executive committee of the Chicago Athletic association last night held a secret session on the proposed merger with the Chicago Yacht club. The result, as far as could be ascertained, was a unanimous negative vote.

Thomas H. Heneage, secretary of the club, did not attend, owing to illness in his family. None of the officials at the club would give out any information. President Charles B. Spaulding was said to be out of town.

The question of merging with the yacht club has been under discussion since the first of the year. Under the plan proposed the C. A. A. would dispose of its Michigan avenue property and occupy the new clubhouse of the Chicago Yacht club now under construction at the foot of Monroe street.

WILD RIDING AND SPILLS UPSET BIKE STANDINGS

New York, Dec. 4.—[Special.]—The wildest riding and the most serious spills of the week tonight upset the standing of the 49th international, six day bicycle race in Madison Square Garden and broke a five way tie for the leadership.

When heads were counted during a brief intermission in the frenzied pedaling at midnight, 12 teams were surviving of the original field of 15, eleven of them original combinations and one a reconstructed pair, Roger Denef and Adolf Charlier, the Belgian team, were leading the field, although deadlocked with Franco Georgetti and Paul Brocardo, Italians, in mileage. Denef and Charlier had 155 points against 66 for the Italian pair.

The midnight standings, 75th hour:

GOOSE HUNTERS AT MILLER CITY IDLE ON SUNDAYS

BY BOB BECKER.

Although the state of Illinois permits Sunday hunting there is one group of land owners in the southern part of the state which has turned this law upside down and nary a gun is fired on their property any Sunday after the goose season arrives. We encountered this situation last month when we were bagging a few geese and ducks not far from the little town of Miller City, Ill.

Miller City is in the heart of the southern Illinois goose hunting territory where big honkers come in from broad sandbars to feed in wheat fields. Since geese have been concentrating there in large numbers, a marked increase in hunters has taken place.

Goose hunters who plan on spending any time in a sand bar blind above Cairo, Ill., should take along something to pull over their guns, especially if autoloading shotguns are used. The trouble down there is caused by sand being blown across open bars by a high wind. This fine white sand will sift into parts of a gun and clog its action. Then, after one get up, starts to shoot, very likely only one shot will come from the gun instead of the several desired.

Fred Peet, Chicago sportsman, had this experience a few days ago. His gun, peppered with sand, handled just one shell and then quit. He got a goose with that one shot but could have dropped more if the sand menace had not stopped the show.

To protect working parts of an autoloading shotgun, which is practically the standard weapon in the goose country, we take some old garment and make a long, narrow pocket-like covering. It is aproximately 5 or 6 inches wide and about 26 inches long. Have an opening only at one end. When we get into a blind we pull this cover over the muzzle. It slides down over the working parts of the gun and keeps out all sand. Inasmuch as it fits loosely, one can pull it off in a hurry.

MILD REACTION CARRIES CHICAGO STOCKS LOWER

Auburn Auto Moves Up Against Trend.

BY THOMAS BURLONG.

A mild reaction swept over the Chicago stock list yesterday, carrying prices off a fraction or more in most instances. Sales volume showed considerable expansion, largely because of dealing for tax purposes in one or two stocks.

Net losses chalked up were in no instance severe, while one or two issues were able to move contrary to the market's general trend. In the latter class Auburn was outstanding. The issue darted ahead some four points on the announcement of the declaration of the regular cash and stock dividends on the common shares. On later realizing it receded to finish with a net advance of 2½ points.

Borg-Warner Activity.

Other motor shares followed the general current and fell back grudgingly. Prospects of further adverse dividend action by Borg-Warner directors, who are scheduled to meet tomorrow, reacted unfavorably on the company's stock, which sold down to 18. Gossip in La Salle street has it that the board will declare a dividend of 25 cents. Last quarter the directors voted a payment of 75 cents which was a reduction of 25 cents from the disbursements made in the two preceding quarters.

Interest centered in Cities Service and Middle West among the utility issues. The former was under pressure and lost a point to 18⅞. Elsewhere the recessions were negligible.

A plan whereby employés who purchased company stock last year under the profit sharing plan will be reimbursed for any losses which they have incurred was announced yesterday by the Gardner-Denver company. The firm announced it would repurchase $180,000 worth of stock from employés. This stock will be bought at $58 a share, the average price at which employés made their commitments. At present the stock is selling around $30.

Directors Pass Dividend.

The dividend on Leath & Co. common stock, which has been inactive in the market for some time, has been passed by the directors. The regular payment on the preferred has been authorized, however.

The merger of the Houdaille-Hershey corporation and the Muskegon Motor Specialities company has been declared completed by the depository committee. More than 170,000 shares of the Muskegon stock has been deposited, while only 150,000 shares were needed to make the deal operative. Remaining stockholders have until Dec. 15 to turn in their holdings.

STEEL MAKERS HOIST PRICES; SEE TURN IN TIDE

Halt Steady Decline in Last Year.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The big steel companies yesterday manifested their belief that the tide of business depression has turned. They marked up the price of the principal finished steel products by $1.00 a ton for first quarter of 1931 delivery and thereby ended the almost continuous price decline of the last year.

While there had been much rumor of an advance in steel prices, the action came sooner than had been expected, although the steel producers several weeks ago warned customers that present prices could not be guaranteed beyond this year. Now the uncertainty over steel prices, which have led consumers to withhold buying and restricted both steel production and steel company profits, is ended and the price advance is expected to bring out latent buying.

May Bolster Confidence.

It was the comment in Wall and La Salle streets yesterday that the movement for higher prices in the basic steel industry is likely to bolster confidence in the general business prospects for next year. The steel makers took similar action toward the end of the depression periods in 1922 and 1927 and those moves proved successful in aiding the subsequent recoveries.

The move to advance steel prices was launched by two subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation. The Carnegie Steel company, in the east, and the Illinois Steel company, in the west, announced prices of $1.65 and $1.75 per hundred pounds, respectively, on plates, shapes and bars. Then the Bethlehem Steel corporation made the same increase, while Inland Steel and other steel companies are expected to follow suit today. But even with the present increase, steel prices will still be about $5.00 a ton under last January.

Recession in Output.

Simultaneously with the price advance, the mid-week trade reviews announced a further recession in steel output as the result of the approaching holiday and inventory taking period. The Iron Age estimated the country's production at 39 per cent of capacity, compared with 41 per cent a week ago, and "Steel" estimated current operations at a scant 40 per cent, compared with 43-45 per cent last week.

"Relatively little forward buying has thus far developed in finished steel," Iron Age says, "although increasing interest is being shown in first quarter contracts, notably by the automobile industry. Motor car output, owing to suspensions for inventory purposes by many plants in the latter half of December, will probably dip to a new low for the year, but with improvement expected in the new year the steel mills are counting on a fair volume of automobile steel orders for January shipment.

"Railroad buying, although showing signs of revival, continues to lag far behind the volume of a year ago. Total pig iron output in November was 1,867,107 tons, compared with 2,164,763 tons in October, and the daily average was 62,237 tons, compared with 69,831 tons, a decline of 10.9 per cent. Low prices of pig iron have brought out further purchases for the first quarter, with recent activity greatest in the Chicago district."

Reynolds Sees Recovery Soon.

The same forces that brought about recovery from the 1921 depression have been at work recently and presage improvement from now on, although their force has not yet been recognized, according to Arthur Reynolds, chairman of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company.

"Almost every merchant and manufacturer with whom I talk reports considerable economies and increased efficiency in his business," he said. "That means that fair profits will be secured in the future even if the volume of business is smaller. But these men also report improvement in buying and in some instances they have expanded operations markedly in order to get goods to meet their demands.

"We can remember how rapidly business recovered from the 1921 depression and neither conditions in this country nor in the world are now as bad as in 1921. I do not say the impending recovery will be as rapid but there should be improvement in the near future and probably an upturn next fall. The present feeling of pessimism is neither justified by current conditions nor by future prospects. Even a moderate pick-up in trade and industry would do much to relieve the most serious phase of unemployment."

STOREHOUSE FOR GOLD NOW SEEN IN WORLD BANK

(Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.)

BASLE, Switzerland, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—There is a new development in the gold situation which opens the door for and promises to lead eventually to the Bank for International Settlements becoming a storehouse for much of the world's gold, obviating the necessity for shipping bullion by accomplishing such transfers merely through its bookkeeping.

The world bank for the first time is now the holder of gold, it is understood. It has received fairly large quantities of gold from certain central banks, including the Bank of Spain and the Bank of Lithuania. More is known to be on the way from these and other central banks.

The recent gold shipments from the Bank of Spain to London, which aroused considerable speculation, are understood really to have been consigned to the world bank, which is merely utilizing the Bank of England's vaults to store the gold safely.

Donald Sees Marked Change in Outlook on Business

The last three weeks have revealed a marked change in business and "the mental paralysis" of industry and business executives is giving way to analysis and research, Dr. W. J. Donald, managing director of the American Management association, said yesterday.

"Companies today have realized it is necessary to look into their methods, which was not in evidence during the depression of 1921-'22," Dr. Donald said in addressing the convention of the National Glass Distributors' association at Pittsburgh. "Before we are favored with prosperity it will be necessary for industries and executives to recognize that conditions change rapidly. Markets, production and sales methods, and the consumers' attitude change and must be understood.

"American business today needs a good dose of determination. The executive needs pepping up. This thing called confidence is not sufficient. Resourcefulness must be a part of determination."

Domestic corporate bond and foreign corporate bond interest totaling $163,055,393 will be paid in December. Standard Statistics company says. Maturities, redemptions and calls for these classes will total $110,360,173 for the month.

Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific railroad, said that the road already has started work on rebuilding 3,000 freight cars, involving an outlay of about $4,500,000. "In the ordinary course of business," he said, "work would not have been started on this project at this time, but by beginning on the work now we have given employment to a considerable number of men and have obtained materials for the work at a low cost. He said that the road will report November gross revenues of only about $1,000,000 below the $7,895,406 shown in November last year.

With sales running ahead of last year and attendance 25 per cent above the previous showing, considerable interest is being attracted to the New York automobile salon at the Commodore hotel.

Upon his return from a trip through the east, where he observed business conditions and sentiment in the larger centers, E. J. Bush, vice president in charge of sales of the Diamond T Motor Car company, Chicago, notes "many indications that the public is more confident of the future and that the nation has started on the upgrade of complete business recovery."

More than two million dollars will be spent during 1931 to advertise Lehn and Fink products, according to Edward Plaut, president of the company. Supplementing the statement, Mr. Plaut said that Lehn & Fink has enjoyed a year more successful than might have been expected under existing conditions. Dividend requirements for the first nine months have been covered and sales volume has held up favorably. The advertising appropriation for 1931 is approximately 5 per cent greater than in 1930.

Increases in both the number of employés and the amount of wages paid by eighteen chain store companies for the first nine months this year, compared with the like period of 1929, are shown in a compilation by Merrill, Lynch & Co. Wages paid by the companies for the first nine months this year totaled $37,117,330, an increase of $3,052,592 over the total for the corresponding period last year. The number of employés increased 7,002 in the first quarter, 7,326 in the second quarter, and 4,706 in the third quarter.

The W. T. Grant Co. reported November sales of $6,677,369, an increase of 2.5 per cent over $6,510,666 in November last year. Sales for the first 11 months this year totaled $59,253,586, an increase of 9.9 per cent over $53,912,458 for the corresponding period of 1929.

The current cycle of the building curve gives evidence of having about reached bottom, but the movement is likely for some time to be sidewise, with results not substantially exceeding the corresponding months of this year before the middle of 1931, Standard Statistics company says. The prospects are that operations will reach new peak levels before the close of 1934.

E. L. Callahan, general commercial manager of the Central Public Service corporation, reported that customers had purchased 6 per cent more merchandise and appliances in the first ten months of 1930 than in the corresponding period of 1929.

J. B. Ford, vice president of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, said domestic demand for coal, because of the cold weather, has resulted in an increase in the coal movement.

Dividend disbursements of $137,826,554 by twenty of the largest banks and trust companies in New York during the year ended on Sept. 24 were the largest on record and more than 25 per cent above the previous year's total, according to an article in the current issue of the American Banker.

Increased employment and production schedules were announced yesterday by two Detroit automobile manufacturers. The Hudson Motor Car company announced that the production schedule had been increased to more than 2,000 cars a week, the heaviest schedule since last June. New models were introduced a week ago. The Lincoln Motor company announced that 800 employés had returned to work within the last month and that the number is being increased at the rate of 100 a week. The pay roll now numbers 2,290.

"Travel over our lines to California and the southwest during the past week shows an increase over last year," Passenger Traffic Manager, W. J. Black, of the Santa Fé system said yesterday.

A 100 per cent newspaper advertising program for 1931 was adopted last night at the national distributors' convention in Chicago of the Norge Corp., makers of electric refrigerators. The company is a division of the Borg-Warner corporation.

The New York Central railroad, which recently was inquiring for fifty locomotives, to cost approximately $5,000,000, and 5,000 freight cars, is in the market for more than 125,000 tons of rails, it was reported yesterday. The Chicago Great Western was inquiring for 5,000 tons and the Kansas City Southern for 8,000 tons.

Owen D. Young Declares for "Holiday of Parliaments"

New York, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Owen D. Young, international banker, whose flair for finance helped put Europe back on its feet after the war, declared at a dinner in his honor tonight for a "holiday of parliaments." That, he said, would be a better solution of the conflict everywhere in the world between politics and economics than the suggested holiday of armaments.

"Our economics are necessarily international because of our interdependence upon each other," he said. "Our politics, on the other hand, are national, increasingly so in every country. The first is forcing itself through frontiers toward an integrated world; the other is building up man made barriers around a much larger number of political units than existed before the war.

Violent Forces.

"The forces are violent and imposing. Some better way must be found of accommodating each to the other, or they will destroy each other. In some European countries the question is being seriously discussed of providing economic parliaments in addition to political ones in order that men especially qualified for the handling of these difficult economic problems may deal with them.

"What the solution may be, I do not know, but I am certain that one must be found. It has even been suggested that if a holiday of armaments is good, a holiday of parliaments would be better. Here again it is the uncertainty which political action threatens which paralyzes economic efforts in this world recovery.

Deuces Wild.

"Instability, whether it be of revolutions in some countries or uncertainty through parliaments or from disintegration in others, is one of the largest, if not, indeed, the largest, factor in the present world crisis.

"Even economics may be willing to play a hand with deuces wild, but it has not yet learned how to play when half the pack may be declared wild at any moment."

LARGE RECEIPTS OF FRESH EGGS SMASH PRICES

Abnormally heavy receipts of fresh eggs in Chicago yesterday smashed prices far down in both the cash and future delivery markets.

Fresh eggs for immediate sale and delivery crashed down 5 to 7 cents per dozen, wholesale.

RAILS NOTIFY OF INABILITY TO USE NEW RATES SOON

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Railroads in the western and eastern rate zones today notified the interstate commerce commission they would be unable to put into effect before April 1, 1931, revised rates recently ordered in these zones.

New York, Dec. 3.—Scalping operations by professionals constituted nine-tenths of what activity there was to today's stock market. The turnover was about the smallest of the year for a full five-hour session, barely topping 1,200,000 shares.

Price movements were largely of a fractional character. The general tendency was toward lower levels and the cumulative result was to leave the list as a whole anywhere from a fraction to 3 points below Tuesday's finals.

News bearing on the market situation was of a mixed character, including announcement of a firmer stand

COURT APPROVES MERGER SALE OF 5 RISK CONCERNS

A contract for the purchase of control of the Inter-Southern Life Insurance company of Louisville, Ky., by the Keystone Holding company of Hammond, a transaction expected to involve approximately $6,000,000, was approved by Federal Judge John J. Gore at Nashville, Tenn., yesterday.

Approval of the purchase by the federal court was necessitated by the collapse last month of Caldwell & Co., investment bankers of Nashville, and the appointment of a receiver. This concern, the failure of which brought about the closing or suspension of payments of 54 southern banks, was the original owner of 2,000,000 shares of the Inter-Southern stock.

The Bank of Tennessee, which had bought a large amount of the stock from Caldwell & Co., and the National Bank of Kentucky, which had held some of the stock as collateral for loans to Caldwell & Co., also are in receivership.

The Inter-Southern Life Insurance company controls the Missouri State Life Insurance company, which has contracted for and partly paid for control of the Southwestern Life Insurance company of Dallas, Tex.; the Southeastern Life Insurance company of Greenville, S. C., and the Home Life Insurance company of Little Rock, Ark.

The total number of shares outstanding in the companies is 3,093,666 and the new owners expect to acquire about 85 per cent of the total issue. The combined assets of the companies to be taken over are $215,000,000; the cash income annually is $62,000,000; they write new insurance of $500,000,000 a year, and the insurance in force is $1,860,000,000, according to the purchasers.

4,000 Union Shoe Workers Agree to 12½% Wage Cut

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Four thousand union shoe workers employed in eight St. Louis shoe factories have agreed to accept a wage reduction of 12½ per cent as a compromise to a demand by manufacturers for a 20 per cent decrease in an effort to stimulate business, provide more employment and meet competition, it was announced today by union officials. The union offer has been taken under advisement by the St. Louis shoe manufacturers' association, members of which are reported divided on the question of acceptance.

HEAR COMBINE NEAR OF R-K-O AND PATHE; SHARES MOVE HIGHER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 3.—A sharp rise in securities of the Pathé Exchange, Inc., and of the Radio-Keith-Orpheum corporation today accompanied reports in the financial district that negotiations for a consolidation of the companies were nearing completion.

The two amusement companies, which have had a close relationship for several years, have virtually agreed on terms, it was said. Details were unavailable, but it was indicated an official announcement was imminent.

Reports of the merger have been heard several times for a year or more. Credence in the reports was strengthened by the fact that Pathé had entered into a contract with Radio-Keith-Orpheum for exhibition of its productions, including features, short subjects and newsreels, in R.-K.-O. houses.

Pathé's prestige has been on the upgrade as a result of the success of some of its feature productions in the last year or so and its absorption by Radio-Keith-Orpheum would enhance the latter's production as one of the leading units of the moving picture industry. Pathé has long been known for its newsreels. It was reorganized in 1927 and went into production of feature pictures as well.

Pathé Exchange reported a loss for the twenty-eight weeks ended last July 12, but it was reported third quarter results would show a profit. A still better showing is expected in the fourth quarter. Its capital structure consists of $5,339,999 7 per cent debentures, due in 1937; $804,300 8 per cent cumulative preferred stock; 251,853 class A shares, and 950,927 no par common shares.

AMERICAN G. & E. TO PAY EXTRA 20% STOCK DIVIDEND ON COMMON

New York, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Directors of the American Gas and Electric company today declared an extra dividend of 20 per cent in common stock on the common, in addition to the regular semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent in common and the regular quarterly cash payment of 25 cents.

American Snuff company directors declared an extra dividend of 25 cents in addition to the regular quarterly disbursement of 75 cents on the common.

Directors of the Lehigh Valley railroad declared the regular quarterly dividends of 87½ cents on the common and $1.25 on the preferred. E. E. Loomis, president, said that while the company's earnings probably would not meet the dividend requirement for the current year, the board was satisfied that conditions warranted maintaining the regular rate, making up whatever was needed out of surplus.

Directors of the Phelps Dodge corporation today placed the stock on a $3 annual basis, compared with $3 previously paid, by declaring a quarterly dividend of 50 cents.

by mills on steel prices, the prospect of a higher income tax rate, a large treasury deficit and some further dividend reductions of note. Call money held at 2 per cent. Both bull and bear parties managed to find grounds for comfort in the dullness of trading, the one as an indication of the end of important liquidation and the other as an absence of desire on the part of any one to buy stocks on any extended scale.

Discount Steel Price Advance.

The advance in steel prices had been pretty thoroughly discounted, however, and United States Steel, Bethlehem and the shares in other industries which might be influenced sold tries which might be influenced sold off in face of it. United States Steel wound up the day at 145⅝, a dip of 1⅝ points on the day. Bethlehem showed a loss almost as pronounced.

The pivotals all drifted lower. American Can sold off some 2 points, and General Electric, Westinghouse, Western Union, American Tobacco B, and Consolidated Gas finished 1@2½ points lower.

Rails Went Down in Bunch.

The rails went down in a bunch. In addition to their other troubles they had the burden of a carloadings report showing something more than seasonal decline on the face of the latest weekly statistics. Atlantic Coast Line dropped nearly 5 points, while Pere Marquette, trading for the first time in several days, took a plunge of 6 points to a new low of 97. Lesser declines occurred in Atchison, New York Central, Southern Railway, and Baltimore and Ohio.

Auburn Auto was one of the most active individual issues of the board, running up more than 3 points in the early trading on declaration of the regular cash and stock dividends and holding all but a fraction of its gain to the close. Lambert spurted more than 2 on the news that its dividend had not been cut, but lost most of the runup before the close.

Oils Mostly Lower.

Oils were mostly lower. The latest petroleum statistics were not particularly encouraging. Houston dropped more than a point, and most of the Standard issues found fractionally lower levels.

Copper shares slid off with the rest. Some of the specialties displayed moderate strength at times, but the close found a majority of them shorn of their temporary gains. United Carbon broke 3 points following the reduction of its dividends, but later recovered a fraction of its loss.

AN OVERBOUGHT CONDITION PUTS GRAINS LOWER

Wheat Declines 1@1¼c on Scattered Selling.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

American grain markets quickly pass from an oversold to an overbought condition. The development of the latter as the result of the recent sharp upturn disclosed a lack of aggressive buying yesterday, when profit taking made its appearance, and all grains declined moderately on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Bullish enthusiasm, so much in evidence Tuesday, was absent except for a brief period at the opening yesterday. With scattered selling wheat declined 1@1¼c from the early high and closed ¼@½c lower, with old December at 75⅞@76c; March, 78¼c; May, 80c; and July, 74¾c.

Hedgers with December wheat sold and had little difficulty in changing their holdings into May. Pit brokers claimed there were plenty of orders in evidence during the day to take the reverse end of the trades at 4c difference, the supposition being that the Stabilization corporation was making every effort to see that millers and others were not squeezed.

Winnipeg Wheat Easier.

Strength in foreign markets had some effect on Chicago wheat prices early. There was some buying of May here against sales at Winnipeg, but the latter flattened out toward the close on scattered selling and a lack of support and closed ⅝@¾c lower. The foreign demand for Manitobas was very disappointing, with sales of 250,000 to 300,000 bu in all positions. Shorts covered in Liverpool on the prospect of smaller Russian exports and futures closed ⅝@1d higher. It is said that Russia has ceased to offer for forward shipment and business now consists of disposing of grain in store and afloat.

Some damage occurred in southern Argentina as the result of the recent frost, but the extent cannot be determined. Harvesting in the north is progressing rapidly with good yields reported in Cordoba. Buenos Aires wheat futures closed ¼c higher.

Local Trade in Corn.

Corn market was erratic, being firm at the start on local buying, with the bulge taken advantage of by commission houses to secure profits. Later the locals sold, while commission houses took the buying side on the decline. Closing trades were 1@1¼c lower, with old December at 76⅜@76¾c; March, 79½@79¾c; May, 81¼@81¾c; and July, 82¼c. At the top May sold at 83c, or 5¼c over the low of last week. The reaction during the day was generally regarded as due to a weakened technical position. Country offerings to arrive were fair, with around 50,000 bu booked to arrive, while shipping sales aggregated 93,000 bu.

Around 1,000,000 bu cash oats delivered on December contracts will probably be moved out of Chicago, charters having been made for around 800,000 bu so far, partly to Toledo.

A few loads of Canadian rye were sold for export yesterday, according to a Winnipeg report to J. E. Bennett & Co. The grain will be used to complete cargoes recently sold abroad.

PIT NOTES

Wheat traders regarded the market as having advanced enough for the time being, although they do not look for more than a moderate break. The pit element is inclined to sell on bulges and on the breaks there appears to be buying of new May by the government, while its brokers sell old December on bulges. The spread between December and May is 4c, narrowing slightly during the day. Pit operations have more to do with influencing prices than any other factor.

Sentiment in the corn trade is mainly bullish. Traders said there had been an advance of 5c and the disposition is to take profits on all sharp bulges, while breaks run into supporting orders. Country holders of cash corn have resting orders to sell, which are met on sharp advances. Outside trade, while better than of late, is not large enough to hold advances when a profit taking movement by pit operators develops.

Indications are for a tight market in December oats, owing to local stocks being cut down 1,000,000 bu. The open interest in December is 5,118,000 bu, which was cut down nearly 1,000,000 bu on Tuesday and is 5,011,000 bu old style. Cash oats are in strong hands and the country movement is light.

CASH-GRAIN NEWS

Reports of a betterment in the demand for cash wheat in Liverpool was not reflected in an increased demand for Manitobas, with sales in all positions estimated at 250,000 to 300,000 bu. No. 3 Manitobas for December shipment sold in Liverpool at equal to 71¾c per bu, while the December delivery in Liverpool closed at 71¾c. No. 2 hard winter at the Gulf was quoted at 2¼c over Chicago December, making the price at the last 78½c.

Official receipts of grain at Chicago Wednesday: Wheat, 7 cars; corn, 121 cars; oats, 23 cars; rye, 1 car; barley, 8 cars.

COTTON RANGE LOWER

Cotton prices were on the down grade practically all day yesterday. Selling came from Liverpool and the market there was weak and 8 to 9 points lower, with spots sales of 3,000 bales. A little professional selling from New York, with buying support poor, carried prices down. At the close Chicago was off 14 to 21 points, with other markets 10 to 22 points lower. Spots in New York dropped 20 points to 10.40c, with New Orleans off 20 points to 10.10c, while Galveston finished at 10.20c and Houston at 10.10c. A little short covering developed toward the last. Reports from trade centers show no change, business being quiet. Prices follow:

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL remained almost at a standstill today, with important orders still lacking. The tone was heavy most of the day due to weakness in cottons and easiness in other markets, with the exception of lard. The closing was steady with prices one point higher to seven points lower. Sales were only 100 barrels of old December and 150 barrels of new May. Prices crude, 6.25@6.37½c; prime summer yellow spot old, 7.30c; December, 7.51c. New—December and January, 7.40c; March, 7.58c; May, 7.68c; July, 7.80c.

LARD NEGLECTED

Interest in lard was light yesterday. There was practically no trade in December and very little in the new delivery. December closed unchanged, while deferred futures were 12½c to 15c higher, the latter on May. It was said that most of the fat cuts and lard were being tanked. Liverpool lard was 6d higher and ribs were 1s 3d up on futures. Export clearances were heavy at 3,434,000 lbs and of bacon 1,000,000 lbs. Cash trade was quiet. Hog prices were higher and receipts in the west more than a week ago but less than last year. Prices follow:

EGGS SELL AT RECORD LOW
